Modern Spoken Persian in Contemporary Iranian Novels

Katarzyna Wąsala, 2024-10-07 One of the characteristic features of the linguistic situation of contemporary Iran is the coexistence of two standards of Modern Persian the written and the spoken While literature is generally composed in the written variety the typically spoken forms are also to be found in the literary text Modern spoken Persian in Contemporary Iranian Novels is a study of these A scrutinous analysis of five carefully selected novels with methods drawing mostly from the register analysis seeks answers to questions such as what features are characteristic to the spoken variety of language how are they woven into the literary language does the relationship between spoken and written registers change over time and how can this process affect the future development of Persian language

Missing Persians Nasrin Rahimieh, 2001-10-01 Missing Persians serves to articulate in elegant vibrant prose the disparate and displaced narratives of five Persian subjects Nasrin Rahimieh s complex and nuanced arguments effectively demonstrate the links that her five figures have to a stable Persian identity complicated by their experiences of travel exile conversion and social change Rahimieh delineates the captivating histories of missing Persians from the sixteenth century to modern times and defines the arbitrary generic boundaries that isolate Persian biographies autobiographies travelogues and social histories Balancing their documentary and historical value with creative and fictional elements she reads them as individual engagements with broader questions of Persian identity at different moments of the nation's history As modes of self expression these texts reveal both remnants of traditional Persian literary forms and new styles adopted through translations and readings in European literature and history Even as it sheds new light on crucial points in cultural self definition Missing Persians offers a fresh look at traditional institutions the role of women and Persia's turbulent struggle to enter modernity on its own terms

University of Michigan Official Publication, 1968 A Literary History of Persia E.G. Browne, 2013-11-05 Browne's famous work first published in 1902 was the essential text on literary history in Persian studies for many years As an overview of Persian literature from the earliest times until Firdawsi it continues to be a valuable reference Out of print for some time it is now reissued as a library edition in facsimile to capture the feel of the original edition A Literary History

Grammar of the Persian Language John Thompson Platts, 1894 Language Interrupted John McWhorter, 2007-06-18

Foreigners often say that English language is easy A language like Spanish is challenging in its variety of verb endings the verb speaking is conjugated hablo hablas hablamos and gender for nouns whereas English is more straightforward I speak you speak we speak But linguists generally swat down claims that certain languages are easier than others since it is assumed all languages are complex to the same degree For example they will point to English's use of the word do Do you know French This usage is counter intuitive and difficult for non native speakers Linguist John McWhorter agrees that all languages are complex but questions whether or not they are all equally complex The topic of complexity has become a hot issue in recent years particularly in creole studies historical linguistics and language contact As McWhorter describes when languages came into contact over the years when French speakers ruled the English for a few centuries or the vikings invaded England a large number of speakers are forced to learn a new language quickly and this came up with a simplified version a pidgin When this ultimately turns into a real language a creole the result is still simpler and less complex than a non interrupted language that has been around for a long time McWhorter makes the case that this kind of simplification happens in degrees and criticizes linguists who are reluctant to say that for example English is simply simpler than Spanish for socio historical reasons He analyzes how various languages that seem simple but are not creoles actually are simpler than they would be if they had not been broken down by large numbers of adult learners In addition to English he looks at Mandarin Chinese Persian Malay and some Arabic varieties His work will interest not just experts in creole studies and historical linguistics but the wider community interested in language complexity

Causation, Permission, and Transfer Brian Nolan, Gudrun Rawoens, Elke Diedrichsen, 2015-01-14 This book offers a comprehensive investigative study of the argument realisation of the concepts of causative purpose permit let allow and transfer in a broad cross linguistic typologically diverse mix of languages with GIVE GET TAKE PUT and LET verbs This volume stands as the first systematic exploration of these verbs and concepts as they occur in complex events and clauses This book brings together scholars and researchers from a variety of functionally inspired theoretical backgrounds that have worked on these verbs within one language or from a cross linguistic perspective The objective is to understand the linguistic behaviour of the verbs and their inter relationships within a contemporary cognitive functional linguistic perspective The languages represented include Irish German Slavic West Slavic Polish Czech Slovak and Sorbian and Western South Slavic Slovenian and Bosnian Croatian Serbian Germanic Romance Gan Chinese Yichun dialect M ori Bohairic Coptic Shaowu Chinese Hebrew English Lithuanian Estonian the Australian dialects Pitjantjatjara and Yankunytjatjara Italian and Persian Topics discussed include argument structure and the encoding of arguments under causation permission and transfer verbs their lexical semantics and event structure

Muḥīṭ al-Tavārīkh (The Sea of Chronicles) Mehrdad Fallahzadeh, Forogh Hashabeiky, 2014-02-13 This study provides a critical edition of chapters nine and ten of Mu al tav r kh The Sea of Chronicles by Mu ammad Am n b M rz Mu ammad Zam n Bukh r f y n Mu al tav r kh is a valuable source for the study of late seventeenth century Central Asian history historiography and language The present work represents the first critical edition of a primary source of Sub n Qul Kh n s reign The ninth chapter b b offers accounts of the Timurid kings Abulkhayrid Shaybanid and the first four Ashtarkhanid Janid khans The tenth chapter presents a detailed account of the life and times of the last great Ashtarkhanid Janid khan Sub n Qul Bah dur 1682 1702 revealing historical information essential for scholars of the period and region

Iran Homa Katouzian, 2013 This book offers a view of Iran through politics history and literature showing how the three angles combine Iran being a revolutionary society experienced two great revolutions within the short span of just seventy years from the 1900s to the 1970s Both were massive revolts of the society against the state the main objective of the first being to establish lawful government to make modernisation possible and the second to overthrow the absolute and arbitrary state though this time mainly under the banner of religion and Marxism Leninism and anti Westernism Neither of them succeeded in their lofty ideals for reasons that are explained and analysed within The author also offers a detailed description of Iran s short term society examining the political and intellectual lives of two of the most remarkable intellectuals cum politicians of the twentieth century This book provides an overview of modern Persian literature both poetry and prose and discusses the works of three of the most remarkable Persian poets and writers of the period It considers classical Persian literature through the great variety of its form and substance and neo classical literary developments in the nineteenth century covering the whole history of Persian literature This is crowned in the last chapter by the love poetry of one of the greatest Persian poets Iran will be of interest to students and scholars of Iranian studies and Middle East Politics Iran Review ,1962
