African American Mystery Writers Frankie Y. Bailey, 2014-01-10 The book describes the movement by African American authors from slave narratives and antebellum newspapers into fiction writing and the subsequent developments of black genre fiction through the present It analyzes works by modern African American mystery writers focusing on sleuths the social locations of crime victims and offenders the notion of doing justice and the role of African American cultural vernacular in mystery fiction A final section focuses on readers and reading examining African American mystery writers access to the marketplace and the issue of the double audience raised by earlier writers Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here Official Documents, Comprising the Department and Other Reports Made to the Governor, Senate, and House of Representatives of Pennsylvania Pennsylvania, 1901 The New York Masonic Outlook, 1928 New York Herald Tribune Books, 1929 British Murder Mysteries, 1880-1965 Laura E. Nym Mayhall, Elizabeth Prevost, 2022-08-09 British Murder Mysteries 1880 1965 Facts and Fictions conceptualizes detective fiction as an archive i e a trove of documents and sources to be used for historical interpretation By framing the genre as a shifting set of values definitions and practices the book historicizes the contested meanings of analytical categories like class race gender nation and empire that have been applied to the forms and functions of detection Three organizing themes structure this investigation fictive facticity genre fluidity and conservative modernity This volume thus shows how British detective fiction from the late nineteenth to the mid twentieth century both shaped and was shaped by its social cultural and political contexts and the lived experience of its authors and readers at critical moments in time

International Companion Encyclopedia of Children's Literature Peter Hunt, Sheila G. Bannister Ray, 1996 The Encyclopedia offers comprehensive and international coverage of children's literature from a number of perspectives theory and critical approaches types and genres context applications and individual country essays Economic Investigations in Twentieth-Century Detective Fiction Yan Zi-Ling, 2016-03-09 In his study of Golden Age and hard boiled detective fiction from 1890 to 1950 Yan Zi Ling argues that these two subgenres can be distinguished not only by theme and style but by the way they structure knowledge value and productive labour Using the detective as a reference point and enactor of socially based interests Yan shows that Golden Age texts are distinguished by their conservatism and not only by their conservatism with the detectives actions serving to stabilize institutions with specific ideological aims In contrast the criminal investigations of the hard boiled detective who is poorly aligned with institutions and strong interest groups reveal the fragility of the status quo in the face of escalating cycles of violence Key to Yan's discussion are theories of exchange value and the gift the latter of which he suggests is more akin to detective work than is wage labour Analyzing texts by a wide range of authors that includes Arthur Conan Doyle Agatha Christie Dashiell Hammett Raymond Chandler Dorothy Sayers Raoul Whitfield George Harmon Coxe and Mickey Spillane Yan demonstrates that the detective's truth generating function most often characterized as a process of discovery rather than creation is in fact crucial to the institutional and class based interests that he or she serves
