In November 1912 popular and pretty eighteen year old Ella Barham was raped murdered and dismembered in broad daylight near her home in rural Boone County Arkansas The brutal crime sent shockwaves through the Ozarks and made national news Authorities swiftly charged a neighbor Odus Davidson with the crime Locals were determined that he be convicted and threats of mob violence ran so high that he had to be jailed in another county to ensure his safety But was there enough evidence to prove his guilt If so had he acted alone What was his motive This examination of the murder of Ella Barham and the trial of her alleged killer opens a window into the meaning of community and due process during a time when politicians and judges sought to professionalize justice moving from local hangings to state run executions Davidson s appeal has been cited as a precedent in numerous court cases and his brief was reviewed by the lawyers in Georgia who prepared Leo Frank s appeal to the U S Supreme Court in 1915 Author Nita Gould is a descendant of the Barhams of Boone County and Ella Barham s cousin Her tenacious pursuit to create an authoritative account of the community the crime and the subsequent legal battle spanned nearly fifteen years Gould weaves local history and short biographies into her narrative and also draws on the official case files hundreds of newspaper accounts and personal Barham family documents Remembering Ella reveals the truth behind an event that has been a staple of local folklore for more than a century and still intrigues people from around the country

Literary License and the West's Romance with Afghanistan Zubeda Jalalzai, 2023-11-13 Literary License and the West's Romance with Afghanistan analyzes the role literature and poetic sensibility played in colonial British and American writings on Afghanistan from the nineteenth through the twenty first centuries It also considers the role that literature and literariness itself have played in western discourses framing Afghanistan The British Romantic Orientalists of the 19th century studied the region in depth and were drawn to what they perceived as an alien space where they could remake themselves in print and in life These writers and those who followed including scholars civil servants and wives or professional women were inspired by the region and sometimes crossed ethnic national and imaginative boundaries This book explores the connections that were forged in print through fantastic and familiar assumptions regarding the region and its people
