Serving The Urban Poor:

Serving the Urban Poor David Fanshel, Stephen J. Finch, John F. Grundy, 1992-08-24 The urban poor suffer many problems beyond pressing financial concerns including those involving housing health and family relationships Social welfare agencies struggle to cope with the enormity of need presented by individuals and families The providers frequently lack a framework to guide their priorities and the delivery of services This volume based on the authors close and extensive collaboration with New York s Lower East Family Union affords a substantive insightful and effective approach not only to defining the services needed but also to the delivery thereof It also examines the cognitive and emotional states which the clients bring as they seek help Means are provided for establishing priority of needs assessing the value of preventive services and formulating family specific service responses Potential family dissolution and implicit child welfare concerns are viewed as especially critical and receives extensive constructive discussion Stressed poverty level families often approach helping agencies in a nearly exhausted condition The needs of such clients can only be answered and the last straw avoided if the agencies are structured to identify the most immediate needs and to supply the understanding supportive relationship and the requisite practical assistance This book with its extensive base of experience guides the process wisely It offers informed hope that the awful conditions of the urban poor can be ameliorated through better planned and effective service delivery and caring interventions Serving with the Urban Poor Tetsunao Yamamori, Bryant L. Myers, Kenneth L. Luscombe, 1998 Catholic Schools in the Public Interest Patricia A. Bauch, 2014-03-01 This book is a study of the contributions of Catholic K 12 schools in the United States to the public interest from the 1800 s to the present It presents seven strategies that have the possibility of leading Catholic schools in positive new directions Outsiders often misunderstand the mission purpose and inclusivity of Catholic schools This book brings a new focus on Catholic schools from the perspective of their service to this country through the education of Catholics and non Catholics In 16 chapters a variety of scholars examine these schools across three periods echoes of the past realities of the present and future directions The intention of the editor and authors of this volume is that Catholic schools and those interested in conducting Catholic school research will find guidance especially in examining newer types of partnerships flourishing in different types of Catholic schools in different regions of the country and types of schools from rural suburban to city and inner city schools By increasing the data we have such studies could help stem the tide of Catholic school demise In addition Catholic school leaders and parents who chose them or are thinking about choosing them will find here a balanced description of what constitutes a Catholic school and how they are different from public schools In understanding better the role and function of Catholic schools in serving the public interest new ideas innovations and improvements can help these schools survive and grow Readings for Social Work Practice , Urban Waste and Sanitation Services for Sustainable Development Bas van Vliet, Joost van Buuren, Shaaban Mgana, 2013-11-12 Urban sanitation and solid waste sectors are under significant pressure in East Africa due to the lack of competent institutional capacity and the growth of the region's urban population. This book presents and applies an original analytical approach to assess the existing socio-technical mixtures of waste and sanitation systems and to ensure wider access, increase flexibility and ecological sustainability. It shows how the problem is not the current diversity in waste and sanitation infrastructures and services and variety of types and scales of technology of formal and informal sector involvement and of management and ownership modes. The book focuses instead on the lack of an integrative approach to managing and upgrading of the various waste and sanitation configurations and services so as to ensure wider access, flexibility and sustainability for the low income populations who happen to be the main stakeholders. This approach, coined Modernized Mixtures, serves as a nexus throughout the book. The empirical core addresses the waste and sanitation challenges and debates at each scale from the micro level households to the macro level international support and is based on the results of a five year long interdisciplinary empirical research program. It assesses the socio-technical diversity in waste and sanitation and provides viable solutions to sanitation and waste management in East Africa. This book provides students, researchers and professionals in environmental technology, sociology, management and urban planning with an integrated analytical perspective on centralized and decentralized waste and sanitation configurations and tools for improvement in the technology, policy and management of sanitation and solid waste sectors.

Guidelines for Formulating Projects to Benefit the Urban Poor in the Developing Countries PADCO.,1976 Service-Learning and Social Justice Susan Benigni Cipolle,2010-03-15 Service Learning and Social Justice provides everything administrators and teachers need to build service learning programs that prepare students as engaged citizens committed to equity and justice. Cipolle describes practical strategies for classroom teachers along with the theoretical framework so readers can deftly move beyond the book to a meaningful program for their schools. Writing in a conversational style the author explains service learning's unlimited potential in terms of student empowerment and academic achievement and as a tool in developing a student's a lifetime commitment to service and social justice. This book's contribution to new knowledge and practice is three fold as it promotes a understanding of how individuals become committed to social justice b identification of how one's orientation to service learning and social justice changes as one develops a more critical consciousness and c practical strategies that teachers can use to support and guide students as they become more critically aware. Practitioners will improve their service learning programs and have a framework for preparing students for their experiences as well as ideas for reflection activities. Educators will gain a better understanding of the psychology and sociology of developing a commitment to service for social justice. Welfare, Work, and Poverty Qin Gao, 2017-03-29 Welfare Work and Poverty provides the first systematic and comprehensive evaluation of the impacts and effectiveness of China s primary social assistance program Minimum Livelihood Guarantee or Dibao since its inception in 1993 Dibao serves the dual function of providing a basic safety net for the poor and maintaining social and political stability Despite currently being the world s largest welfare program in terms of population coverage evidence on Dibao s performance has been lacking This book offers important new empirical evidence and draws policy lessons that are timely and useful for both China and beyond Specifically author Qin Gao addresses the following questions How effective has Dibao been in targeting the poor and alleviating poverty Have the Dibao recipients been dependent on welfare or able to move from welfare to work How has Dibao affected recipients consumption patterns and subjective well being Do they use the Dibao subsidy to meet survival needs such as food clothing and shelter or invest in human capital such as health and education Are they distressed by the stigma associated with receiving Dibao or do they become more optimistic about future and enjoy greater life satisfaction because of the Dibao support And finally what policy lessons can we learn from the existing evidence in order to strengthen and improve Dibao in the future Answers to these questions not only help us gain an in depth understanding of Dibao s performance but also add the Chinese case to the growing international literature on comparative welfare studies Welfare Work and Poverty is essential reading for political scientists economists sociologists public policy researchers and social workers interested in learning about and understanding contemporary China

Cities Transformed Mark R. Montgomery, Richard Stren, Barney Cohen, Holly E. Reed, 2013-10-31 Over the next 20 years most low income countries will for the first time become more urban than rural Understanding demographic trends in the cities of the developing world is critical to those countries their societies economies and environments The benefits from urbanization cannot be overlooked but the speed and sheer scale of this transformation presents many challenges In this uniquely thorough and authoritative volume 16 of the world's leading scholars on urban population and development have worked together to produce the most comprehensive and detailed analysis of the changes taking place in cities and their implications and impacts They focus on population dynamics social and economic differentiation fertility and reproductive health mortality and morbidity labor force and urban governance As many national governments decentralize and devolve their functions the nature of urban management and governance is undergoing fundamental transformation with programs in poverty alleviation health education and public services increasingly being deposited in the hands of untested municipal and regional governments Cities Transformed identifies a new class of policy maker emerging to take up the growing responsibilities Drawing from a wide variety of data sources many of them previously inaccessible this essential text will become the benchmark for all involved in city level research policy planning and investment decisions The National Research Council is a private non profit institution based in Washington DC providing services to the US government the public and the scientific and engineering communities The editors are members of the Council's Panel on Urban Population Dynamics

Poor's Cumulative Service, 1927 Transforming Innovations in Africa Jan-Bart Gewald, André Leliveld, Iva Peša, 2012-11-21 Africa abounds with examples of material and immaterial innovations that were envisaged developed and designed elsewhere yet came to be innovatively and sometimes unexpectedly transformed in Africa The authors in this volume explore how external innovations products technologies services institutions and processes have been appropriated in African societies in order to be acceptable and relevant to local conditions expectations and demands Written from different disciplinary perspectives the chapters demonstrate the depth and richness of innovation in Africa with in some cases surprising outcomes The case studies presented are on subjects as diverse as the wine industry trading stores land reforms washing powder M Pesa cassava weddings international borders guest houses urban water supply car technology shallow wells and railways and blacksmithing
