Commerce and Coalitions Ronald Rogowski,2020-10-06 Why do countries differ so greatly in their patterns of political cleavage and coalition Extending some basic findings of economic theories of international trade Ronald Rogowski suggests a startling new answer Testing his hypothesis chiefly against the evidence of the last century and a half but extending it also to the ancient world and the sixteenth century he finds a surprising degree of confirmation and some intriguing exceptions

Industrial Structure and Policy in Less Developed Countries Colin Kirkpatrick,N. Lee,Fred Nixon,2012-08-06 First published in 1984 this textbook analyses at both aggregate and micro economic levels the contemporary industrial conditions in Third World countries and relates this to the process of economic growth and structural transformation Drawing upon both industrial and development economics the authors offer a comprehensive and integrated treatment of the different levels of industrial analysis in less developed countries alongside a wealth of comparative data on industrial structure business concentration and behaviour and industrial policies in a cross section of countries in Africa Asia the Far East and Latin America

Suburban Warriors Lisa McGirr,2015-06-02 In the early 1960s American conservatives seemed to have fallen on hard times McCarthyism was on the run and movements on the political left were grabbing headlines The media lampooned John Birchers s accusations that Dwight Eisenhower was a communist puppet Mainstream America snickered at warnings by California Congressman James B Utt that barefooted Africans were training in Georgia to help the United Nations take over the country Yet in Utt s home district of Orange County thousands of middle class suburbanites proceeded to organize a powerful conservative movement that would land Ronald Reagan in the White House and redefine the spectrum of acceptable politics into the next century Suburban Warriors introduces us to these people women hosting coffee klatches for Barry Goldwater in their tract houses members of anticommunist reading groups organizing against sex education pro life Democrats gradually drawn into conservative circles and new arrivals finding work in defense companies and a sense of community in Orange County s mushrooming evangelical churches We learn what motivated them and how they interpreted their political activity Lisa McGirr shows that their movement was not one of marginal people suffering from status anxiety but rather one formed by successful entrepreneurial types with modern lifestyles and bright futures She describes how these suburban pioneers created new political and social philosophies anchored in a fusion of Christian fundamentalism xenophobic nationalism and western libertarianism While introducing these rank and file activists McGirr chronicles Orange County's rise from nut country to political vanguard Through this history she traces the evolution of the New Right from a virulent anticommunist anti establishment fringe to a broad national movement nourished by evangelical Protestantism Her original contribution to the social history of politics broadens and often upsets our understanding of the deep and tenacious roots of popular conservatism in America
