The Palace Museum, Peking Wango H. C. Weng, Boda Yang, 1982 Forbidden City Jian Li, Li He, Hou-mei Sung, Ma Shengnan, 2014 The Odyssey of China's Imperial Art Treasures Jeannette Shambaugh Elliot, David Shambaugh, 2015-08-03 Forbidden City, 2014 Chinese Spatial Strategies Jianfei Zhu, 2004 How do the Chinese design a space What are the similarities and differences between spaces designed for palaces and cities How were the extension of the Great Wall the reopening of the Grand Canal and the building of Beijing interrelated By closely examining the buildings of Imperial Beijing 1420 1911 this book seeks to answer these questions by exploring whether there is a generic approach to spatial disposition in the Chinese tradition Chinese Spatial Strategies considers spatial design on many levels and in different aspects including The geo political design of a map of Asia The layout of the city as a representation of imperial ideology The city as a social realm of interrelations between the central authority and local urban society The Forbidden City as an apparatus of power A comparison between European visual compositions and the aesthetic composition of Beijing Drawing upon recent work in social theory the author provides a spatial and political analysis of the Forbidden City and a realistic account of Imperial Beijing This book challenges the convention of formal description of Chinese cities and will appeal to all those with an interest in Chinese buildings and architecture Austere Luminosity of Chinese Classical Furniture Sarah Handler, 2023-12-22 Chinese classical furniture is esteemed throughout the world for its beauty functionalism and influence on contemporary design aesthetics Sarah Handler's stunningly illustrated volume traces Chinese hardwood furniture from its earliest origins in the Shang dynasty c 1500 to c 1050 B C to the present She offers a fascinating and poetic view of Chinese furniture as functional sculpture a fine art alongside the other Chinese arts of calligraphy architecture painting and literature Handler a widely respected scholar of Chinese furniture uses her knowledge of Chinese social political and economic history to provide a backdrop for understanding the many nuances of this art form Drawing on literary and visual evidence from excavated materials written texts paintings prints and engravings she discusses how people lived their notions of hierarchy and their perceptions of space Her descriptions of historical developments such as the shift from mats to chairs evoke the psychological and sociological ramifications The invention of a distinctive way to support and contain people and things within the household is one of China's singular contributions says Handler With more than three hundred exquisite illustrations many in color Handler's comprehensive study reveals the magical totality of Chinese classical furniture from its rich surfaces and shrewd proportions down to the austere soul of art that resides in the hardwood interiors Austere Luminosity recognizes Chinese classical furniture as one of China's premier arts unique in the furniture traditions of the world Iron and Steel in Ancient China Donald B. Wagner, 2021-12-06 This book is a study of the production and use of iron and steel in China up to the second century B C and simultaneously a methodological study of the reconciliation of archaeological and written sources in Chinese cultural history An introductory chapter describes and discusses the available

sources and their use gives a brief outline of early Chinese archaeology and history and develops certain important themes especially the interaction of North and South in early China Further chapters consider the invention of iron in a barbarian culture of southeast China its spread to the area of Chinese culture and the development of a large scale iron industry in the third century B C The technology of iron production in early China is considered in two chapters on the microstructures of wrought and cast iron artifacts Treasures of the Forbidden City : three centuries of Chinese Imperial art : exclusive American exhibition from the Palace Museum, Beijing ... ,1984 Emperor Qianlong's Hidden Treasures Nicole T. C. Chiang,2019-08-15 In this stunning reassessment Nicole T C Chiang argues that the famous Qianlong art collection is really the collection of the imperial household in the Qianlong reign The distinction is significant because it strips away the modern Eurocentric preconceptions that have led scholars to misconstrue the size of the collection the role of nationalism in its formation the distinction between art and artifact and the actual involvement of the emperor in assembling the collection No one interested in Chinese art will be able to ignore the ramifications of this important study Emperor Qianlong s Hidden Treasures Reconsidering the Collection of the Qing Imperial Household argues that the size of the collection was actually smaller than previously stated Moreover the idea that the collection put the whole of the empire on display and thereby promoted political unity does not square with the reality that most of the collection was hidden away Instead the collection was primarily for the emperor s gaze alone Chiang further explains that the collection was largely the product of work done by many specialists working at the Qianlong court noting that the emperor often assumed a more supervisory role Preliminary drawings patterns models and prototypes of the items made in the imperial workshops also formed an important part of the collection as they served to establish standardized models used to run the imperial household The collection was thus both broader and narrower than previously stated Chiang has identified many misguided assumptions about the Qing imperial collection In their place she proposes a new definition of an imperial collection that does not give primacy to art objects This bold revisionist thesis may be controversial but it is important and deserves to be read widely for this exact reason Dorothy Ko Barnard College Columbia University Chiang makes a new argument which will contribute to the literature on Qing imperial art She shows that a distinction should be made between the Qianlong emperor s activities in commissioning objects from the palace workshop and his activities in accumulating assessing and cataloguing objects that went into what she calls the imperial household collection This work will attract wide attention from scholars in art history Evelyn S Rawski University of Pittsburgh Transposed Memory: Visual Sites of National Recollection in 20th and 21st Century East Asia ,2024-02-06 Transposed Memory explores the visual culture of national recollection in modern and contemporary East Asia by emphasizing memories that are under the continuous process of construction reinforcement alteration resistance and contestation Expanding the discussion of memory into visual culture by exploring various visual sites of recollection and the diverse ways commemoration is represented in visual cultural and material forms this book produces cross cultural and interdisciplinary conversations on memory and site by bringing together international scholars from the fields of art history history architecture and theater and dance examining intercultural relationships in East Asia through geopolitical conditions and visual culture With contributions of Rika Iezumi Hiro Ruo Jia Burglind Jungmann Hong Kal Stephen McDowall Alison J Miller Jessica Nakamura Eunyoung Park Travis Seifman and Linh D Vu Chinese

Adam Brookes,2023-02-14 The gripping and meticulously researched The Times London true story of the determined museum curators who saved the priceless treasures of China s Forbidden City in the years leading up to World War II and beyond Spring 1933 The silent courtyards and palaces of Peking s Forbidden City for centuries the home of Chinese emperors are tense with fear and expectation Japan s aircrafts drone overhead its troops and tanks are only hours away All out war between China and Japan is coming and the curators of the Forbidden City are faced with an impossible question how will they protect the vast imperial art collections in their charge A difficult and monumental decision is made to safeguard the treasures they will need to be evacuated The magnificent collections contain a million pieces of art objects that carry China's deepest and most ancient memories. Among them are irreplaceable artefacts: exquisite paintings on silk, rare Ming porcelain and the extraordinary Stone Drums of Qin which are adorned with 2,500-year-old inscriptions of cultural significance. For sixteen years, under the quiet leadership of museum director Ma Heng, the curators would go on to transport the imperial art collections thousands of miles across China, up rivers of white water, across mountain ranges and through burning cities. In their search for safety, the curators and their fragile, invaluable cargo journeyed through the maelstrom of violence, chaos and starvation that was China's Second World War. Told for the first time in English and playing out across a vast historical canvas, this compelling story of art, war and adventure. Simon Sebag Montefiore, author of The Romanovs 1613-1918, follows the small group of men and women who, when faced with war's onslaught on civilization, chose to resist.
