Muslims in South Asia      Remembering Some Great Men Khursheed Kamal Aziz, 2002      Mapping Migration, Identity, and Space Tabea Linhard, Timothy H. Parsons, 2018-07-14 This interdisciplinary collection of essays focuses on the ways in which movements of people across natural political and cultural boundaries shape identities that are inexorably linked to the geographical space that individuals on the move cross inhabit and leave behind As conflicts over identities and space continue to erupt on a regular basis this book reads the relationship between migration identity and space from a fresh and innovative perspective      Nationalism, Education and Migrant Identities Sumita Mukherjee, 2009-12-16 This book examines the role western education and social standing played in the development of Indian nationalism in the early twentieth century It highlights the influences that education abroad had on a significant proportion of the Indian population A large number of Indian students including key figures such as Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi Mohammad Ali Jinnah and Jawaharlal Nehru took up prominent positions in government service industry or political movements after having spent their student years in Britain before the Second World War Having reaped the benefits of the British educational system they spearheaded movements in India that sought to gain independence from British rule The author analyses the long term impact of this short term migration on Britain South Asia and Empire and deals with issues of migrant identities and the ways in which travel shaped ideas about the Self and Home Through this study of the England Returned attention is drawn to contemporary concerns about the politicisation of foreign students and the antecedents of the growing South Asian student population in the USA and Europe today as well as of Britain's growing South Asian diaspora      Benazir, a Profile M. G. Chitkara, 1996 Political biography of Benazir Bhutto Prime Minister of Pakistan      The Partition of India C. H. Philips, Mary Doreen Wainwright, 2025-06-02 The partition of India in 1947 was an outstanding event in world history It formed a major turning point in the modern history of the sub continent and of the Commonwealth Originally published in 1970 after more than twenty years had passed this title brought together the evidence and put into perspective the course of events which had led to the transfer of power in India from Britain to two successor states rather than to one In 1937 the Muslims in India were thought to be politically weak and disorganized yet ten years later they were able to put forward a convincing claim for a separate state How did this come about The lack of any sense of urgency in making a constitutional settlement between the wars Congress miscalculations during the war and the political exploitation of Muslim nationalism all played a part but the interpretation of the events leading to partition tends to vary with the preconceptions and outlook of the various contributors to the debate at the time The enquiry which led to this volume began as a simple attempt to collect evidence from those still alive From this grew a regular series of meetings between participants and historians of the three countries culminating in a conference The material presented here discusses the more important aspects of the partition from the different viewpoints It is arranged in two sections first hand accounts by those who took part and an analysis by leading specialists In his Introduction Professor Philips points to the main historical problems which had emerged and suggests areas of study which would repay early investigation The time was not yet ripe for a wholly definitive account but this book suggests a framework within which this could be done and brought together raw material for future historians before the generation of eye witnesses passed away The resources of the School of Oriental and African Studies enabled an enterprise to be mounted which would have been beyond the capacity of any one individual This book is a re issue originally published in 1970 The language used and views portrayed are a reflection of its era and no offence is meant by the Publishers to any reader by this re publication     The Indian Review ,1977     Muslims against the Muslim League Ali Usman Qasmi,Megan Eaton Robb,2017-09-15 Discusses the dynamics of the Indian freedom movement during the 1940s from the perspective of those Muslim leaders and political parties who opposed the idea of a separate state for South Asian Muslims or whose primary engagement with Muslim League activities treated separatism as marginal to their political agenda Provided by publisher
