Mi Lou Poetry And The Labyrinth Of Desire:

Mi-Lou Stephen Owen, 1989 Owen Chinese and comparative literature Harvard explores issues of love poetry in Chinese and Western poetry He argues that comparisons need cross cultures and time periods Annotation copyright Book News Inc Portland Or The Abject of Desire, 2007-01-01 The Abject of Desire approaches the aestheticization of the unaesthetic via a range of different topics and genres in twentieth century Anglophone literature and culture The experience of disgust which Winfried Menninghaus describes as an acute crisis of self preservation is correlated with conceptualizations of gender in theories of the abject abjection In view of this general crisis of identity in the experience of disgust the contributions to this volume discuss examples of the aestheticization of the unaesthetic in cultural representations and locate conceptual re codings of the body gender and identity with regard to the abject as an immediate and uncompromising experience on the one hand and a social and political phenomenon on the other Considering a variety of cultural narratives by writers as diverse as Samuel Delany Sarah Schulman Joyce Carol Oates Leslie Marmon Silko Paul Magrs J G Ballard Stevie Smith T C Boyle Joseph Conrad Poppy Z Brite and Will Self by film directors John Waters and Peter Greenaway playwrights Girish Karnad and Mahesh Dattani and body artist Gunter von Hagens the contributors to this volume scrutinize different implications of the ambivalent concept of the abject abjection Shan'ge, the 'Mountain Songs' Yasushi OKI, Paolo

Santangelo, 2011-02-17 Mountain Songs is a collection of folk songs edited by the famous writer Feng Menglong 1574 1646 By this innovative work mainly written in the Suzhou dialect he aimed to revitalize poetry through the power of popular songs This collection is very significant to the understanding of the characters of the mobile society of Jiangnan and the vitality of its intellectual world The songs deal with the lives of common people women often prostitutes boatmen peasants hunters fishers and paddlers Their spirit is far from the orthodox moral intents that Zhu Xi advocated for interpreting the Shijing and their language is often vulgar and full of crude expressions or salacious double meanings and contains allusions to sexual and erotic behaviour Victims and the Postmodern Narrative or Doing Violence to the Body Mark

Ledbetter, 2016-07-27 Victims and the Postmodern Narrative suggests that reading and writing about literature are ways to gain an ethical understanding of how we live in the world Postmodern narrative is an important way to reveal and discuss who are society's victims inviting the reader to become one with them A close reading of fiction by Toni Morrison Patrick Suskind D M Thomas Ian McEwan and J M Coetzee reveals a violence imposed on gender race and the body politic Such violence is not new to the postmodern world but merely reflects Western culture's religious traditions as the author demonstrates through a reading of stories from the Hebrew Bible and the Christian New Testament The Reception and

Rendition of Freud in China Tao Jiang, Philip J. Ivanhoe, 2013-05-07 Although Freud makes only occasional brief references to China and Chinese culture in his works for almost a hundred years many leading Chinese intellectuals have studied and appropriated various Freudian theories However whilst some features of Freud's views have been warmly embraced from the start and appreciated for their various explanatory and therapeutic values other aspects have been vigorously criticized as implausible or inapplicable to the Chinese context This book explores the history reception and use of Freud and his theories in China and makes an original and substantial contribution to our understanding of the Chinese people and their culture as well as to our appreciation of western attempts to understand the people and culture of China The essays are organised around three key areas of research First it examines the historical background concerning the China Freud connection in the 20th century before going on to use reconstructed Freudian theories in order to provide a modernist critique of Chinese culture Finally the book deploys traditional Chinese thought in order to challenge various aspects of the Freudian project Both Freudianism s universal appeal and its cultural particularity are in full display throughout the book At the same time the allure of Chinese cultural and literary expressions both in terms of their commonality with other cultures and their distinctive characteristics are also scrutinized This collection of essays will be welcomed by those interested in early modern and contemporary China as well as the work and influence of Freud It will also be of great interest to students and scholars of psychology psychoanalysis literature philosophy religion and cultural studies more generally

Moved by Love Mary D. Sheriff, 2008-10-30 In eighteenth century France the ability to lose oneself in a character or scene marked both great artists and ideal spectators Yet it was thought this same passionate enthusiasm if taken to unreasonable extremes could also lead to sexual deviance mental illness even death Women and artists were seen as especially susceptible to these negative consequences of creative enthusiasm and women artists doubly so Mary D Sheriff uses these very different visions of enthusiasm to explore the complex interrelationships among creativity sexuality the body and the mind in eighteenth century France Drawing on evidence from the visual arts literature philosophy and medicine she portrays the deviance ascribed to both inspired men and women But while various mythologies worked to normalize deviance in male artists women had no justification for their deviance For instance the mythical sculptor Pygmalion was cured of an abnormal love for his statue through the making of art He became a model for creative artists living happily with his statue come to life No happy endings though were imagined for such inspired women writers as Sappho and Heloise who burned with erotomania their art could not quench Even so Sheriff demonstrates the perceived connections among sexuality creativity and disease also opened artistic opportunities for creative women took full advantage of them Brilliantly

Boudoir Resentment Qiulei Hu, 2023-05-25 This book studies the formation of the male constructed conventional voice of women in Chinese literature from the 3rd to 6th century It highlights specific moments during which the feminine voice became recognized accepted and stabilized including the shift of focus from the performative to the textual in female representations the formation of a male literary community the popularity of romanticized historical narratives and the emerging sense of literary history This study emphasizes the historicity of the feminine voice and strives to question and challenge established notions about textual stability authorship the literary canon and literary history Beauty and the Enigma Francis Landy, 2001-03-01 This book is a collection of Landy's studies on the poetics of the Hebrew Bible. The Song of Songs is featured alongside the prophetic voices of Amos, Hosea, and Isaiah, and essays on the Binding of Isaac and on the book of Ruth. Throughout, the emphasis is on the subversiveness, richness, and ambiguity of the text, but above all its often enigmatic beauty. The thread of psychoanalysis and its metaphorical technique draws together this collection from one of the Bible's most sensitive and distinctive literary critics. Sulfur, 1990 The Challenges of Orpheus Heather Dubrow, 2011-06-15 This critical exploration of how we define lyric poetry is thorough, penetrating, and on the cutting edge of contemporary scholarship. Choice As a literary mode, lyric is difficult to define. The term is conventionally applied to brief, songlike poems expressing the speaker's interior thoughts, but many critics have questioned the underlying assumptions of this definition. While many people associate lyric with the Romantic era, Heather Dubrow turns instead to the poetry of early modern England. The Challenges of Orpheus confronts widespread assumptions about lyric, exploring such topics as its relationship to its audiences, the impact of material conditions of production, and other cultural pressures. Lyric's negotiations of gender and the interactions and tensions between lyric and narrative. Dubrow offers fresh perspectives on major texts of the period, from Sir Thomas Wyatt's "My lute awake" to John Milton's "Nativity Ode," as well as poems by lesser-known figures. She also extends her critical conclusions to poetry in other historical periods and to the relationship between creative writers and critics, recommending new directions for the study of lyric and of genre.
