Masons Tricksters And Cartographers Makers Of Knowledge And Space:

Masons, Tricksters and Cartographers David Turnbull,2003-09-02 In an eclectic and highly original study Turnbull brings together traditions as diverse as cathedral building Micronesian navigation cartography and turbulence research He argues that all our differing ways of producing knowledge including science are messy spatial and local Every culture has its own ways of assembling local knowledge thereby creating space through the linking of people practices and places The spaces we inhabit and assemblages we work with are not as homogenous and coherent as our modernist perspectives have led us to believe rather they are complex and heterogeneous motleys

Mechanisms of Exchange ,2013-04-15 Featuring eight innovative studies by prominent scholars of medieval art and architecture this special issue of Medieval Encounters examines the specific means by which art and architectural forms techniques and ideas were transmitted throughout the medieval world ca 1000 1500 While focusing on the Mediterranean region the collection also includes essays that expand this geographic zone into a cultural and artistic one by demonstrating contact with near and distant neighbors thereby allowing an expanded understanding of the interconnectedness of the medieval world The studies are united by a focus on the specific mechanisms that enabled artistic and architectural interaction as well as the individuals who facilitated these transmissions Authors also consider the effects and collaboration of portable and monumental arts in the creation of intercultural artistic traditions Contributors are Justine Andrews Maria Georgopoulou Ludovico Geymonat Heather E Grossman Eva Hoffman Melanie Michailidis Renata Holod Scott Redford and Alicia Walker

Mathematics Across Cultures Helaine Selin,2012-12-06 Mathematics Across Cultures A History of Non Western Mathematics consists of essays dealing with the mathematical knowledge and beliefs of cultures outside the United States and Europe In addition to articles surveying Islamic Chinese Native American Aboriginal Australian Inca Egyptian and African mathematics among others the book includes essays on Rationality Logic and Mathematics and the transfer of knowledge from East to West The essays address the connections between science and culture and relate the mathematical practices to the cultures which produced them Each essay is well illustrated and contains an extensive bibliography Because the geographic range is global the book fills a gap in both the history of science and in cultural studies It should find a place on the bookshelves of advanced undergraduate students graduate students and scholars as well as in libraries serving those groups

The Trickster in Ginsberg Katherine Campbell Mead-Brewer,2013-05-27 This scholarly close reading of Allen Ginsberg s Howl considers the iconic poem through a four part trickster framework appetite boundlessness transformative power and a proclivity for setting and falling victim to tricks and traps The book pursues various different narratives of the trickster Coyote and the historical and biographical contexts of Howl from a truly interdisciplinary perspective This study seeks to contribute to the current literature on the poetry of the Beats and of Allen Ginsberg specifically his Howl and the ways it continues to expand in meaning depth and significance today

Routledge Handbook of Cultural Sociology Laura Grindstaff,Ming-Cheng M. Lo,John R.

Hall,2018-11-01 The thoroughly revised and updated second edition of the Routledge Handbook of Cultural Sociology provides an unparalleled overview of sociological and related scholarship on the complex relations of culture to social structures and everyday life With 70 essays written by scholars from around the world the book brings diverse approaches into dialogue charting new pathways for understanding culture in our global era Short accessible chapters by contributing authors address classic questions emergent issues and new scholarship on topics ranging from cultural and social theory to politics and the state social stratification identity community aesthetics and social and cultural movements In addition contributors explore developments central to the constitution and reproduction of culture such as power technology and the organization of work This handbook is essential reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students interested in a wide range of subfields within sociology as well as cultural studies media and communication and postcolonial theory Meeting Ethnography Jen Sandler, Renita Thedvall, 2017-03-27 This volume asks and addresses elusive ontological epistemological and methodological questions about meetings What are meetings What sort of knowledge identities and power relationships are produced performed communicated and legitimized through meetings How do and how might ethnographers study meetings as objects and how might they best conduct research in meetings as particular elements of their field sites Through contributions from an international group of ethnographers who have conducted meeting ethnography in diverse field sites this volume offers both theoretical insight and methodological guidance into the study of this most ubiquitous ritual Peacebuilding and Friction Annika Björkdahl, Kristine Höglund, Gearoid Millar, Jair van der Lijn, Willemijn Verkoren, 2016-03-02 This book aims to understand the processes and outcomes that arise from frictional encounters in peacebuilding when global and local forces meet Building a sustainable peace after violent conflict is a process that entails competing ideas political contestation and transformation of power relations This volume develops the concept of friction to better analyse the interplay between global ideas actors and practices and their local counterparts The chapters examine efforts undertaken to promote sustainable peace in a variety of locations such as Cambodia Sri Lanka Afghanistan and Sierra Leone These case analyses provide a nuanced understanding not simply of local processes or of the hybrid or mixed agencies ideas and processes that are generated but of the complex interactions that unfold between all of these elements in the context of peacebuilding intervention The analyses demonstrate how the ambivalent relationship between global and local actors leads to unintended and sometimes counterproductive results of peacebuilding interventions The approach of this book with its focus on friction as a conceptual tool advances the peacebuilding research agenda and adds to two ongoing debates in the peacebuilding field the debate on hybridity and the debate on local agency and local ownership In analysing frictional encounters this volume prepares the ground for a better understanding of the mixed impact peace initiatives have on post conflict societies This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding conflict resolution security studies and international relations in general Science and Exploration in the Pacific Margarete Lincoln, 1998 This volume contains studies of scientific and cultural discoveries made on Cook's 1768-7 voyage to the South Sea in Endeavour and issues emerging from this and successive Pacific voyages

Masons, Tricksters and Cartographers David Turnbull, 2000
This highly original study puts forward the notion that every culture has its own ways of assembling local knowledge thereby creating space through the linking of people practices and places

Traditions of Science Purusottama Bilimoria, Melukote K. Sridhar, 2007
Illustrations 13 B w 1 Colour Illustrations Description The frontiers of Traditional Knowledge and Science have long attracted the minds of scientists theologians intellectuals and students who have been arguing both their similarities and dissimilarities apparent contradictions and the possibility of an ultimate harmony between the two In ancient and medieval India as in much of the Non Western world there was only one word for tradition and science namely vidya Vidya encompassed what in the modern historically sensitive inquiries is called knowledge systems However in the modern West placing Science and Tradition side by side has become something of an anathema for many in the post Enlightenment era regard Tradition to be a leftover from the Dark Ages Science in contrast with its systematic approach to studying and understanding of all there is has been considered to be unassailable But even this impenetrable divide may be showing signs of rupture in the twenty first century there is now growing evidence of a line of continuity and creative engagement in a third space between Science and Traditional Knowledge Individuals and learned organizations are making enormous contributions in this interactive exploration The Sir John Templeton Foundation based in Philadelphia USA is one such international organization Professor B V Subbarayappa is one such eminent scholar who has relentlessly pursued and in his quiet way stimulated the fusion of disparate minds in this area He is hailed as a pioneer in the History and Philosophy of Science movement in India His contributions in this field are without match and have earned him a name among scientists science historians philosophers and intellectuals all over the world His monumental work and his sheer humanity have inspired the Editors of this volume to find a way to honour him Scholars of various persuasions from around the world have contributed exploratory specialist and dialogic essays toward this conversation of Science and Tradition A biographical sketch with a comprehensive Bibliography first ever of Prof Subbarayappa is also featured in the Introductory essay Professor D P Chattopadhyaya and J N Mohanty have offered prefatory comments of their own Given the extensive range of topics discussed both specialists and lay readers will doubtless gain a deeper understanding of the relationship between Science and Tradition in a cross cultural context and hopefully be inspired to develop respect for knowledge across these two frontiers

This book deals with the general concepts in stereotomy and its connection with descriptive geometry the social background of its practitioners and theoreticians the general methods and tools of this technology and the specific procedures for the members built in hewn stone including arches squinches stairs and vaults ending with a chapter discussing the open problems in this field Thus it can be used as a reference book in the subject but it can also read as a compelling narrative on this subject one of the main branches of pre industrial technology

Construction in hewn stone requires the use of geometrical methods and tools to assure that individual stones either blocks or voussoirs fit with one another and conform to the general shape of walls arches or vaults During the Late Middle Ages and the Renaissance such techniques and instruments were developed empirically by masons and architects Later on learned mathematicians and engineers introduced refinements in these procedures and this branch of knowledge known as stereotomy furnished much material to descriptive geometry a science born with the French Revolution which provided the foundation for projective geometry

Classical Genetic Research and its Legacy Jean-Paul Gaudillière, Hans-Jörg Rheinberger, 2004-10-07 With the rise of genomics the life sciences have entered a new era This book provides a comprehensive history of mapping procedures as they were developed in classical genetics An accompanying volume From Molecular Genetics to Genomics covers the history of molecular genetics and genomics The book shows that the technology of genetic mapping is by no means a recent acquisition of molecular genetics or even genetic engineering It demonstrates that the development of mapping technologies has accompanied the rise of modern genetics from its very beginnings In Section One Mendelian genetics is set in perspective from the viewpoint of the detection and description of linkage phenomena Section Two addresses the role of mapping for the experimental working practice of classical geneticists their social interactions and for the laboratory life worlds With detailed analyses of the scientific practices of mapping and its illustration of the diversity of mapping practices this book is a significant contribution to the history of genetics A companion volume from the same editors From Molecular Genetics to Genomics The Mapping Cultures of Twentieth Century Genetics covers the history of molecular genetics and genomics

Aesthetics of Universal Knowledge Simon Schaffer, John Tresch, Pasquale Gagliardi, 2017-05-15 Born out of a major international dialogue held at the Fondazione Giorgio Cini in Venice Italy this collection of essays presents innovative and provocative arguments about the claims of universal knowledge schemes and the different aesthetic and material forms in which such claims have been made and executed Contributors take a close look at everything from religious pilgrimages museums and maps of the world to search engines and automated GPS Current obsessions in information technology communications theory and digital culture often concern the value and possibility of a grand accumulation of universally accessible forms of knowledge total libraries open data bases ubiquitous computing and smart technologies These obsessions have important social and philosophical origins and they raise profound questions about the very nature of knowledge and its organization This volume s contributors draw on the histories of maps and of encyclopedias worldviews and visionary collections to make sense of the crucial relation between the way the world is known and how it might be displayed and transformed

Theory, Knowledge, Development and Politics Mawere, Munyaradzi, Nhemachena, Artwell, 2016-05-03 This volume interrogates the popularity of problematic theories in the study of Africa and Africans in the 21st century The book provides ethnographic and intellectual material for scholars seeking to rethink and reimagine a number of externally imposed theories used un consciously in Africa with the intention of raising awareness and fostering critical thinking amongst scholars theorising Africa With its theorising focus and contributors drawn from diverse disciplines and geographical locations the book is both a pacesetter on how to think research and theorise Africa and an invaluable asset for social scientists development practitioners civil society activists and leaders in the politics and economy of everyday life on the continent It poses an invitation to those seeking to re embrace and reconnect with theory as an indispensable ingredient and determinant of quality in critical production and consumption of knowledge on Africa and of relevance to Africans

History After Hobsbawm John Arnold, Matthew Hilton, Jan R ger, 2018 What does it mean and what might it yet come to mean to write history in the twenty first century History After Hobsbawm brings together leading historians from across the globe to ask what being an historian should mean in their particular fields of study Taking their cue from one of the previous century s greatest historians Eric Hobsbawm and his interests across many periods and places the essays approach their subjects with an underlying sense of what role an historian might seek to play and attempt to help twenty first century society understand how we got here They present new work in their sub fields but also point to how their specialisms are developing how they might further grow in the future and how different areas of focus might speak to the larger challenges of history both for the discipline itself and for its relationship to other fields of academic inquiry Like Hobsbawm the authors in this collection know that history matters They speak to both the past and the present and in so doing introduce some of the most exciting new lines of research in a broad array of subjects from the medieval period to the present

Property Rights and Sustainability David Grinlinton, Prue Taylor, 2011-04-11 Published with the support of The New Zealand Law Foundation As collapses and crises involving ecological systems economic and financial management and international governance increase the need for bold alternatives to traditional economic and legal responses has never been more urgent Property concepts are an important element in the interaction between humans and the natural environment An important driver of ecological harm property concepts can also become a powerful tool for responding to ecological problems in ways that have so far eluded both government regulators and markets Going beyond the traditional critiques of liberal property theories Property Rights and Sustainability takes on the challenge of fundamentally reconceptualising property rights and systems It makes a significant contribution to rebalancing the legal framework in a way that recognises humanity as a member of a larger ecological order the health and integrity of which is of primary importance to the long term viability of our planet Property Rights and Sustainability will be an indispensable resource for those interested in the relationship between property law and the environment and the ways in which property law can be reshaped to respond to the ecological challenges of our time

Collaborators Collaborating Monica Konrad, 2012-05-01 As bio capital in the form of medical knowledge skills and investments moves with greater frequency from its origin in First World industrialized settings to resource poor communities with weak or little infrastructure countries with emerging economies are starting to expand new indigenous science bases of their own The case studies here from the

UK West Africa Sri Lanka Papua New Guinea Latin America and elsewhere explore the forms of collaborative knowledge relations in play and the effects of ethics review and legal systems on local communities and also demonstrate how anthropologically informed insights may hope to influence key policy debates Questions of governance in science and technology as well as ethical issues related to bio innovation are increasingly being featured as topics of complex resourcing and international debate and this volume is a much needed resource for interdisciplinary practitioners and specialists in medical anthropology social theory corporate ethics science and technology studies

Does War Make States? Lars Bo Kaspersen, Jeppe Strandbjerg, 2017-03-02 Arising from renewed engagement with Charles Tilly's canonical work on the relationship between war and state formation this volume situates Tilly's work in a broader theoretical landscape and brings it into contemporary debates on state formation theory Starting with Tilly's famous dictum war made the state and the state made war the book takes his claim further examining it from a philosophical theoretical and conceptual view and asking whether it is applicable to non European regions such as the Middle East South America and China The authors question Tilly's narrow view of the causal relationship between warfare and state making and use a positive yet critical approach to suggest alternative ways to explain how the state is formed Readers will gain a comprehensive view of the most recent developments in the literature on state formation as well as a more nuanced view of Charles Tilly's work
