Young,2018-10-04 Beginning in the late 1950s representations of and narratives about sex proliferated on French and U S movie screens Cinema began to display forms of sexuality that were no longer strictly associated with domesticity nor limited to heterosexual relations between loving couples Women s bodies and queer sexualities became intensely charged figures of political contestation aspiration and allegory central to new ways of imagining sexuality and to new liberal understandings of individual freedom and social responsibility In Making Sex Public Damon R Young tracks the emergence of two conflicting narratives on the one hand a new model of sex as harmoniously integrated into civic existence on the other an idea of women s and queer sexuality as corrosive to the very fabric of social life Taking a transatlantic perspective from the late 50s through the present from And God Created Woman and Barbarella to Cruising and Shortbus Young argues that cinema participated in the transformation of the sexual subject while showing how women and queers were both agents and objects of that transformation

Sex, Society, and the Making of Pornography Jeffrey Escoffier,2021-02-12 Hardcore pornographic films combine fantasy and real sex to create a unique genre of entertainment Pornographic films are also historical documents that give us access to the sexual behavior and eroticism of different historical periods This book shows how the making of pornographic films is a social process that draws on the fantasies sexual scripts and sexual identities of performers writers directors and editors to produce sexually exciting videos and movies Yet hardcore pornographic films have also created a body of knowledge that constitutes in this digital age an enormous archive of sexual fantasies that serve as both a form of sex education and self help guides Sex Society and the Making of Pornography focuses on sex and what can be learned about it from pornographic representations

Thinking Sex with the Early Moderns Valerie Traub,2016 What do we know about early modern sex and how do we know it How when and why does sex become history In Thinking Sex with the Early Moderns Valerie Traub addresses these questions and in doing so reorients the ways in which historians and literary critics feminists and queer theorists approach sexuality and its history Her answers offer interdisciplinary strategies for confronting the difficulties of making sexual knowledge Based on the premise that producing sexual knowledge is difficult because sex itself is often inscrutable Thinking Sex with the Early Moderns leverages the notions of opacity and impasse to explore barriers to knowledge about sex in the past Traub argues that the obstacles in making sexual history can illuminate the difficulty of knowing sexuality She also argues that these impediments themselves can be adopted as a guiding principle of historiography sex may be good to think with not because it permits us access but because it doesn t

Yonfan's Bugis Street

Kenneth Chan, 2015-10-01 Bugis Street was famous or notorious for being a haunt of transgender prostitution in the early decades of postcolonial Singapore. Since then the site has been a source of touristic obsession and local cultural anxiety. In his 1995 film Bugis Street director Yonfan brings the short lane back to vivid cinematic life. By focusing on the film's representations of queer sexualities and transgender experience, this book contends that the underappreciated Bugis Street is a significant instance of queer transnational cinema. The film's playful yet nuanced articulations of queer embodiment, spatiality, and temporality provide an unexpected intervention in the public discourses on LGBT politics, activism, and cultures in Singapore today. This book's arrival at a much more complicated and contradictory picture of the discursive Bugis Street through the examination of Yonfan's film and a range of other cultural and literary texts adds a new critical dimension to the ongoing historical, geographical, sociological, ethnographic, and artistic analyses of this controversial space.
