Lew,Edwin Pak-wah Leung,2013-07-29 The Chinese Civil War which lasted several years or several decades depending on how you define it was one of the most momentous wars of the 20th century for it determined the fate of the world's most populous country and was bitterly fought with millions of combatants involved and hundreds of millions of civilians affected More to the point it was won by the Chinese Communist Party under Mao Zedong who imposed Communist rule while the Nationalists retreated to Taiwan It also heated up the Cold War for quite some time as the Communists were supported by the Soviet Union and the

Nationalists by the United States This second edition of the Historical Dictionary of the Chinese Civil War studies the longer broader war and its chronology carefully tracks the major events The introduction then provides a broad overview describing the contending forces and showing how the Communists come out on top The details and these are crucial are laid out in over 200 cross referenced dictionary entries dealing with the opposing forces and parties the major campaigns and battles the Long March and of course the leadership on both sides This book one of few such in English provides a very solid basis for study but that can be accomplished more effectively by consulting the titles listed in an extensive bibliography

The Soviet Union and Communist China 1945-1950: The Arduous Road to the Alliance Dieter Heinzig, 2015-06-18

Drawing on a wealth of new sources this work documents the evolving relationship between Moscow and Peking in the twentieth century Using newly available Russian and Chinese archival documents memoirs written in the 1980s and 1990s and interviews with high ranking Soviet and Chinese eyewitnesses the book provides the basis for a new interpretation of this relationship and a glimpse of previously unknown events that shaped the Sino Soviet alliance An appendix contains translated Chinese and Soviet documents many of which are being published for the first time The book focuses mainly on Communist China s relationship with Moscow after the conclusion of the treaty between the Soviet Union and Kuomintang China in 1945 up until the signing of the treaty between Moscow and the Chinese Communist Party in 1950 It also looks at China s relationship with Moscow from 1920 to 1945 as well as developments from 1950 to the present The author reevaluates existing sources and literature on the topic and demonstrates that the alliance was reached despite disagreements and distrust on both sides and was not an inevitable conclusion He also shows that the relationship between the two Communist parties was based on national interest politics and not on similar ideological convictions

Jeans, 2017-11-27 When the Chinese Communists defeated the Chinese Nationalists and occupied the mainland in 1949 1950 U S policymakers were confronted with a dilemma Disgusted by the corruption and more importantly failure of Chiang Kai shek's Nationalist armies and party and repelled by the Communists revolutionary actions and violent class warfare in the early 1950s the U S government placed its hopes in a Chinese third force While the U S State Department reported on third forces the CIA launched a two prong effort to actively support these groups with money advisors and arms In Japan Okinawa and Saipan the agency trained third force troops at CIA bases The Chinese commander of these soldiers was former high ranking Nationalist General Cai Wenzhi He and his colleagues organized a political group the Free China Movement His troops received parachute training as well as other types of combat and intelligence instruction at agency bases Subsequently several missions were dispatched to Manchuria the Korean War was raging then and South China All were failures and the Chinese third force agents were killed or imprisoned With the end of the Korean War the Americans terminated this armed third force movement with the Nationalists on Taiwan taking in some of its soldiers while others moved to Hong Kong The Americans flew Cai to Washington where he took a job with the Department of Defense The second prong of the CIA's effort was in Hong Kong The agency financially supported and advised the creation of a third force organization called the Fighting League for Chinese Freedom and Democracy It also funded several third force periodicals Created in 1951 and 1952 in 1953 and 1954 the CIA ended its financial support As a consequence of this as well as factionalism within the group in 1954 the League collapsed and its leaders scattered to the four winds At the end even the term third force was discredited and replaced by new force Finally in the early 1950s the CIA backed as a third force candidate a Vietnamese general With his assassination in May 1955 however that effort also came to naught Literary History Anders Pettersson, Gunilla Lindberg-Wada, Margareta Petersson, Stefan

Helgesson, 2006 Literary History Towards a Global Perspective is a research project funded by the Swedish Research Council Vetenskapsrådet. Initiated in 1996 and launched in 1999 it aims at finding suitable methods and approaches for studying and analysing literature globally emphasizing the comparative and intercultural aspect. Even though we nowadays have fast and easy access to any kind of information on literature and literary history we encounter more than ever the difficulty of finding a credible overall perspective on world literary history. Until today literary cultures and traditions have usually been studied separately each field using its own principles and methods. Even the conceptual basis itself varies from section to section and the genre concepts employed are not mutually compatible. As a consequence it is very difficult if not impossible for the interested layperson as well as for the professional student to gain a clear and fair perspective both on the literary traditions of other peoples and on one's own traditions. The project can be considered as a contribution to gradually removing this problem and helping to gain a better understanding of literature and literary history by means of a concerted empirical research and deeper conceptual reflection. The contributions to the four volumes are written in English by specialists from a large number of disciplines primarily from the fields of comparative literature, Oriental studies and African studies in Sweden. All of the literary texts discussed in the articles are in the original language. Each one of the four volumes is devoted to a special research topic.
