Saint and Hero Robert Boenig,1991 This work is a historicist analysis of the Old English poem Andreas from the Vercelli Book

Satan Unbound Peter Dendle,2001-01-01 The ubiquitous conflict between saint and demon constitutes an ontological study of the boundaries between the holy and the unholy rather than a psychological study of temptation and sin

BOOK JACKET Christianizing Homer Dennis R. MacDonald,1994-04-21 This study focuses on the apocryphal Acts of Andrew c 200 CE which purports to tell the story of the travels miracles and martyrdom of the apostle Andrew Traditional scholarship has looked for the background of such writings in Jewish and Christian scriptures MacDonald however breaks with that model and looks to classic literature for the sources of this story Specifically he argues that the Acts represent an attempt to transform Greco Roman myth into Christian narrative categories by telling the story of Andrew in terms of Homeric epic in particular the Odyssey MacDonald presents a point by point comparison of the two works finding the resemblances so strong numerous and tendentious that they virtually compel the reader to consider the Acts a transformative rewriting of the epic This discovery not only sheds valuable light on the uses of Homer in the early church but also significantly contributes to our understanding of the reception of Homer in the empire as a whole

Representations of the Natural World in Old English Poetry Jennifer Neville,1999-03-13 This book examines descriptions of the natural world in a wide range of Old English poetry Jennifer Neville describes the physical conditions experienced by the Anglo Saxons the animals diseases landscapes seas and weather with which they had to contend She argues that poetic descriptions of these elements were not a reflection of the existing physical conditions but a literary device used by Anglo Saxons to define more important issues the state of humanity the creation and maintenance of society the power of individuals the relationship between God and creation and the power of writing to control information Examples of contemporary literature in other languages are used to provide a sense of Old English poetry s particular approach which incorporated elements from Germanic Christian and classical sources The result of this approach was not a consistent cosmological scheme but a rather contradictory vision which reveals much about how the Anglo Saxons viewed themselves

Anglo-Saxon Spirituality Robert Boenig,2000 A collection of writings dating from the mid 400s to the Norman Conquest introduce readers to the pagan Christian spirituality of Medieval Europe Original

Diversity Paul Maurice Clogan,1995 Volume 22 Diversity is a special volume in the new series of Medievalia et Humanistica focusing on the diversity of voices in medieval and early Renaissance literature Six original articles explore themes of law art and piety at all levels of medieval and early Renaissance society from the common audience of Malory s England to the aristocratic courts of Germany In addition to these six original articles this volume offers two review articles and 28 review notices on 49 recent publications Scholars teachers and students will find this volume presents a sampling of the variety and abundance of medieval and early Renaissance studies today

This book brings together various cultural moments, literary genres and relevant comparanda to recover that version from the legal and social world to the world of popular spiritual ritual and belief. The story of the fall of the angels in Anglo-Saxon England is the story of a successfully transmitted exegetical teaching turned rich literary tradition. It can be traced through a range of genres: sermons, saints' lives, royal charters, riddles, devotional and biblical poetry, each one offering a distinct window into the ancient myth's place within the Anglo-Saxon literary and cultural imagination.
