Nationality, Color, and Economic Opportunity in the City of Buffalo Niles Carpenter, 1927 Nationality, Color, and Economic Opportunity in the City of Buffalo Niles Carpenter, 1927 Beyond the Typewriter Sharon Hartman Strom, 1992 By World War I managers wanted young women with some high school education for new light manufacturing jobs in the office Women could be paid significantly less than men with equivalent educations and the marriage bar the practice of not hiring or retaining married women ensured that most of them would leave the workplace before the issue of higher salaries arose Encouraged by free training gained in high schools and by working conditions better than those available in factories young working class women sought out office jobs Facing sexual discrimination in most of the professions and higher level office jobs middle class women often found themselves falling into clerical positions Sharon Hartman Strom details office working conditions and practices drawing upon archival and anecdotal data She analyzes women office workers ambitions and explores how the influences of scientific management personnel management and secondary vocational education affected office workplaces and hierarchies Strom illustrates how businessmen manipulated concepts of scientific management to maintain male dominance and professional status and to confine women to supportive positions She finds that women s responses to the reorganized workplace were varied although they were able to advance professionally in only limited ways they used their jobs as a means of pursuing friendships education and independence

Poverty, Ethnicity and the American City, 1840-1925 David Ward, 1989-02-24 David Ward examines the geographical relationship between migrants and the inner city and the creation of slums and ghettos University of Buffalo Studies, 1926 For Jobs and Freedom Robert H. Zieger, 2014-04-23 Whether as slaves or freedmen the political and social status of African Americans has always been tied to their ability to participate in the nation s economy Freedom in the post Civil War years did not guarantee equality and African Americans from emancipation to the present have faced the seemingly insurmountable task of erasing pervasive public belief in the inferiority of their race For Jobs and Freedom Race and Labor in America since 1865 describes the African American struggle to obtain equal rights in the workplace and organized labor s response to their demands Award winning historian Robert H Zieger asserts that the promise of jobs was similar to the forty acres and a mule restitution pledged to African Americans during the Reconstruction era The inconsistencies between rhetoric and action encouraged workers both men and women to organize themselves into unions to fight against unfair hiring practices and workplace discrimination Though the path proved difficult unions gradually obtained rights for African American workers with prominent leaders at their fore In 1925 A Philip Randolph formed the first black union the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters to fight against injustices committed by the Pullman Company an employer of significant numbers of African Americans The Congress of Industrial Organizations CIO emerged in 1935 and its population quickly swelled to include over 500 000 African American workers The most dramatic success came in the 1960s with the establishment of affirmative action programs passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Title VII enforcement measures prohibiting employer discrimination based on race Though racism and unfair hiring practices still exist today motivated individuals and leaders of the labor movement in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries laid the groundwork for better conditions and greater opportunities Unions with some sixteen million members currently in their ranks continue to protect workers against discrimination in the expanding economy For Jobs and Freedom is the first authoritative treatment in more than two decades of the race and labor movement and Zieger s comprehensive and authoritative book will be standard reading on the subject for years to come The Publishers Weekly ,1918 Municipal Index ,1928 Boots of Leather, Slippers of Gold Elizabeth Lapovsky Kennedy, Madeline D. Davis, 2014-05-09 Boots of Leather Slippers of Gold traces the evolution of the lesbian community in Buffalo New York from the mid 1930s up to the early 1960s Drawing upon the oral histories of 45 women it is the first comprehensive history of a working class lesbian community These poignant and complex stories show how black and white working class lesbians although living under oppressive circumstances nevertheless became powerful agents of historical change Kennedy and Davis provide a unique insider s perspective on butch fem culture and argue that the roots of gay and lesbian liberation are found specifically in the determined resistance of working class lesbians This 20th anniversary edition republishes the book for a new generation of readers It includes a new preface in which the authors reflect on where the last 20 years have taken them For anyone interested in lesbian life during the 1940s and 1950s or in the dynamics of butch fem culture this study remains the one that set the highest standard for all oral histories and ethnographies of lesbian communities anywhere Desegregation in Boston and Buffalo Steven J. L. Taylor, 1998-09-03 Desegregation in Boston and Buffalo examines how the citizens and the political leadership of the two cities dealt with controversial court orders to end the segregation of public schools Although the cities shared many similarities they witnessed very dissimilar outcomes Taylor covers key factors such as inter ethnic relations and the struggle of various ethnic groups for political empowerment and focuses on the political development of African American communities in urban environments and the role of Black elected leadership in helping to diffuse potentially volatile situations
