Europe as a Multiple Modernity Srdjan Sremac, Martina Topić, 2014-03-17 Europe as a Multiple Modernity Multiplicity of Religious Identities and Belonging challenges the predominant modernity theory arguing that Europe can be considered as one multiple modernity In that the book presents a collection of essays showing the plurality of discourses and variety in human self reflexion on notions of religious and belonging in everyday lives Emphasis is placed on religious actors and individuals in Europe and the multiplicity of their senses of religious identification and belonging Europe Michael Zils, 2015-07-24 No detailed description available for Europe Christian Pilgrimage in Modern Western Europe Mary Lee Nolan, Sidney Nolan, 2018-06-15 Christian Pilgrimage in Modern Western Europe is a commanding exploration of the importance of religious shrines in modern Roman Catholicism By analyzing more than 6 000 active shrines and contemporary patterns of pilgrimage to them the authors establish the cultural significance of a religious tradition that today touches the lives of millions of people Roman Catholic pilgrimage sites in Western Europe range from obscure chapels and holy wells that draw visitors only from their immediate vicinity to the world famous often thronged shrines at Rome Lourdes and Fatima These shrines generate at least 70 million religiously motivated visits each year with total annual visitation exceeding 100 million Substantial numbers of pilgrims at major shrines come from the Americas and other areas outside Western Europe Mary Lee Nolan and Sidney Nolan describe and interpret the dimensions of Western European pilgrimage in time and space a cultural geographic approach that reveals regional variations in types of shrines and pilgrimages in the sixteen countries of Western Europe They examine numerous legends and historical accounts associated with cult images and shrines showing how these reflect ideas about humanity divinity and environment The Nolans demonstrate that the dynamic fluctuations in Christian pilgrimage activities over the past 2 000 years reflect socioeconomic changes and technological transformations as well as shifting intellectual orientations Increases and decreases in the number of shrines established coincide with major turning points in European history for pilgrimage no less than wars revolutions and the advent of urban industrial society is an integral part of that history Pilgrimage traditions have been influenced by and have influenced science literature philosophy and the arts Christian Pilgrimage in Modern Western Europe is based on ten years of research The Nolans collected information on 6 150 shrines from published material correspondence with bishops and shrine administrators and interviews They visited 852 Western European shrines in person Their book will be of interest to many general readers and of special value to historians cultural geographers students of comparative religion anthropologists social psychologists and shrine administrators

Translating Europe in Ælfric's Lives of Saints Luisa Ostacchini, 2024-06-26 Translating Europe in Ælfric's Lives of Saints is the first study of the representation of European peoples places and geographies in the Lives of Saints one of early medieval England's most famed works It examines the Lives of Saints as a unified collection whose various items work cumulatively and concurrently to provide audiences with teachings far beyond the scope of an individual homily or saint's life In doing so it demonstrates that Ælfric's European characters and settings served not merely as a convenient skeleton on which to frame his hagiographical narratives but rather lay at the heart of his didactic praxis and pedagogic aims Luisa Ostacchini systematically compares each of the 30 plus items that comprise Ælfric's Lives of Saints to their Latin sources and to one another to highlight previously unnoticed patterns and formulae within collection In so doing she demonstrates that Ælfric's interest in community was both inward and outward looking he sought on the one hand to situate England within the wider Christian world and on the other hand to promote the internal unity of the English kingdom and the reformed monastic establishment This book sheds new light on the ways that Ælfric wrote about the Christian world and England's place within it and further illuminates of the didactic praxis and ideology of one of the most influential and significant authors of the early medieval period Luisa Ostacchini is a college lecturer at St John's College Oxford where she teaches Old and Middle English literature

Africa in Europe: Antiquity into the age of global expansion Stefan Goodwin, 2009-01-01 Africa in Europe in two volumes is an interdisciplinary work about Europeans that demonstrates fluid boundaries and connections between them and Africans from antiquity until the present Written by a scholar with expertise that includes anthropology social history and international relations the subject matter of this fascinating work ranges from science to art and invites much new thinking about racism territoriality citizenship and frontiers in a world that is increasingly globalized

The Invention of Europe in French Literature and Film E. Ousselin, 2009-02-16 Ousselin sets out to show that Europe is essentially a literary fiction and that the ongoing movement towards European unity cannot be understood without reference to the literary works that helped bring it about

Female Monasticism in Early Modern Europe Cordula van Wyhe, 2008 This volume of twelve interdisciplinary essays addresses the multifaceted nature of female religious identity in early modern Europe By dismantling the boundaries between the academic disciplines of history art history musicology and literary studies it offers new cross cultural readings essential to a more comprehensive understanding of the complexity of female spirituality in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries Consisting of four sections each dealing with different parts of Europe and discussing issues of social and spiritual identity such as the formation of community and memory spiritual direction and secular patronage this compelling collection offers a significant addition to a thriving field of study

Learning and Culture in Carolingian Europe John J. Contreni, 2024-10-28 Nine of the ten essays in this collection appeared first between 1995 and 2005 Centered in the Carolingian age they explore how the seventh century

Visio Baronti was read in the ninth century and how social and cultural imperatives transformed the life of scholarship schools and learning in Carolingian Europe Several essays consider the significance of numerical and scientific studies in the Carolingian curriculum including the impact of Bede's scientific works in the schools and on the thought of John Scottus Eriugena Another reconstructs Eriugena's early career in light of his Glossae divinae historiae Carolingian biblical culture is the subject of two essays including a reading of Haimo of Auxerre's commentary on Ezechiel that highlights the unfinished and unpublished commentary's critique of Carolingian society A poem in the Anthologia Latina long ascribed to Octavian the Roman emperor is restored to the monastic culture of the ninth century Finally an article on the Laon Formulary originally published in French in 1973 is here translated and revised

Domestic Devotions in Medieval and Early Modern Europe

Salvador Ryan, 2020-05-28 Domestic devotion has become an increasingly important area of research in recent years with the publication of a number of significant studies on the early modern period in particular This Special Issue aims to build on these works and to expand their range both geographically and chronologically This collection focuses on lived religion and the devotional practices found in the domestic settings of late medieval and early modern Europe More particularly it investigates the degree to which the experience of personal or familial religious practice in the domestic realm intersected with the more public expression of faith in liturgical or communal settings Its broad geographical range spanning northern southern central and eastern Europe includes practices related to Christianity Judaism and Islam This Special Issue will be of interest to historians art historians medievalists early modernists historians of religion anthropologists and theologians as well as those interested in the history of material religious culture It also offers important insights into research areas such as gender studies histories of the emotions and histories of the senses
