Catastrophic Incentives Jeff Schlegelmilch, Ellen Carlin, 2023-10-03 Silver

Award Winner 2024 Nonfiction Book Awards Societies are vulnerable to any number of potential disasters earthquakes hurricanes infectious diseases terrorist attacks and many others Even though the dangers are often clear there is a persistent pattern of inadequate preparation and a failure to learn from experience Before disasters institutions pay insufficient attention to risk in the aftermath even when the lack of preparation led to a flawed response the focus shifts to patching holes instead of addressing the underlying problems Examining twenty years of disasters from 9 11 to COVID 19 Jeff Schlegelmilch and Ellen Carlin show how flawed incentive structures make the world more vulnerable when catastrophe strikes They explore how governments the private sector nonprofits and academia behave before during and after crises arguing that standard operational and business models have produced dysfunction Catastrophic Incentives reveals troubling patterns about what does and does not matter to the institutions that are responsible for dealing with disasters The short termism of electoral politics and corporate decision making the funding structure of nonprofits and the institutional dynamics shaping academic research have all contributed to a failure to build resilience Offering a comprehensive and incisive look at disaster governance Catastrophic Incentives provides timely recommendations for reimagining systems and institutions so that they are better equipped to manage twenty first century threats
