which native tree species may lack resistance At the same time climate change is extending the geographic range of both native and nonnative pest species Biotechnology has the potential to help mitigate threats to North American forests from insects and pathogens through the introduction of pest resistant traits to forest trees However challenges remain the genetic mechanisms that underlie trees resistance to pests are poorly understood the complexity of tree genomes makes incorporating genetic changes a slow and difficult task and there is a lack of information on the effects of releasing new genotypes into the environment Forest Health and Biotechnology examines the potential use of biotechnology for mitigating threats to forest tree health and identifies the ecological economic and social implications of deploying biotechnology in forests This report also develops a research agenda to address knowledge gaps about the application of the technology

Global Environmental Forest Policies Constance McDermott, Benjamin Cashore, Peter Kanowski, 2010 This book provides a uniquely detailed and systematic comparison of environmental forest policies and enforcement in twenty countries worldwide covering developed transition and developing economies The goal is to enhance global policy learning and promote well informed and precisely tuned policy solutions

World Forests, Society and Environment Matti Palo, J. Uusivuori, 2012-12-06 This book addresses current global and regional issues concerning the world s forests societies and the environment from an independent and non governmental point of view A main message is that cooperation on a global scale is not only commendable but essential if solutions to the problems facing the world s forests are to be found To achieve this modern science needs to find a clearer picture of relationships between forests human activity and the environment and of the consequences of environmental change for the ability of societies to survive Part I Editorial Perspectives is analyzing the ongoing globalization processes of forests societies and the environment Part II Society and Environment reviews worldwide trends with significance for the future of forests and forestry While the trends are influenced by forest sector issues that sector is influenced to a much larger extent by external factors such as demography urbanization or technological development Part III Importance of Forests looks at the value of the goods and services of forests tangible and intangible market and non market and concludes that failure to recognize their full value is one of the crucial impediments to sustainable development In Part IV Global Forum scientists take up global forestry themes deforestation trade and the environment climate change biodiversity with the aim of stimulating wider discussion Part V Regional Forum looks at major themes of particular relevance to Africa Asia Pacific Latin America North America and Europe such as farm and agroforestry corruption and concessions urban forestry and environmental conflicts Part VI introduces the special theme forest sectors in transition economies Teams of scientists from Russia and China focus on the implications of the transition from plan to market economy illuminating both the very different nature of the forest sector in the two countries and the different transition paths that they have adopted In the past millennium the entire world has been discovered In the past half century the contribution of forests to the economy worldwide has been perceived while only recently have their societal and environmental benefits been globally recognized Globalization is a demanding process requiring knowledge and information This book offers knowledge facts and information but also values from diverse human and cultural perspectives about world forests society and environment to help us towards equity in our use of the global forest to create a clearer vision on a unasylna Wildlife Refuges Robin Nazzaro,2009-03 The National Wildlife Refuge System which is administered by the Fish and Wildlife Service in the Dept of the Interior comprises 585 refuges on more than 96 million acres of land and water that preserve habitat for waterfowl and other migratory birds threatened and endangered species and other wildlife Refuges also provide wildlife related activities such as hunting and fishing to nearly 40 million visitors every year This report 1 describes changing factors that the refuge system experienced from FY 2002 through 2007 including funding and staffing changes and 2 examines how habitat management and visitor services changed during this period Illustrations
