Pawnees and the Iowas developed a strategy of cartographic resistance to predations by both Euro American imperial powers and strong indigenous empires navigating the volatile and rapidly changing world of the Great Plains by brokering their spatial and territorial knowledge either to stronger indigenous nations or to much weaker and conquerable American and European powers How the West Was Drawn is a revisionist and interdisciplinary understanding of the global imperial contest for North America's Great Plains that illuminates in fine detail the strategies of survival of the Pawnees the Iowas and the Lakotas amid accommodation to predatory Euro American and Native empires

Love Spells and Lost Treasure Tabitha Stanmore, 2022-12-22 Magic is ubiquitous across the world and throughout history Yet if witchcraft is acknowledged as a persistent presence in the medieval and early modern eras practical magic by contrast performed to a useful end for payment and actually more common than malign spellcasting has been overlooked Exploring many hundred instances of daily magical usage and setting these alongside a range of imaginative and didactic literatures Tabitha Stanmore demonstrates the entrenched nature of service magic in premodern English society This she shows was a type of spellcraft for needs that nothing else could address one well established by the time of the infamous witch trials The book explores perceptions of magical practitioners by clients and neighbours and the way such magic was utilised by everyone from lowliest labourer to highest lord Stanmore reveals that even if technically illicit magic was for most people an accepted even welcome aspect of everyday life

Paradise Lost John Milton, 2003-02-27 An endless moral maze introducing literature's first Romantic Satan John Carey In his epic poem Paradise Lost Milton conjured up a vast awe inspiring cosmos ranging across huge tracts of space and time And yet in putting a charismatic Satan and naked Adam and Eve at the centre of this story he also created an intensely human tragedy on the Fall of Man Written when Milton was in his fifties blind bitter and briefly in danger of execution Paradise Lost's apparent ambivalence has led to intense debate about whether it manages to justify the ways of God to men or exposes the cruelty of authority Edited with an introduction and notes by JOHN LEONARD

Lost in Math Sabine Hossenfelder, 2018-06-12 In this provocative book New York Times a contrarian physicist argues that her field's modern obsession with beauty has given us wonderful math but bad science Whether pondering black holes or predicting discoveries at CERN physicists believe the best theories are beautiful natural and elegant and this standard separates popular theories from disposable ones This is why Sabine Hossenfelder argues we have not seen a major breakthrough in the foundations of physics for more than four decades The belief in beauty has become so dogmatic that it now conflicts with scientific objectivity observation has been unable to confirm mindboggling theories like supersymmetry or grand unification invented by physicists based on aesthetic criteria Worse these too good to not be true theories are actually untestable and they have left the field in a cul de sac To escape physicists must rethink their methods Only by embracing reality as it is can science discover the truth
