Salt Water Power People A Short Hist:

A Short History of the American People ..., 1913 Corporate History and the Chemical Industries Jeffrey Louis Sturchio, 1985 Three essays on the historiography of the chemical process industries on business archives and on oral history in the corporate setting provide the context for extensive annotated bibliographies in the three areas A Short History of the American People: The development of American nationality, by C.R. Fish, 1919 The Social and Cultural Construction of Risk B.B. Johnson, V.T. Covello, 2012-12-06 The Social and Cultural Construction of Risk Issues Methods and Case Studies Vincent T Covello and Branden B Johnson Risks to health safety and the environment abound in the world and people cope as best they can But before action can be taken to control reduce or eliminate these risks decisions must be made about which risks are important and which risks can safely be ignored The challenge for decision makers is that consensus on these matters is often lacking Risks believed by some individuals and groups to be tolerable or acceptable such as the risks of nuclear power or industrial pollutants are intolerable and unacceptable to others This book addresses this issue by exploring how particular technological risks come to be selected for societal attention and action Each section of the volume examines from a different perspective how individuals groups communities and societies decide what is risky how risky it is and what should be done The writing of this book was inspired by another book Risk and Culture An Essay on the Selection of Technological and Environmental Dangers Published in 1982 and written by two distinguished scholars Mary Douglas a British social anthropologist and Aaron Wildavsky an American political scientist the book received wide critical attention and offered several provocative ideas on the nature of risk selection perception and acceptance Building the Worlds That Kill Us David Rosner, Gerald Markowitz, 2024-11-05 Across American history the question of whose lives are long and healthy and whose lives are short and sick has always been shaped by the social and economic order From the dispossession of Indigenous people and the horrors of slavery to infectious diseases spreading in overcrowded tenements and the vast environmental contamination caused by industrialization and through climate change and pandemics in the twenty first century those in power have left others behind Through the lens of death and disease Building the Worlds That Kill Us provides a new way of understanding the history of the United States from the colonial era to the present David Rosner and Gerald Markowitz demonstrate that the changing rates and kinds of illnesses reflect social political and economic structures and inequalities of race class and gender These deep inequities determine the disparate health experiences of rich and poor Black and white men and women immigrant and native born boss and worker Indigenous and settler This book underscores that powerful people and institutions have always seen some lives as more valuable than others and it emphasizes how those who have been most affected by the disparities in rates of disease and death have challenged and changed these systems Ultimately this history shows that unequal outcomes are a choice and we can instead collectively make decisions that foster life and health Paradise Falls Keith O'Brien, 2022-04-12 The staggering story of an unlikely band of mothers in the 1970s who discovered Hooker Chemical's deadly secret of Love Canal exposing one of America's most devastating toxic waste disasters and sparking the modern environmental movement as we know it today Propulsive A mighty work of historical journalism A glorious quotidian thriller about people forced to find and use their inner strength The Boston Globe Lois Gibbs Luella Kenny and other mothers loved their neighborhood on the east side of Niagara Falls It had an elementary school a playground and rows of affordable homes But in the spring of 1977 pungent odors began to seep into these little houses and it didn't take long for worried mothers to identify the curious scent It was the sickly sweet smell of chemicals In this propulsive work of narrative storytelling NYT journalist Keith O'Brien uncovers how Gibbs and Kenny exposed the poisonous secrets buried in their neighborhood The school and playground had been built atop an old canal Love Canal it was called that Hooker Chemical the city's largest employer had quietly filled with twenty thousand tons of toxic waste in the 1940s and 1950s This waste was now leaching to the surface causing a public health crisis the likes of which America had never seen before and sparking new and specific fears Luella Kenny believed the chemicals were making her son sick O'Brien braids together previously unknown stories of Hooker Chemical's deeds the local newspaperman scientist and congressional staffer who tried to help the city and state officials who didn't and the heroic women who stood up to corporate and governmental indifference to save their families and their children They would take their fight all the way to the top winning support from the EPA the White House and even President Jimmy Carter By the time it was over they would capture America's imagination Sweeping and electrifying Paradise Falls brings to life a defining story from our past laying bare the dauntless efforts of a few women who years before Erin Brockovich took up the mantle fought to rescue their community and their lives from the effects of corporate pollution and laid foundation for the modern environmental movement as we know it today Love Canal Richard S. Newman, 2016-04-12 A history of the Love Canal region from the nation's founding and the utopian city planned for the Niagara area to the building of the region's chemistry industry to the environmental disaster at Love Canal and its aftermath The Fall of the Roman Republic: a Short History of the Last Century of the Commonwealth Charles Merivale (Dean of Ely.), 1853 The Second Greatest Disappointment Karen Dubinsky, 1999 A lively and wide ranging work on the history of the North American honeymoon and of necessity the tourist industry at Niagara Falls Dubinsky charts the growth of Niagara Falls as a tourist destination from the 1850s to the 1960s and explains how it acquired its reputation as the Honeymoon Capital of the World Ultimately the author asks Of all the ways to promote a waterfall why honeymoons Winner of the 2000 Albert B. Corey prize from the Canadian Historical Association and the American Historical Association for the best book in Canadian American history This Borrowed Earth Robert Emmet Hernan, 2010-02-02 Chernobyl Exxon Valdez and Love Canal these names of preventable disasters haunt the world and serve as reminders of the tragedies caused by political negligence and economic greed Hernan's accounts explain how the disasters transpired and discusses the responses of governments and individuals
