Scottish Mountaineering Club Journal J.G. Scott, Mountains Figured and Disfigured in the English-Speaking World Françoise Besson, 2020-06-01 The essays in this book written by poets novelists mountain climbers and academics from all over the world evoke the representation of mountains in the English speaking world as artists writers philosophers or mountain climbers have represented them from the sixteenth to the twenty first centuries From the Alps to the Pyrenees from Mount Fuji to Mount Shasta from the Himalayas to the Scottish Highlands from Ikere in Nigeria to Devil s Tower in the United States from Uluru in Australia to the most northern mountain of the Arctic the shapes of the world speak the same language and tell the world its own story This interdisciplinary book weaving together mountaineering literature philosophy painting cinema ecology history palaeontology geography geopolitics toponymy law religion and myth invites people to an innovative reading of mountains it reveals the close relationship existing between the shapes of the world and all forms of writing and at the same time it shows how the representations of the imagination may be instrumental in protecting the natural world The story told by the landscape inscribes a broken line in the shapes of the world tearing the landscape like a fragile page whenever historical and political events wars mining or deforestation leave scars in the landscape but writers and artists representations of mountains constitute a path to awareness as they are not only a painting of beauty but an image of our link to nature and a warning as well For centuries the image of the mountain has conveyed a symbolism telling the story of human thought and this book shows to what extent literature and art play an essential part in our awareness of nature

The New Mountaineer in Late Victorian Britain Alan McNee, 2017-04-18 This book is about the rise of a new ethos in British mountaineering during the late nineteenth century. It traces how British attitudes to mountains were transformed by developments both within the new sport of mountaineering and in the wider fin de siècle culture. The emergence of the new genre of mountaineering literature which helped to create a self-conscious community of climbers with broadly shared values coincided with a range of cultural and scientific trends that also influenced the direction of mountaineering. The author discusses the growing preoccupation with the physical basis of aesthetic sensations and with physicality and materiality in general, the new interest in the physiology of effort and fatigue and the characteristically Victorian drive to enumerate, codify and classify. Examining a wide range of texts from memoirs and climbing club journals to hotel visitors' books, he argues that the figure known as the New Mountaineer was seen to embody a distinctly modern approach to mountain climbing and mountain aesthetics.

His rich legacy includes the Encyclopaedia Britannica 9th edition section on Mineralogy, a fossil fish Heddleichthys, a mineral named after him, Mattheddleite, a summary of the Mineralogy of Scotland published posthumously, 55 scientific papers, 5700 specimens from his collection now housed in the National Museum of Scotland and the National Museums Collection Centre.

Caleb's List Kellan MacInnes, 2013-07-22 Shortlisted for the 2013 Saltire Society Scottish First Book award. Edinburgh 1898. On the cusp of the modern age, Caleb George Cash, mountaineer, geographer, antiquarian and teacher, stands at the rocky summit of Arthur's Seat. This is the story of Caleb and the Scottish mountains visible from Arthur's Seat. Somehow the Cashes or the Calebs didn't sound right, so I have called the hills on Caleb's list 'The Arthurs'. More than just a climbing book, this is the story of a survivor. Caleb's List is a beautifully descriptive account in which Kellan MacInnes intertwines his own personal struggle with HIV with the life story of Victorian mountaineer Caleb George Cash, beginning with the moment in 1898 when Caleb stood at the top of Arthur's Seat in Edinburgh and made a list of 20 mountains visible from its summit: from Ben Lomond in the west to Lochnagar in the east. MacInnes stumbled upon this long forgotten list of hills, now dubbed 'the Arthurs', and in this book he sets a new hillwalking challenge: climbing the Arthurs. Drawing on history, literature and personal experience, MacInnes offers both practical and emotional insight into climbing these hills in an account that is a must-read for hillwalkers, visitors to Edinburgh and lovers of Scotland all over the world. This is not just a book about hillwalking and history; at its heart, this is powerful landscape writing that explores the strong bond between a person and the hills they love. The author writes with skill and considerable authority.

ALEX RODDIE, author

Caleb Cash himself is an important if neglected figure in the history of the Scottish outdoors and the author's personal story gives the book an emotional power unusual in a guidebook. An excellent book. CHRIS TOWNSHEND author. A triumphant debut. THE GREAT OUTDOORS. A tribute to the healing power of the Scottish landscape and to survival against the odds. THE SCOTSMAN. Book Auction Records Frand Karslake, 1924. A priced and annotated annual record of London, New York and Edinburgh book auctions. The Hidden Fires Merryn Glover, 2023-03-02. Shortlisted for the Boardman Tasker Award for Mountain Literature. Elemental, fierce and full of wonder, the Cairngorm mountains are the high and rocky heart of Scotland. To know them would take forever; to love them demands a kind of courageous surrender. In The Hidden Fires Merryn Glover undertakes that challenge with Nan Shepherd as companion and guiding light. Following in the footsteps and contours of The Living Mountain, she explores the same landscapes and themes as Shepherd's seminal work. This is a journey separated by time but unified by space and purpose: a conversation between two women across nearly a century that explores how entering the life of a mountain can illuminate our own. An Australian who grew up in the Himalayas, her early experiences of the Scottish hills and weather left her cold. But gradually acclimatising and with an approach like Shepherd's that is more mountain wandering than mountaineering, she discovers the spark that sets the hills and herself on fire. Through Glover's deepening encounter, the wild majesty and iridescence of the Cairngorms is revealed in this beautiful evocation of landscape, place and identity. Shortlisted for The Great Outdoors Reader Awards 2024. Merryn Glover's The Hidden Fires is not just brave, it is remarkable. Willing's Press Guide and Advertisers' Directory and Handbook, 1899. Charting Scottish Tourism and the Early Scenic Film Samantha Wilson, 2020-04-29. What impact did walking tours and scenic films have on leisure activities? In what ways did working class travel disrupt normative narratives concerning nature and identity? The appreciation of nature and leisure travel have a complex and interrelated history in Scotland. In Charting Scottish Tourism, Wilson looks at how scenic filmmaking altered the construction of the tourist map and spatial identities at the turn of the 20th Century. Scenic film, the author argues, played a key role in the expansion of regional travel and national tourism during the period. In addition, scenic film provides the modern researcher with an unrivalled source of documentary evidence relating to the manner in which Scottish working and middle class communities explored and reclaimed the natural spaces around them. The author examines the central role of the Scottish scenic within leisure performances and the way in which these films promoted and challenged normative spatial narratives. These discursive shifts, she argues, had a wide-reaching impact on popular assumptions concerning space, nature and identity, both home and away. Charting Scottish Tourism provides a fascinating case study and numerous methodological insights for students and researchers interested in documentary film as well as the construction of identity and the natural world. Union List of Serials in Libraries of the United States and Canada Gabrielle Ernits.
