Prizing Scottish Literature Stevie Marsden, 2021-02-15 This cultural history of the Saltire Society Literary Awards demonstrates the significance the awards have had within Scottish literary and cultural life It is one piece of the wider cultural award puzzle and illustrates how far from being parochial or niche lesser known awards whose histories may be yet untold play their own role in the circulation of cultural value through the consecration of literary value The study of the Society's Book of the Year and First Book of the Year Awards not only highlights how important connections between literary awards and national culture and identity are within prize culture and how literary awards and their founding institutions can be products of the socio political and cultural milieu in which they form but this study also illustrates how existing literary award scholarship has only begun to scratch the surface of the complexities of the phenomenon This book promotes a new approach to considering literary prizes proposing that the concept of the literary awards hierarchy can contribute to emerging and developing discourses pertaining to literary and indeed cultural prizes more broadly Scotland's Long

Reformation John McCallum, 2016-09-12 Exploring processes of religious change in early modern Scotland this collection of essays takes a long term perspective to consider developments in belief identity church structures and the social context of religion from the late fifteenth century through to the mid seventeenth century The volume examines the ways in which tensions and conflicts with origins in the mid sixteenth century continued to impact upon Scotland in the often violent seventeenth century while also tracing deep continuities in Scotland's religious cultural and intellectual life The essays the fruits of new research in the field are united by a concern to appreciate fully the ambiguity of religious identity in post Reformation Scotland and to move beyond simplistic notions of a straightforward and unidirectional transition from Catholicism to Protestantism Celebration Legal Essays, 1919 Exploring Scotland's Hidden Gems Pasquale De
