National Security and the General Staff Otto Lauren Nelson, 1946 National Security Organization United States. Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government (1947-1949). Committee on the National Security Organization, 1949 National Security Israel Tal, 2000-04-30 A comprehensive account of Israel's doctrine of national security this study examines to what degree security theories have proven valid and suggests an updated security doctrine for the next century Beginning with the establishment of the state of Israel in 1948 Israeli defense planners have faced a daunting task General Tal describes the history of the Israel Arab wars from the War of Independence onward and presents a security theory specific to Israel from which the fighting doctrines of the Israeli military derive He also categorizes the levels of security various nations enjoy as a result of their differing geo political situations their power and the conflicts of interests that they face with their neighbors This volume clarifies topics in the area of national security the art of war principles of war and lessons learned from past conflicts Tal concludes that previous security theory proved valid because it was based upon a decision to allocate the great portion of available resources both intellectual and material to secure national defense However this theory is no longer valid due to political changes in the Middle East and the development of modern military technologies He asserts a new approach that rests upon mutual strategic deterrence throughout the region

The Strategic Defence and Security Review and the National Security Strategy Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Defence Committee, 2011-08-03 This report notes mounting concern that UK Armed Forces may be falling below the minimum utility required to deliver the commitments that they are currently being tasked to carry out let alone the tasks they are likely to face between 2015 to 2020 when it is acknowledged that there will be capability gaps The Committee is concerned that UK Armed Forces will be continually operating at the maximum level envisaged by the Defence Planning Assumptions The Committee is not convinced that this aspiration can be achieved by co operation with our allies given the challenges of aligning political with operational needs The SDSR identified seven military tasks and the Defence Planning Assumptions that underpin them However the Review fails to show how decisions such as those on the Aircraft Carriers and Nimrod MRA4 will lead to the Armed Forces being able to undertake those military tasks The Committee has serious concerns over the realisation of what is called Future Force 2020 the Government's intended shape of the Armed Forces from 2020 particularly as the provision of the necessary resources is only a Government aspiration not Government policy The MoD must reform and ensure substantially improved transparency and control over its finance and budgetary practices When committing to undertake new operations the Government should state from the outset where that operation fits in the Defence Planning Assumptions and which of the military tasks it is meeting The Committee is concerned that the Government seems to have postponed the sensible aspiration of bringing commitments and resources into line in that it has taken on the new commitment of Libya while reducing the resources available to MoD
