Michel Foucault And Power Today International Multidisciplinary Studies In The History Of The Present:

Michel Foucault and Power Today Alain Beaulieu, David Gabbard, 2006-01-01 Few thinkers have left such an influence across such a diverse range of studies as Michel Foucault has This book pays homage to that diversity by presenting a multidisciplinary series of analyses dedicated to the question of power today Michel Foucault and Power Today David A. Gabbard, Alain Beaulieu, 2005-12-22 Foucault's thought finds innumerable applications across the social sciences from studies in the social aspects of the medical practices and criminal sociology to juridical and economic sciences Owing to their philosophical ramifications his ideas have also impacted the spheres of literary studies ethics political thought and critical ontology Few thinkers have left such an influence across such a diverse range of studies Contributors attempt to pay homage to that diversity by presenting a multidisciplinary series of analyses dedicated to the question of power today Drawn from a number of papers presented at an international conference entitled Michel Foucault and social Control conducted at Maison de la culture C te des Neiges in Montreal on May 8 10 2004 to commemorate the twentieth anniversary of Foucault's death the essays that comprise this volume address the issue at both a theoretical level and as it pertains to specific fields of practice In addition to paying tribute to Foucault's achievements and situating his thought within the French and larger European context from which it emerged these essays also re-evaluate the relevance of Foucault's ideas for understanding contemporary conditions This book is suited for a broad academic audience in the humanities and Social Sciences especially philosophy sociology and cultural studies Madness in International Relations Alison Howell, 2011-05-30 This book provides a novel approach to the study of security and global governance by demonstrating that psychological interventions are integral to global governmentality New Approaches to International Law José María Beneyto, David Kennedy, 2012-09-26 This volume offers a unique reflection on the historic and contemporary influence of the New Approaches to International Law NAIL movement within the context of Europe and America In particular the contributions focus on the intellectual product of NAIL's founder David Kennedy in relation to three legal streams human rights legal history and the law of war On the one hand the volume is valuable reading for a broad audience interested in the current challenges facing global governance and how critical studies might contribute to innovative intellectual and practice oriented developments in international law On the other hand stemming from a 2010 seminar in Madrid that brought together scholars to discuss David Kennedy's scholarship over the last three decades the contributions here are a testament to the community and ideas of the NAIL tradition The volume includes scholars from a wide field of legal interests and backgrounds Leaving Christian Fundamentalism and the Reconstruction of Identity Josie McSkimming, 2016-10-04 There is an increasing interest in the influence of religious fundamentalism upon people's motivation identity and decision making Leaving Christian Fundamentalism and the Re-construction of Identity details the stories of those who have left Christian fundamentalist churches and how they change after they have left It considers how the previous fundamentalist identity is shaped by aspects of church teaching and discipline that are less authoritarian and coercive and more subtle and widely spread throughout the church body That is individuals are understood as not only subject to a form of judgment but also exercise it with everyone seemingly complicit in maintaining the stability of the church organisation This book provocatively illustrates that the reasons for leaving an evangelical Christian church may be less about what happens outside the church in terms of the lures and attractions of the secular world and more about the experience within the community itself God of All Comfort Scott Harrower, 2019-04-24 How does God respond to trauma in a world full of horrors Beyond their physical and emotional toll the horrors of this world raise difficult theological and existential questions Where is God in the darkest moments of the human experience Is there any hope for recovery from the trauma generated by these horrors There are no easy answers to these questions In God of All Comfort Scott Harrower addresses these questions head on Using the Gospel of Matthew as a backdrop he argues for a Trinitarian approach to horrors showing how God in his triune nature reveals himself to those who have experienced trauma He explores the many ways God relates restoratively with humanity showing how God's light shines through the darkness of trauma

Paradigms in Political Economy Kavous Ardalan, 2015-11-06 Social theory can usefully be conceived in terms of four key paradigms functionalist interpretive radical humanist and radical structuralist The four paradigms are founded upon different assumptions about the nature of social science and the nature of society Each generates theories concepts and analytical tools which are different from those of other paradigms and together they provide a more balanced understanding of the phenomenon under consideration This book demonstrates that an understanding of these different paradigms and how they can be applied leads to a better understanding of the multi faceted nature of political economy Any explanation of a given phenomenon is based on a worldview The premise of this book is that any worldview can be associated with one of the four key paradigms Each chapter of the book takes an important phenomenon i e the state justice freedom democracy liberal democracy media and the great recession and discusses it from the four different viewpoints It emphasizes that the four views expressed are equally scientific and informative They look at the phenomenon from their certain paradigmatic perspective and together provide a more balanced understanding of the phenomenon under consideration The diversity of economics research possibilities referred to in this book is vast While each paradigm advocates a research strategy that is logically coherent in terms of underlying assumptions these vary from paradigm to paradigm The phenomenon to be researched can be conceptualized and studied in many different ways each generating distinctive kinds of insight and understanding This book is for those who study political economy as well as economic theory and philosophy

Sacred Surrealism, Dissidence and International Avant-Garde Prose Vivienne Brough-Evans, 2016-05-05 Vivienne Brough Evans proposes a compelling new way of reevaluating aspects of international surrealism by means of the category of divin fou and consequently deploys theories of sacred ecstasy as developed by the Collège de Sociologie 1937-39 as a critical tool in shedding new light on the literary oeuvre of non French writers who worked both within and against a surrealist framework The minor surrealist genre of prose literature is considered herein rather than surrealism's mainstay poetry with the intention of fracturing preconceptions regarding the medium of surrealist expression The aim is to explore whether International surrealism can begin to be more fully explained by an occluded strain of dissident surrealist thought that searches outside the self through the affects of ekstasis Bretonian surrealism is widely discussed in the field of surrealist studies and there is a need to consider what is left out of surrealist practice when analysed through this Bretonian lens The Collège de Sociologie and Georges Bataille's theories provide a model of such elements of dissident surrealism which is used to analyse surrealist or surrealist influenced prose by Alejo Carpentier Leonora Carrington and Gellu Naum respectively representing postcolonial feminist and Balkan locutions The Collège and Bataille's dissident surrealism diverges significantly from the concerns and approach towards the subject explored by surrealism Using the concept of ekstasis to organise Bataille's theoretical ideas of excess and inner experience and the Collège's thoughts on the sacred it is possible to propose a new way of reading types of International surrealist literature many of which do not come to the forefront of the surrealist literary oeuvre

Words in Time Francesco Benigno, 2017-04-21 Through questions such as What is power How are revolutions generated Does public opinion really exist What does terrorism mean and When are generations created Words in Time scrutinizes the fundamental concepts by which we confer meaning to the historical and social world and what they actually signify analysing their formation and use in modern thought within both history and the social sciences In this volume Francesco Benigno examines the origins and development of the words we use critiquing the ways in which they have traditionally been employed in historical thinking and examining their potential usefulness today Rather than being a general inventory or a specialized dictionary this book analyses a selection of words particularly relevant not only in the idiom and jargon of the social sciences and history but also in the discourse of ordinary people Exploring new trends in the historical field of reflection and representing a call for a new more conscious historical approach to the social world this is valuable reading for all students of historical theory and method

Controlling Crime, Controlling Society Dario Melossi, 2008-12-03 This text offers an overview of anxieties about crime in Europe and the U S and the public and political responses to it It compares a European reliance on the state to the U S system of social control

Body and Nation Emily S. Rosenberg, Shanon Fitzpatrick, 2014-07-31 Body and Nation interrogates the connections among the body the nation and the world in twentieth century U S history The idea that bodies and bodily characteristics are heavily freighted with values that are often linked to political and social spheres remains underdeveloped in the histories of America's relations with the rest of the world Attentive to diverse state and nonstate actors the contributors provide historically grounded insights into the transnational dimensions of biopolitics Their subjects range from the regulation of prostitution in the Philippines by the U S Army to Cold War ideals of American feminine beauty and from body counts as metrics of military success to cultural representations of Mexican migrants in the United States as public health threats By considering bodies as complex fluctuating and interrelated sites of meaning the contributors to this collection offer new insights into the workings of both soft and hard power Contributors Frank Costigliola Janet M Davis Shanon Fitzpatrick Paul A Kramer Shirley Jennifer Lim Mary Ting Yi Lui Natalia Molina Brenda Gayle Plummer Emily S Rosenberg Kristina Shull Annessa C Stagner Marilyn B Young Futures of the Study of Culture Doris Bachmann-Medick, Jens Kugele, Ansgar Nünning, 2020-08-10

How can we approach possible but unknown futures of the study of culture This volume explores this question in the context of a changing global world The contributions in this volume discuss the necessity of significant shifts in our conceptual and epistemological frameworks Taking into account changing institutional research settings the authors develop pathways to future cultural research addressing the crucial concerns of the cultural and social worlds themselves The contributions thereby utilize contact zones within a wide range of disciplines such as cultural anthropology sociology cultural history literary studies the history of science and bioethics as well as the environmental and medical humanities Examining emerging inter and transdisciplinary points of reference the volume invites scholars in the humanities and social sciences to take part in a conversation about theories methods and practices for the future study of culture Comparative Empirical

Bioethics: Dilemmas of Genetic Testing and Euthanasia in Israel and Germany Aviad E. Raz, Silke Schicktanz, 2016-04-29 This book is a comprehensive empirically grounded exploration of the relationship between bioethics culture and the perspective of being affected It provides a new outlook on how complex bioethical issues become questions of everyday life The authors focus on two contexts genetic testing and end of life care to locate and demonstrate emerging themes of responsibility such as self responsibility responsibility for kin and the responsibility of society Within these themes the duty to know versus the right not to know one's genetic fate in the context of genetic testing or the sanctity of life versus self determination in the context of end of life care are identified as culturally embedded dilemmas that are very much relevant for lay persons Furthermore cultural factors such as religion history utopian and dystopian views of biomedical technologies outlooks on the body and on health illness and citizenship are examined Health issues are increasingly becoming a question of assessing risk and responsibility How can we better prepare ourselves for the future We all make such assessments in a way that combines personal inclinations professional recommendations and cultural framings There is still much to be learned about the interplay between these three dimensions The Disorder of Things John

Masterson, 2013-04-01 Nuruddin Farah is widely regarded as one of the most sophisticated voices in contemporary world literature Michel Foucault is revered as one of the most important thinkers of the twentieth century with his discursive legacy providing inspiration for scholars working in a range of interdisciplinary fields The Disorder of Things offers a reading of the Somali novelist through the prism of the French philosopher The book argues that the preoccupations that have remained central throughout Farah's forty year career including political autocracy female infibulation border conflicts international aid and development civil war transnational migration and the Horn of Africa's place in a so called axis of evil can be mapped onto some key concerns in Foucault's writing most notably Foucault's theoretical turn from disciplinary to biopolitical power. In both the colonial past and the postcolonial present, Somalia is typically represented as an incubator of disorder, whether in relation to internecine conflict, international terrorism, or contemporary piracy. Through his work, both fictional and non-fictional, Farah strives to present alternative stories to an expanding global readership. The Disorder of Things analyses the politics and poetics that underpin this literary project, beginning with Farah's first fictional cycle, Variations on the Theme of an African Dictatorship (1979, 1983) and ending with his Past Imperfect trilogy (2004, 2011). Farah's writing calls for a more refined, substantial reading of our current geopolitical situation. As such, it both warrants and compels the kind of critical engagement foregrounded throughout The Disorder of Things. This book will appeal to students, academics, and general readers with an interest in the interdisciplinary study of literature. Its engagement with theorists drawn from postcolonial, feminist, and development studies, set against the backdrop of a host of philosophical and sociological discourses, shows how such intellectual cross-fertilisation can enliven a single author study.

De-Sequencing

Dana Mahr, Martina von Arx, 2020-12-07. Are you your genes? De-Sequencing: Identity Work with Genes explores this perplexing question, showing how different forms of knowledge must be contextualized to become meaningful. It is generally assumed that the genomic sequence adds up to the identity-forming material; life is made of. Yet identity cannot itself adopt the form of a sequence. As the authors in this volume show, the genome must be de-sequenced by human language to render it interpretable and meaningful in a social context. The book unpacks this type of sequence speech in engaging detail, adopting a personal, social, cultural, and biopolitical approach to examine the transformation of human identity and reflexivity in the era of genetic citizenship.

Voluntary Servitude and the Erotics of Friendship

Marc D. Schachter, 2016-12-05. Focusing primarily on three early modern French authors, this book explores the erotics and politics of voluntary servitude in classical antiquity and the early modern period. These authors, Jean de La Boétie, Michel de Montaigne, and Marie de Gournay, pursue related inquiries into voluntary servitude and self-control in marriage, friendship, pederasty, and politics. Marc Schachter shows how Montaigne's intimate textual relationship with La Boétie provides him the opportunity to honor his beloved friend while transforming many of his ideas. Similarly, Marie de Gournay's editorial voluntary servitude to Montaigne provides her the occasion to authorize her own practice as a woman author and to engage critically with Montaigne's ideas, even as she celebrates her friendship with him. Schachter's analyses are pursued particularly through the lens of Michel Foucault's concept of governmentality, which like voluntary servitude operates on three interrelated scales: self-control, control in interpersonal relationships, and political control. Schachter argues that thinking about the function of voluntary servitude through the lens of governmentality leads to a more nuanced understanding both of Foucault's late work and of the transformational possibilities offered by friendship and voluntary servitude in early modern France.

Genetics as Social

Practice Barbara Prainsack, Silke Schicktanz, Gabriele Werner-Felmayer, 2016-04-22. Recent debate about the ethical and regulatory dimensions of developments in genetics has sidelined societal and cultural aspects which arguably are indispensable for a nuanced understanding of the complexities of the topic. Regulatory and ethical debates benefit from taking seriously this third dimension of culture which often determines the configurations and limits of the space within which scientific, ethical and legal debate can take place. To fill this gap, this volume brings together contributions exploring the mutual relationships between genetics, markets, societies and identities in genetics and genomics. It draws upon the recent transdisciplinary debate on how socio-cultural factors influence understandings of genetics (20) and shows how individual and collective identities are challenged or reinforced by cultural meanings and practices of genetics. This book will become a standard reference for everyone seeking to make sense of the controversies and shifts in the field of genetics in the second decade of the twenty-first century.

Ethical, Social and Psychological Impacts of Genomic Risk Communication
 Ulrik Kihlbom, Mats G. Hansson, Silke Schicktanz, 2020-11-15
 This volume presents the ethical implications of risk information as related to genetics and other health data for policy decisions at clinical research and societal levels. Ethical, Social and Psychological Impacts of Genomic Risk Communication examines the introduction of new types of health risk information based on faster, cheaper and larger sets of genetic or genomic analysis. Synthesizing the results of a five-year interdisciplinary project, it explores the unsolved ethical and social questions around the sharing of this data, such as: What is best practice in risk communication? What are the normative presumptions and ethical consequences of an increased individual responsibility for one's health? And how does one deal with the gap between the knowledge of risk and the lack of therapeutic options which often exist for complex diseases such as dementia or some types of cancer? Drawing on contributions from over 20 experts in the field, this collection examines these questions from a liberal bioethics perspective, advocating for contextual and cultural sensitive ethical discussions. This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of theoretical and clinical medical ethics, medical sociology, risk communication and ethics of risk, as well as professionals in clinical genetics.

Conflicts of Care
 Helen Kohlen, 2009-02-09
 Ethikkomitees sind neu an deutschen Kliniken. Mit Blick auf die US-amerikanische Geschichte dieser Einrichtung beleuchtet Helen Kohlen deren Praxis und den Nutzen im medizinischen und pflegerischen Feld. Wem dienen die Beratungsgremien und wessen Stimme wird bei der Definition ethischer Konflikte gehört? Sie erkennt, dass die Logik und Sprache des Managements zunehmend die klinische Ethik prägt und dass für sorgliche Praxis im Klinikalltag keine Selbstverständlichkeit mehr ist. Revisiting Crimes of the Powerful
 Frank Pearce was the first scholar to use the term crimes of the powerful. His ground-breaking book of the same name provided insightful critiques of liberal orthodox criminology, particularly in relation to labelling theory and symbolic interactionism, while making important contributions to Marxist understandings of the complex relations between crime, law and the state in the reproduction of the capitalist social order. Historically, crimes of the powerful were largely neglected in crime and deviance studies, but there is now an important and growing body of work addressing this gap This book brings together leading international scholars to discuss the legacy of Frank Pearce s book and his work in this area demonstrating the invaluable contributions a critical Marxist framework brings to studies of corporate and state crimes nationally internationally and on a global scale This book is neither a hagiography nor a review of random areas of social scientific interest Instead it draws together a collection of scholarly and original articles which draw upon and critically interrogate the continued significance of the approach pioneered in Crimes of the Powerful The book traces the evolution of crimes of the powerful empirically and theoretically since 1976 shows how critical scholars have integrated new theoretical insights derived from post structuralism feminism and critical race studies and offers perspectives on how the crimes of the powerful and the enormous ongoing destruction they cause can be addressed and resisted
