Women and Relationships in Contemporary Irish Women's Short Stories □□□,2021-07-01 This book examines archetypal motifs related to aspects of human relationships in contemporary Irish women's short stories from the late 1960s to the present These relationships examined embrace not only relationships between men and women as married couples and lovers but also women to women relationships as mothers daughters sisters or lovers This book has uncovered certain recurrent motifs which may be construed as archetypal and are employed as a narrative device to express a certain level of feminist awareness by Irish female writers in their stories against the backdrop of Irish feminism emerged in the late 1960s This feminist aspect of Irish women's stories appears to address the paradoxes of patriarchal ideology underlying male domination in male female courtship and marriages the conflict between patriarchally loyal mothers and rebellious daughters powerless but rival female siblings and peers competing for limited resources and male attention under the Father's law Motifs of resistance and subversion serve in these stories as metaphors unveiling female protests against an ideology which defines and confines women in the Irish patriarchal context This book demonstrates a process of transition during which Irish female writers progress from the depiction of women who struggle and fight against unfairness and distortion within an androcentric culture to a new direction in which such writers describe a situation where women recognise the internalisation of the false consciousness of patriarchy and out of this recognition may be eventually able to develop further their sense of self and individuality The archetypal motifs in Irish women's stories also illustrate a kind of continuity of an ancient female archetype of female rebellious powers which in female literary imagination never ceases to resurface in the face of patriarchal suppression

Dictionary of World Biography: The 20th century, O-Z Frank Northen Magill, Christina J. Moose, Alison Aves, 1999-11. Each volume of the Dictionary of World Biography contains 250 entries on the lives of the individuals who shaped their times and left their mark on world history. This is not a 'who's who'. Instead, each entry provides an in-depth essay on the life and career of the individual concerned. Essays commence with a quick reference section that provides basic facts on the individual's life and achievements. The extended biography places the life and works of the individual within an historical context, and the summary at the end of each essay provides a synopsis of the individual's place in history. All entries conclude with a fully annotated bibliography.

Have Ye No Homes To Go To? Kevin Martin, 2016-05-01. The pub has been at the centre of Irish life for centuries. It has played many roles: funeral home, restaurant, grocery shop, music venue, job centre and meeting place for everyone, from poets to revolutionaries. Often plain and unpretentious, it is a neutral ground, a leveller, a home away from home. From the feasts of high kings through the heady gang-ruled pubs of nineteenth-century New York right up to the gay bars and superpubs of today, this is an entertaining journey through the evolution of the Irish pub. Our locals have become a global phenomenon; the export of the Irish pub, its significance to emigrants and its portrayal in cinema television and literature are engagingly explored The story of the Irish pub is the story of Ireland itself Fascinating endlessly surprising Irish Independent Full of brilliant anecdotes packed with legal literary religious and historical bits and pieces that will keep you talking in the pub all night Neil Delamere Today FM An enjoyable romp through the ephemera and facts surrounding that most Irish of institutions Irish Examiner Fascinating a great gift Mark Cagney TV3
