

An aerial photograph of a coastal area, likely a wetland or marsh, with a grid overlay. The grid is composed of thin, light-colored lines. The terrain is a mix of green, brown, and blue, suggesting different vegetation or water levels. A dark, irregular shape is visible in the lower-left quadrant, possibly a pond or a small body of water. The grid lines are spaced at regular intervals, creating a rectangular pattern across the entire image.

valuable to their own work The selections are organized in ten chapters that survey the history of the movement the seminal ideas of founding thinkers and today s practitioners changing concepts of world historical space and time comparative methods environmental history the big history movement globalization debates over the meaning of Western power and ongoing questions about the intellectual premises and assumptions that have shaped the field World History Candice Goucher,Linda Walton,2013-07-24 World History Journeys from Past to Present uses common themes to present an integrated and comprehensive survey of human history from its origins to the present day By weaving together thematic and regional perspectives in coherent chronological narratives Goucher and Walton transform the overwhelming sweep of the human past into a truly global story that is relevant to the contemporary issues of our time Revised and updated throughout the second edition of this innovative textbook combines clear chronological progression with thematically focused chapters In this volume chapters are divided into three parts as follows PART 1 EMERGENCE Human origins to 500 CE PART 2 ORDER 1 CE 1500 CE PART 3 CONNECTIONS 500 1600 CE The expanded new edition features an impressive full color design with a host of illustrations maps and primary source excerpts integrated throughout Chapter opening timelines supply context for the material ahead while end of chapter questions and annotated additional resources provide students with the tools for independent study Each chapter and part boasts introductory and summary essays that guide the reader in comprehending the relevant theme In addition the companion website offers a range of resources including an interactive historical timeline an indispensable study skills section for students tips for teaching and learning thematically and PowerPoint slides lecture material and discussion questions in a password protected area for instructors This textbook provides a basic introduction for all students of World History incorporating thematic perspectives that encourage critical thinking link to globally relevant contemporary issues and stimulate further study Reinventing the City Ronaldo Munck,2003-10-01 The City has always been a strong focal point for critical social enquiry given its undisputed centrality for human life in the modern era More recently there has been a surge of interest in the postmodern city the most popular subject being Los Angeles and the global city the New Yorks Londons and Tokyos of the world cities linked together through flows of finance This book seeks to redress the balance using Liverpool a city neither recognised as a global or postmodern as its focus Although Liverpool is the central theme of the book it gives an informed comparative overview of the city in a worldwide context The introductory chapter sets the scene for the various contributions by re examining the postmodern global city thesis surveying various attempts at regenerating cities like Liverpool and critically examining attempts and prospects for transforming the city The following chapters examine in detail the cultural social and economic legacy of the city Particular emphasis is placed on the people of Liverpool young and old and how they envisage the city developing History of Civilizations Mayson Kirby,2018-08-11 The History of Civilizations traces the history of man in this vast region from the Palaeolithic beginnings to circa 700 B C when the foundations for the formation of the great Empire were laid Many different elements must come together before a human community develops to the level of sophistication commonly referred to as civilization. The first is the existence of settlements classifiable as towns or cities. This requires food production to be efficient enough for a large minority of the community to be engaged in more specialized activities such as the creation of imposing buildings or works of art, the practice of skilled warfare and above all the administration of a centralized bureaucracy capable of running the machinery of state. Despite the major role played by Central Asia in shaping the history of the past and of today, this vast region stretching from the Caspian Sea to Mongolia and western China had not been studied as a whole cultural entity in time and space. This multi-volume History of Civilizations of Central Asia published in English is the first attempt to present a comprehensive picture of the cultures that flourished and vanished at the heart of the Eurasian continent from the dawn of civilization to the present day. The book is an engaging and thought-provoking philosophical account that demonstrates that critical inquiry is an ongoing process with strains of continuity and evolution of civilizations. The Athenaeum, 1853

Abolition and Its Aftermath in the Indian Ocean Africa and Asia Gwyn Campbell, 2013-01-11. This important collection of essays examines the history and impact of the abolition of the slave trade and slavery in the Indian Ocean World, a region stretching from Southern and Eastern Africa to the Middle East, India, Southeast Asia and the Far East. Slavery studies have traditionally concentrated on the Atlantic slave trade and slavery in the Americas. In comparison, the Indian Ocean World slave trade has been little explored, although it started some 3,500 years before the Atlantic slave trade and persists to the present day. This volume, which follows a collection of essays, The Structure of Slavery in Indian Ocean Africa and Asia (Frank Cass, 2004), examines the various abolitionist impulses indigenous and European in the Indian Ocean World during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. It assesses their efficacy within a context of a growing demand for labour resulting from an expanding international economy and European colonisation. The essays show that in applying definitions of slavery derived from the American model, European agents in the region failed to detect or deliberately ignored other forms of slavery and as a result the abolitionist impulse was only partly successful, with the slave trade still continuing today in many parts of the Indian Ocean World. The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art, 1858. The Athenaeum, 1853. Trade and Civilisation Kristian Kristiansen, Thomas Lindkvist, Janken Myrdal, 2018-07-05. Provides the first global analysis of the relationship between trade and civilisation from the beginning of civilisation until the modern era.
