

SALMON WARS

A dramatic scene of a salmon fishing boat on fire with other boats nearby. The background shows a large fishing vessel with multiple masts and rigging, engulfed in flames and thick smoke. In the foreground, a smaller white boat with blue trim is visible. The water is dark and choppy. The overall atmosphere is one of conflict and destruction.

The Aquaculture Controversy in Canada Nathan Young, Ralph Matthews, 2011-01-01 Aquaculture the farming of aquatic organisms is one of the most promising but controversial new industries in Canada Advocates believe aquaculture has the potential to solve environmental and food supply problems resulting from global overfishing Critics argue that industrial scale aquaculture poses unacceptable threats to human health local communities and the environment The Aquaculture Controversy in Canada is not about methods of aquaculture but rather an exploration of why the practice has been the centre of intense debate in Canada Nathan Young and Ralph Matthews present the controversy as rooted in local and global conflicts over risk development rights and knowledge The inability of the industry to address the controversy's complexities they argue has only fuelled the debate Comprehensive and balanced this book will appeal to anyone who wants a deeper understanding of one of the most contentious public policy and environmental issues facing the world today

Social Transformation in Rural Canada John Parkins, Maureen Reed, 2012-10-20 The rapidly changing nature of life in Canadian rural communities is more than a simple response to economic conditions People living in rural places are part of a new social agenda characterized by transformation of livelihoods landscapes and social relations inviting us to reconsider the meanings of community culture and citizenship This volume presents the work of researchers from a variety of fields who explore social transformation in rural settlements across the country The essays collectively generate a nuanced portrait of how local forms of action adaptation identity and imagination are reshaping aboriginal and non aboriginal communities of rural Canada

Aquaculture, Innovation and Social Transformation Keith Culver, David Castle, 2008-09-15 Keith Culver and David Castle Introduction Aquaculture is at the leading edge of a surprisingly polarized debate about the way we produce our food According to the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization aquaculture production has increased 8.8% per year since 1970 far surpassing productivity gains in terrestrial meat production at 2.8% in the same period FAO 2007 Like the green revolution before it the blue revolution in aquaculture promises rapidly increased productivity through technology driven intensification of aquaculture animal and plant production Costa Pierce 2002 The Economist 2003 Proponents of further aquaculture development emphasize aquaculture's ancient origins and potential to contribute to global food security during an unprecedented collapse in global fisheries World Fish Center Meyers and Worm 2003 Worm et al 2006 For them technology driven intensification is an ordinary and unremarkable extension of past practice Opponents counter with images of marine and freshwater environments devastated by intensive aquaculture practices producing unsustainable and unhealthy food products They view the promised revolution as a scam nothing more than clever marketing by profit hungry shareholders looking for ways to distract the public from the real harms done by aquaculture The stark contrast between proponents and opponents of modern aquaculture recalls decades of disputes about intensive terrestrial plant and animal agriculture disputes whose vigor shows that the debate is about much more than food production Ruse and Castle 2002

The Punjabis in British Columbia Kamala Elizabeth Nayar, 2012-10-01 In this richly detailed study Kamala Nayar documents the social and cultural transformation of the Punjabi community in British Columbia From their initial settlement in the rural Skeena region to the communities that later developed in larger urban centres The Punjabis in British Columbia illustrates the complex and diverse experiences of an immigrant community that merits greater attention Exploring themes of gender employment rural and urban migrant life and the relationships between the Punjabis and surrounding First Nations and other immigrant groups Nayar creates a portrait of a community in transition Shedding light on the ways in which economic circumstances affect immigrant communities Nayar presents findings from interviews conducted with over one hundred participants She details the relocation of Punjabi populations from the Skeena region to British Columbia's lower mainland during the decline of the forestry and fishery industries how their second migration changed their professional and personal lives and how their history continues to shape the identities and experiences of Punjabis in Canada today A nuanced look at the complexities of social and cultural adaptation The Punjabis in British Columbia adds an essential perspective to what it means to be Canadian

Oceans Governance in the Twenty-first Century Marcus G. Haward, Joanna Vince, 2008-01-01 This book is recommended for anyone wanting to quickly get up to speed with oceans governance bearing in mind at this stage it is an immature and quickly developing field The strength of the book is that it is grounded in real world examples from four case study countries and in this context at the very least exposes the reader to emergent oceans governance and policy issues an excellent starting point for further analysis of oceans governance and sets up a research agenda for the future Murray Patterson Journal of Ecological Economics

Global Commodity Governance F. Gale, Marcus Haward, 2011-02-01 The Forest and the Marine Stewardship Councils constitute new global governance institutions using voluntary certification and labelling as market incentives to encourage sustainable management Utilizing a comparative political economic framework the authors analyse shifting British Canadian and Australian responses to the stewardship councils

Landing Native Fisheries Douglas C. Harris, 2009-01-01 Landing Native Fisheries reveals the contradictions and consequences of an Indian land policy premised on access to fish on one hand and a program of fisheries management intended to open the resource to newcomers on the other Beginning with the first treaties signed on Vancouver Island between 1850 and 1854 Douglas Harris maps the connections between the colonial land policy and the law governing the fisheries In so doing Harris rewrites the history of colonial dispossession in British Columbia offering a new and nuanced examination of the role of law in the consolidation of power within the colonial state

Negotiating Water Governance Emma S. Norman, Christina Cook, 2016-03-09 Those who control water hold power Complicating matters water is a flow resource constantly changing states between liquid solid and gas being incorporated into living and non living things and crossing boundaries of all kinds As a result water governance has much to do with the question of boundaries and scale who is in and who is out of decision making structures Which of the many boundaries that water crosses should be used for decision making related to its governance Recently efforts to understand the relationship between water and political boundaries have come to the fore of water governance debates how and why does water governance fragment across sectors and governmental departments How can we govern shared waters more effectively How do politics and power play out in water governance This book brings together and connects the work of scholars to engage with such questions The introduction of scalar debates into water governance discussions is a significant advancement of both governance studies and scalar theory decision making with respect to water is often implicitly a decision about scale and its related politics When water managers or scholars explore municipal water service delivery systems argue that integrated approaches to salmon stewardship are critical to their survival query the damming of a river to provide power to another region and investigate access to potable water they are deliberating the politics of scale Accessible engaging and informative the volume offers an overview and advancement of both scalar and governance studies while examining practical solutions to the challenges of water governance America in the World

Frank Costigliola, Michael J. Hogan, 2013-12-23 This volume includes historiographical surveys of American foreign relations since 1941 by some of the country's leading historians Some of the essays offer sweeping overviews of the major trends in the field of foreign international relations history Others survey the literature on US relations with particular regions of the world or on the foreign policies of presidential administrations The result is a comprehensive assessment of the historical literature on US foreign policy that highlights recent developments in the field
