Long-Distance Nationalism Zlatko Skrbiš, 2017-05-16 How strong and how significant is the interaction between migrants and homelands in the late 20th century Have the processes of globalization and transnational interaction produced new forms of nationalism or at least altered the old ones By using Croatians and Slovenians in Australia as examples this book examines the extent to which migrants are influenced by historical and contemporary processes of migration mediated through political and cultural symbolism What are the factors which influence the existence nature and intensity of ethno nationalism in the migrant context The study analyses both the existence and transmission of ethno nationalism between migrant settings and homelands and specifically deals with the transmission of ethno nationalism sentiments across migrant generations To understand the effects and consequences of long distance nationalism fully the book proceeds from an analysis of nationalism s public manifestations to an analysis of the relatively private domain of diasporic ethno communal existence

Diasporas and Homeland Conflicts Bahar Baser, 2016-03-09 As violent conflicts become increasingly intra state rather than inter state international migration has rendered them increasingly transnational as protagonists from each side find themselves in new countries of residence In spite of leaving their homeland the grievances and grudges that existed between them are not forgotten and can be passed to the next generation This book explores the extension of homeland conflicts into transnational space amongst diaspora groups with particular attention to the interactions between second generation migrants Comparative in approach Diasporas and Homeland Conflicts focuses on the tensions that exist between Kurdish and Turkish populations in Sweden and Germany examining the effects of hostland policies and politics on the construction shaping or elimination of homeland conflicts Drawing on extensive interview material with members of diasporic communities this book sheds fresh light on the influences exercised on conflict dynamics by state policies on migrant incorporation and multiculturalism as well as structures of migrant organizations As such it will be of interest to scholars of sociology political science and international studies with interests in migration and diaspora integration and transnational conflict

Transnationalism, Diaspora and Migrants from the former Yugoslavia in Britain Gayle Munro, 2016-09-13 The geo political area of what once constituted Yugoslavia has been a region of significant migration since the 1960s More recently the conflicts in the region were the catalysts for massive displacements of individuals families and whole communities Thus far there has been a gap in the literature on the qualitative experience of migrants from the former Yugoslavia through the twin theoretical lenses of transnationalism and diaspora This book offers an ethnographic account of migration and life in diaspora of migrants originating from the former Yugoslavia and now living in Britain Concepts such as the development of cultural beacons and diasporic borrowing are introduced through the ways in which migrants from the region form community associations and articulate or avoid such affiliations The study examines the ways in which the experience of migration can be shaped by the socio political contexts of departure and arrival and considers how the lexicon associated with the act of migration can weave itself into the identities of migrants The ways in which the transnational and diasporic spaces are dictated by certain narratives for example the allegory of dreaming and the language of guilt are explored It also investigates migrants ongoing connection with the homeland considering social and cultural elements their reception in UK and British media representations of Yugoslavia Contributing to the knowledge on the experiences of migrants from a part of the world which has been under researched in terms of its migrating populations this book will be of interest to students and scholars of Political Geography Social Geography Eastern European Politics and Migration and Diaspora studies

Diasporic Chineseness after the Rise of China Julia Kuehn, Kam Louie, David M. Pomfret, 2013-11-26 As China rose to its position of global superpower Chinese groups in the West watched with anticipation and trepidation For members of China's diasporic community the rise of China created ripples of change influencing communities culture and communication and even challenging the very concept of diaspora Diasporic Chineseness after the Rise of China examines how artists writers filmmakers and intellectuals from the Chinese diaspora responded to China's ascendancy by representing it to global audiences with a new found vitality and self assurance The chapters often personal in nature cover locations as varied as Australia North America and Tibet And yet the focus of each is the nexus between the political and economic rise of China and the cultural products this period produced a place where new ideas of nation identity and diaspora were forged Ties to the Homeland Helen Lee, 2009-05-05 Ties to the Homeland examines the connections maintained across national borders by the children of migrants the second generation In the context of globalisation and increasing population mobility migrants transnational ties have become an important topic of research yet until recently we have heard little about the reproduction of such ties in the second generation The transnational engagements of migrants children are crucial for understanding future trends in the global movement of people money goods and ideas and they also can have a significant impact on issues of cultural identity and belonging for these children who grow up outside their parents homelands but may have dual or even multiple notions of home The detailed case studies in Tie to the Homeland explore the diverse transnational practices and attitudes of members of the second generation and reveal significant intergenerational differences that bring into question some of the key assumptions underlying existing work on transnationalism The case studies focus on the children of migrants originating in regions such as Europe the Middle East and the South Pacific and they bring an Australian perspective to a field that has been dominated by a European and North American focus Displacements and Diasporas Wanni W.
