National Trust Handbook 2004 For Members And Visitors:

The Old Rectory Anthony Jennings, 2009-10-28 Pevsner described the pairing of church and parsonage as a feature of the English village unparalleled on the Continent John Betjeman saw the design of rectories and vicarages as highly influential on our architecture Forsaken by the Church but coveted by the private buyer this is the story of these quintessentially English houses with their combination of fine architecture charm and character large gardens and often splendidly rural locations The Old Rectory examines their history their evolution through the centuries their many and varied styles of architecture and their place in our heritage It also explores the contribution made to our culture by the clerical families who once occupied these houses and the famous people and eccentrics who have been associated with them Finally it considers their current role and what the future might hold

Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff, Staff Bowker, Ed, 2004

How to Read a Country House Jeremy Musson, 2005 Why was heraldry so important to the families for whom houses were built How does the layout of a house reveal the values of the people who lived in it By reading the architectural features of a house even simple items such as windows doors chimneys and staircases we can learn so much about the past Interiors as well as exteriors have a story to tell with floor layouts and contents of rooms revealing much about the people who built and lived in them We can also read the iconography of a house its symbols and images spanning subjects such as classical mythology religion and British history Heraldry too is an essential tool for understanding much of the details found in country houses from coats of arms to crests or fireplace decorations and ceiling bosses Through all this we gain a glimpse into the social world of the families who lived there and discover that the stories of many country houses are inextricably linked by marriage royalty or political or military service Richly illustrated with stunning photographs from the unique archive of Country Life magazine this book is a joy for all those who want to learn more about our heritage art and architecture and the essential characteristics of a classic country house

Architecture and Elite Culture in the United Provinces, England and Ireland, 1500-1700 Hanneke Ronnes, 2025-10-01 This study aims to elucidate concepts of castle in the Netherlands England and Ireland in both past and present times The first part of the book examines current respectively academic national and personal appropriations of castle the second part moves into the past juxtaposing elite culture and the spatial organisation of 16th and 17th century domestic architecture

Travel Resources Stephen Walker, 2009-08-28 Written for the traveler who needs information beyond what is provided in a general guidebook Travel Resources An Annotated Guide introduces the reader to comprehensive and specialized travel literature and resources In this book author Stephen Walker offers practical and accessible direction for anyone seeking detailed and valuable information on travel while also instructing readers in ways to find information that may not be included in this guide Organized by topic each topic begins with information that is useful to new travelers so that anyone can begin with any topic without any previous knowledge of it However the book also goes further so as to provide information useful to the seasoned traveler The wide variety of topics related to travel provide many new and possibly overlooked opportunities even for veteran travelers and the works included have been selected because of the depth with which each treats its subject matter in order to ensure that each resource is of the quality that today's traveler demands

Travel and Tourism Hilary Blackman, 2005 This full colour student book gives candidates a further five units to complete the Double Award It is exactly matched to the specifications of OCR

Networks of Design Jonathan Glynne, Fiona Hackney, Minton, Viv, 2010-06 Networks of Design maps a new methodological territory in design studies conceived as a field of interdisciplinary inquiry and practice informed by a range of responses to actor network theory It brings together a rich body of current work by researchers in the social sciences technology material culture cultural geography information technology and systems design and design theory and history This collection will be invaluable to students and researchers in many areas of design studies and to design practitioners receptive to new and challenging notions of what constitutes the design process Over ninety essays are thematically organised to address five aspects of the expanded notions of mediation agency and collaboration posited by network theory Ideas Things Technology Texts and People The collection also includes an important new essay on rethinking the concept of design by Bruno Latour one of the most influential figures in the philosophy and sociology of science and technology and a pioneer of actor network theory and essays deriving from forum discussions involving designers and designer makers responsive to actor network theory Rather than an anthology of previously published essays Networks of Design presents work in progress on design theory and its applications It is the outcome of a live and vigorous debate on the possibilities and actualities offered by actor network led conceptualisations of the relationships and processes constituting design All the essays many collaborative derive from papers presented at the international conference of the Design History Society held at University College Falmouth UK in the Autumn of 2008

A Pathfinder's Story W. W. Robinson, 2007-11-12 When he died in 1946 Flight Lieutenant Jack Mossop left behind a widow and child a chest full of medals and a diary He was 25 years old The diary gave tantalizing glimpses of his career sixty years on his son has uncovered the truth It is the story of an ordinary Durham lad called upon to perform extraordinary deeds Serving initially as a Wireless Operator in 49 Squadron he progressed to 76 Squadron under the legendary Leonard Cheshire and finished as a Deputy Master Bomber with the elite Pathfinder Group in 35 Squadron To complete even one tour of duty was against the odds To complete a second and then to volunteer for a third was nigh on incredible Small wonder that one of his crewmates called him The bravest man I ever knew It is all the more tragic that he died a civilians death on board a BOAC Lancastrian after the war in suspicious circumstances which attracted the attention of the Prime Minister himself Jack saw most of the great actions of Bomber Command from the 1 000 bomber raids of 1942 to the Battles of the Ruhr and Berlin in 1943 and the daylight operations of Normandy before and after D Day His story stands as a microcosm of the entire bomber campaign Bill Robinsons account is a fascinating and stirring account of courage in war a tribute not only to one mans courage but also to the courage of the nameless thousands whose stories will now never be told Motor Neurone Disease Stuart Neilson, Frank Clifford Rose, 2003 This essential guide is packed full of information about Motor Neurone Disease MND and how to deal with it The book provides up to date information on a range of topics from diagnosis and treatment to adapting to life with MND including mobility feelings relationships and much more The authors address the physical and emotional upheaval for the person with MND and for the whole family offering positive help and advice back cover
