Breslin, G. Hook, 2016-01-19 Microregionalism and World Order is a pioneering work on the least understood aspect of regionalism Leading specialists analyze the form microregionalism takes in different parts of the world including the Americas Asia Pacific and Africa By illustrating the complex relationship amongst the political economic and social dimensions of microregionalism the book seeks to contribute to the theoretical debate on regionalism as well as to provide new empirical insights Manual of Phytogeography Léon Croizat, 2013-11-21 The SAGE International Encyclopedia of Music and Culture Janet Sturman, 2019-02-26 The SAGE Encyclopedia of Music and Culture presents key concepts in the study of music in its cultural context and provides an introduction to the discipline of ethnomusicology its methods concerns and its contributions to knowledge and understanding of the world's musical cultures styles and practices The diverse voices of contributors to this encyclopedia confirm ethnomusicology's fundamental ethos of inclusion and respect for diversity. Combined, the multiplicity of topics and approaches are presented in an easy-to-search A-Z format and offer a fresh perspective on the field and the subject of music in culture. Key features include approximately 730 signed articles authored by prominent scholars, arranged A to Z and published in a choice of print or electronic editions. Pedagogical elements include Further Readings and Cross References to conclude each article and a Reader's Guide in the front matter organizing entries by broad topical or thematic areas. Back matter includes an annotated Resource Guide to further research journals, books, and associations; an appendix listing notable archives, libraries, and museums; and a detailed Index. The Index, Reader's Guide, themes, and Cross References combine for thorough search and browse capabilities in the electronic edition.

Statutory Rules and Orders for the Year ... Saint Vincent and the Grenadines, 1980 Trouillot Remixed Michel-Rolph Trouillot, 2021-09-27 This collection of writings from Haitian anthropologist Michel Rolph Trouillot includes his most famous, lesser-known, and hard-to-find writings that demonstrate his enduring importance to Caribbean studies, anthropology, history, postcolonial studies, and politically engaged scholarship more broadly. Manufacturing Powerlessness in the Black Diaspora Charles Green, 2002-05-09 Despite the economic utopianism brought on by globalization, effective solutions to the persistent plight of urban blacks throughout the African diaspora continue to elude scholars, politicians, and community leaders. Charles Green brings a decade of research and original fieldwork in Africa, the Caribbean, and the United States to investigate the interface of the historic racism faced by these urban communities and contemporary trends of globalization. Green pays particular attention to the condition of the youth, whose aspirations, vulnerabilities, and insights into their own conditions are central to the future prospects for their communities as a whole. Considering the impacts of economic restructuring and cultural diffusion alike, his analysis asserts the importance of both global ties and local distinctiveness. Ultimately, Manufacturing Powerlessness aims to encourage the formation of alliances throughout the diaspora so that urban black communities can manufacture a future of empowerment. Visit the author's web page Latin America, Second Edition Robert B. Kent, 2016-04-24 An authoritative overview of Latin America's human geography and regional complexity, it traces Latin America's historical developments while revealing the diversity of its people and places. Coverage encompasses cultural history, environment, and physical geography, urban development, agriculture, and land use, social and economic processes, and the contemporary patterns of Latin American diaspora. Publisher description Healers and Empires in Global History Markku Hokkanen, Kalle Kananoja, 2019-04-15 This book explores cross-cultural medical encounters involving non-Western healers in a variety of imperial contexts from the Arctic, Asia, Africa, Americas, and the Caribbean. It highlights contests over healing knowledge and medicines through the frameworks of hybridisation and pluralism. The intertwined histories of medicine, empire, and early globalisation influenced the ways in which millions of people encountered and experienced suffering, healing, and death. In an increasingly global search for therapeutics and localised definition of acceptable healing, networks and mobilities played key roles Healers engagements with politics law and religion underline the close connections between healing power and authority They also reveal the agency of healers sufferers and local societies in encounters with modernising imperial states medical science and commercialisation The book questions and complements the traditional narratives of triumphant biomedicine reminding readersthat traditional medical cultures and practitioners did not often disappear but rather underwent major changes in the increasingly interconnected world

Medicalizing Blackness Rana A. Hogarth,2017-09-26 In 1748 as yellow fever raged in Charleston South Carolina doctor John Lining remarked There is something very singular in the constitution of the Negroes which renders them not liable to this fever Lining s comments presaged ideas about blackness that would endure in medical discourses and beyond In this fascinating medical history Rana A Hogarth examines the creation and circulation of medical ideas about blackness in the Atlantic World during the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries She shows how white physicians deployed blackness as a medically significant marker of difference and used medical knowledge to improve plantation labor efficiency safeguard colonial and civic interests and enhance control over black bodies during the era of slavery Hogarth refigures Atlantic slave societies as medical frontiers of knowledge production on the topic of racial difference Rather than looking to their counterparts in Europe who collected and dissected bodies to gain knowledge about race white physicians in Atlantic slaveholding regions created and tested ideas about race based on the contexts in which they lived and practiced What emerges in sharp relief is the ways in which blackness was reified in medical discourses and used to perpetuate notions of white supremacy

Difference and Disease Suman Seth,2018-06-07 Before the nineteenth century travellers who left Britain for the Americas West Africa India and elsewhere encountered a medical conundrum why did they fall ill when they arrived and why if they recovered did they never become so ill again The widely accepted answer was that the newcomers needed to become seasoned to the climate Suman Seth explores forms of eighteenth century medical knowledge including conceptions of seasoning showing how geographical location was essential to this knowledge and helped to define relationships between Britain and her far flung colonies In this period debates raged between medical practitioners over whether diseases changed in different climes Different diseases were deemed characteristic of different races and genders and medical practitioners were thus deeply involved in contestations over race and the legitimacy of the abolitionist cause In this innovative and engaging history Seth offers dramatically new ways to understand the mutual shaping of medicine race and empire

The Postmodern Chronotope Paul Smethurst, 2021-10-18

The Postmodern Chronotope is an innovative interdisciplinary study of the contemporary. It will be of special interest to anyone interested in relations between postmodernism, geography and contemporary fiction. Some claim that postmodernism questions history and historical bases to culture; some say it is about loss of affect, loss of depth, models and superficiality; others claim it follows from the conditions of post-industrial society and others cite commodification of place, Disneyfication, simulation and post-tourist spectacle as evidence that postmodernism is wedded to late capitalism. Whatever postmodernism is or turns out to have been, it is bound up in rethinking and reworking space and time, and Paul Smethurst's intervention here is to introduce the postmodern chronotope as a term through which these spatial and temporal shifts might be apprehended. The postmodern chronotope constitutes a postmodern world view and postmodern way of seeing. In a sense, it is the natural successor to a modernist way of seeing defined through cubism, montage and relativity. The book is arranged as follows: Part 1 is an interdisciplinary study casting a wide net across a range of cultural, social and scientific activity from chaos theory to cinema, from architecture to performance art, from IT to tourism. Part 2 offers original readings of a selection of postmodern novels including Graham Swift's Waterland and Out of this World, Peter Ackroyd's Hawksmoor and First Light, Alasdair Gray's Lanark, J. M. Coetzee's Foe, Marina Warner's Indigo, Caryl Phillips' Cambridge and Don DeLillo's The Names and Ratner's Star. Migration, Transnationalization, and Race in a Changing New York Héctor R. Cordero-Guzmán, Robert C. Smith, Ramón Grosfoguel, 2001. In this work, 19 scholars from a range of disciplines discuss New York's immigrant communities. They explore the interaction between economic globalization and transnationalization, demographic change and the evolving racial, ethnic and gender dynamics in the city.
