Metropolis of Metaphorical Intimations Paul Etienne Lincoln, 2003 Re-Inventing the Postcolonial (in the) Metropolis Cecile Sandten, Annika Bauer, 2016-09-27 The notion of the postcolonial metropolis has gained prominence in the last two decades both within and beyond postcolonial studies Disciplines such as sociology and urban studies however have tended to focus on the economic inequalities class disparities and other structural and formative aspects of the postcolonial metropolises that are specific to Western conceptions of the city at large It is only recently that the depiction of postcolonial metropolises has been addressed in the writings of Suketu Mehta Chris Abani Amit Chaudhuri Salman Rushdie Aravind Adiga Helon Habila Sefi Atta and Zakes Mda among others Most of these works probe the urban specifics and physical and cultural topographies of postcolonial cities while highlighting their agential capacity to defy appropriate and abrogate the superimposition of theories of Western modernity and urbanism These ASNEL Papers are all concerned with the idea of the postcolonial in the metropolis from various disciplinary viewpoints as drawn from a great range of cityscapes spread out over five continents The essays explore on the one hand ideas of spatial subdivision and inequality political repression social discrimination economic exploitation and cultural alienation and on the other the possibility of transforming reinventing and reconfigurating the postcolonial condition in and through literary texts and visual narratives In this context the volume covers a broad spectrum of theoretical and thematic approaches to postcolonial and metropolitan topographies and their depictions in writings from Australia and New Zealand South Africa South Asia and greater Asia as well as the UK addressing issues such as modernity and market economies but also caste class and social and linguistic aspects At the same time they reflect on the postcolonial metropolis and postcolonialism in the metropolis by concentrating on an urban imaginary which turns on notions of spatial subdivision and inequality political repression social discrimination economic exploitation and cultural alienation as the continuing postcolonial condition From Floor to Sky Hester Westley, Peter Kardia, Malcolm Le Grice,2010-02-12 A fully illustrated retrospective of British sculpture over the past 30 years Visualising the Empire of Capital Martyn Hudson, 2019-08-21 Methods of visualising modernity and capitalism have been central to classical social science Those methods of seeing specifically in the work of Marx were attempts to capture visually the fragmenting edifice of capital in its death throes and were part of a project to hasten its demise yet capitalism persisted and perpetuated itself in new forms such that its demise now looks less likely than it did 150 years ago This book argues for a new way of understanding Marx and a new way of approaching both capitalist modernity and Marx s Capital by rethinking the nature of vision Through studies of visualisation in relation to machines and the monstrous memory mirrors and optics and the invisible Visualising the Empire of Capital offers a new way of thinking about what capital is and its future A new reading of and against Marx this volume argues for new forms of sensual utopia while initiating antagonism to the empire of capital itself As such it will appeal to social theorists social anthropologists and sociologists with interests in critical theory visual

Cogliano, 2017-03-02 Transatlantic studies especially during the enlightenment period is of increasing critical interest amongst scholars But was there an Atlantic Enlightenment This interdisciplinary collection harnesses the work of some of the most prominent figures in the fields of literature intellectual cultural and social history geography and political science to examine the emergence of the Atlantic as one of the key conceptual paradigms of eighteenth century studies In this spirit the contributors offer new insights into the conditions that generated a major transatlantic genre of writing addressing questions of race political economy and the transmission of Enlightenment ideas in literary political historical and religious contexts Whether examining John Witherspoon s evolution from Calvinist theologian to Revolutionary theorist or Adam Smith s reception in the antebellum United States the essays remind us that the transatlantic traffic in ideas moved from west to east from east to west and in patterns that both complicate and enrich what we thought we knew about the vectors of transmission in this pivotal period The Geocritical Legacies of Edward W. Said Robert T. Tally Jr., 2015-01-07 Edward W Said is considered one of the most influential literary and postcolonial theorists in the world Affirming Said s multifaceted and enormous critical impact this collection features essays that highlight the significance of Said s work for contemporary spatial criticism comparative literary studies and the humanities in general
