children we may understand the importance of regular family devotions. However, we may find it difficult to get our kids or even ourselves fully engaged. But what if devotions looked less like sitting in the living room listening to someone read and trying to pry answers out of reluctant kids and more like say electrocuting a pickle. Or converting a leaf blower into a toilet paper launcher. Or lighting toothpaste on fire. These hands-on, kinda dangerous, totally unforgettable object lessons along with nearly fifty others are not only more fun than other family devotions, they actually deliver the spiritual impact you desire for your kids. They'll even get dads and any too cool for this stuff teens jazzed about a weekly family devotional time. So put away the flannelgraph, get out the safety goggles and start bringing the truths of Scripture to vivid life in your household. Just remember to change out of your Sunday clothes first.

Book of Gethsemane , Give Us This Day Devotionals, Volume 3 Charles Erlandson, 2021-12-17 Give Us This Day is a unique daily devotional commentary for the entire New Testament based on the ancient method called lectio divina. Lectio divina or divine reading is the method used by the early church and countless Christians through the centuries to read the Scriptures to form and transform the soul more than merely to inform the mind. Give Us This Day deals in depth with entire passages and their contexts. Rather than selecting only certain portions of the New Testament to write about, Fr. Charles has written a devotional for each and every passage of the New Testament. Fr. Charles writes for the whole person; he's not afraid to use his sense of humor and he carefully relates the Bible not only to the individual's life but also to the life of the Church. At the end of each day's devotional, an appropriate Prayer is offered as well as Points for Further Reflection on the day's lesson. Each devotional concludes with a suggested Resolution to put into effect what the Spirit has stirred up in the heart of the reader during the course of his reading, meditation and prayer.
