National Romanticism And Modern Architecture In Germany And The Scandinavian Countries:

National Romanticism and Modern Architecture in Germany and the Scandinavian Countries Barbara Miller Lane, 2000

This book provides a comprehensive examination of one of the most important modernist traditions. Offering a new interpretation of its origins, Barbara Miller Lane focuses on the movement called National Romanticism which flourished in Germany and Scandinavia from about 1890 to 1920. During this period, painters, interior designers, city planners, and architects created a new kind of domestic architecture and interior design as well as monumental architecture. Drawing upon local and regional folk traditions and encouraging a simple way of life, architects such as Eliel Saarinen, Hans Poelzig, and Martin Nyrop looked back to medieval and even prehistoric times for their models as they also tried to create a new architecture for the new millennium. Their buildings encouraged new kinds of social and political relationships and have had a profound influence in the architecture of Germany and Scandinavia.

Modern Architecture and the Mediterranean

Jean-Francois Lejeune, Michelangelo Sabatino, 2009-12-04. Bringing to light the debt twentieth-century modernist architects owe to the vernacular building traditions of the Mediterranean region, this book considers architectural practice and discourse from the 1920s to the 1980s. The essays here situate Mediterranean modernism in relation to concepts such as regionalism, nationalism, internationalism, critical regionalism, and postmodernism, an alternative history of the modern architecture and urbanism of a critical period in the twentieth century.

German Cities and Bourgeois Modernism, 1890-1924 Maiken Umbach, 2009-06-25. A study of the distinctive brand of modernism that emerged in late 19th-century Germany, illustrating through a series of analyses of key buildings and urban spaces how bourgeois modernism shaped the infrastructure of social and political life in the early twentieth century and transformed German cities.

Historical Dictionary of Romantic Art and Architecture Allison Lee Palmer, 2019-07-26. Romanticism is multifaceted, and a wide range of nostalgic, emotional, and exotic concerns were expressed in such styles and movements as the Gothic Revival, Classical Revival, Orientalism, and the Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood. Some movements were regional and subject-specific, such as the Hudson River School of landscape painting in the United States and the German Nazarene movement, which focused primarily on religious art in Rome. The movements range across Western Europe and include the United States. This dictionary will provide a fuller historical context for Romanticism and enable the reader to identify major trends and explore artists of the period. This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Romantic Art and Architecture contains a chronology, an introduction, and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 300 cross-referenced entries on major artists of the romantic era as well as entries on related art movements, styles, aesthetic philosophies, and philosophers. This book is an excellent resource for students, researchers, and anyone wanting to know more about Romantic art.

Handbook of Religious Culture in Nineteenth-Century Europe Anthony Steinhoff, Jeffrey Zalar, 2024-12-30. This handbook offers a guide to research on religious culture during Europe's long nineteenth century, 1800-1914. Grounded in the latest theoretical approaches and in line with trends that have produced a religious turn in the study of modern Europe the volume assesses the state of the field while making provocative recommendations for its enlargement Unique and ambitious in its thematic breadth it addresses the histories of all five of Europe's main religious traditions Eastern Orthodox Christianity Judaism Islam Protestantism and Roman Catholicism and brings these histories into comparative analysis This analysis extends to a wide range of subjects from popular belief and practice education and modern knowledge formation and the arts to the intersections between religion and urbanization civil society and politics and missions and imperialism It also evaluates recent developments in work on religion vis vis both gender and nationalism while calling attention to newer research that proposes secularism as a form of belief in its own right Presenting the scholarship of eighteen leaders in their respective fields the volume explains why religion as a topic of research has moved from the periphery to the center of modern European historiography

Weather Architecture Jonathan Hill, 2013-06-17 Weather Architecture further extends Jonathan Hill's investigation of authorship by recognising the creativity of the weather At a time when environmental awareness is of growing relevance the overriding aim is to understand a history of architecture as a history of weather and thus to consider the weather as an architectural author that affects design construction and use in a creative dialogue with other authors such as the architect and user Environmental discussions in architecture tend to focus on the practical or the poetic but here they are considered together Rather than investigate architecture's relations to the weather in isolation they are integrated into a wider discussion of cultural and social influences on architecture The analysis of weather's effects on the design and experience of specific buildings and gardens is interwoven with a historical survey of changing attitudes to the weather in the arts sciences and society leading to a critical re-evaluation of contemporary responses to climate change

The Cambridge History of European Romantic Literature Patrick Vincent, 2023-11-09 This wide-ranging new history of European Romantic Literature presents a pan-European phenomenon which transcended national borders and contributed to a new sense of European cultural identity across the continent Conceived in the same spirit as Madame de Staël's cultural and political agenda at a time when her generous idea of Europe is being challenged on all sides the volume pays close attention to the period's circulation of people ideas and texts It proposes to rethink the period comparatively focusing on various forms of cultural mediation and transfer and on productive tensions synchronicities and interactions within and across borders Organized chronologically its twenty chapters address over five hundred works proposing a coherent historical narrative without completely erasing individual nations' specificities By showcasing in particular the place of Britain within continental culture the volume hopes to reactivate critical examinations of Romanticism from a historicised European perspective

Nationalism and Architecture Darren Deane, Sarah Butler, 2016-12-05 Unlike regionalism in architecture which has been widely discussed in recent years nationalism in architecture has not been so well explored and understood However the most powerful collective representation of a nation is through its architecture and how that architecture engages the global arena by expressing defining and sometimes negating a sense of nation in order to participate in the international world Bringing together case studies from Europe North and South America the Middle East Africa Asia and Australia this book provides a truly global exploration of the relationship between architecture and nationalism via the themes of regionalism and representation various national building projects ethnic and trans national expression national identities and histories of nationalist architecture and the philosophies and sociological studies of nationalism It argues that nationalism needs to be trans national as a notion to be critically understood and the geographical scope of the proposed volume reflects the continuing relevance of the topic within current architectural scholarship as an overarching notion The interdisciplinary essays are coherently grouped together in three thematic sections Revisiting Nationalism Interpreting Nationalism and Questioning Nationalism These chapters offer vignettes of the protean appearances of nationalism across nations and offer a basis of developing wider knowledge and critically situated understanding of the question beyond a singular nation s limited bounds

Architecture, Death and Nationhood Hannah Malone, 2017-04-28 In the nineteenth century new cemeteries were built in many Italian cities that were unique in scale and grandeur and which became destinations on the Grand Tour From the Middle Ages the dead had been buried in churches and urban graveyards but in the 1740s a radical reform across Europe prohibited burial inside cities and led to the creation of suburban burial grounds Italy s nineteenth century cemeteries were distinctive as monumental or architectural structures rather than landscaped gardens They represented a new building type that emerged in response to momentous changes in Italian politics tied to the fight for independence and the creation of the nation state As the first survey of Italy s monumental cemeteries the book explores the relationship between architecture and politics or how architecture is formed by political forces As cities of the dead cemeteries mirrored the spaces of the living Against the backdrop of Italy s unification they conveyed the power of the new nation efforts to construct an Italian identity and conflicts between Church and state Monumental cemeteries helped to foster the narratives and mentalities that shaped Italy as a new nation

Dramaturgy and Architecture Cathy Turner, 2015-09-09 Dramaturgy and Architecture approaches modern and postmodern theatre s contribution to the way we think about the buildings and spaces we inhabit It discusses in detail ways in which theatre and performance have critiqued and intervened in everyday spaces modelled our dreams or fears and made proposals for the future
