Novels on the Eighteen-forties Kathleen Tillotson,1961 Novels of the Eighteen-forties. Kathleen Tillotson Kathleen Mary Tillotson,1954 Novels of the Eighteen-forties Kathleen Tillotson,1965 Novels of the Eighteen-forties Kathleen Tillotson,1983 Novels of the Eighteen-forties ,1961 Working-class families in novels of the eighteen-forties Cornelia Kuster,1988 The Reenchantment of Nineteenth-Century Fiction D. Payne,2005-05-23 An ambitious weave of ideological literary and commodity history The Reenchantment of Nineteenth Century Fiction shows how Dickens Thackeray and George Eliot sacralized Victorian modernity in two contradictory ways by incarnating their moment as one of transcendent development and by reenacting bloody rituals from a fading Protestant past Both the magnitude and the brevity of their success make these works exemplary for our own era caught between the archaic gods of traditional religion and the still mysterious ones of market society The Cambridge Companion to the Eighteenth-Century Novel John Richetti,1996-09-05 In the past twenty years our understanding of the novel s emergence in eighteenth century Britain has drastically changed Drawing on new research in social and political history the twelve contributors to this Companion challenge and refine the traditional view of the novel s origins and purposes In various ways each seeks to show that the novel is not defined primarily by its realism of representation but by the new ideological and cultural functions it serves in the emerging modern world of print culture Sentimental and Gothic fiction and fiction by women are discussed alongside detailed readings of work by Defoe Swift Richardson Henry Fielding Sterne Smollett and Burney This multifaceted picture of the novel in its formative decades provides a comprehensive and indispensable guide for students of the eighteenth century British novel and its place within the culture of its time Scenes of Sympathy Audrey Jaffe,2018-03-15 In Scenes of Sympathy Audrey Jaffe argues that representations of sympathy in Victorian fiction both reveal and unsettle Victorian ideologies of identity Situating these representations within the context of Victorian visual culture and offering new readings of key works by Charles Dickens Elizabeth Gaskell Ellen Wood George Eliot Oscar Wilde and Arthur Conan Doyle Jaffe shows how mid Victorian spectacles of social difference construct the middle class self and how late Victorian narratives of feeling pave the way for the sympathetic affinities of contemporary identity politics Perceptive and elegantly written Scenes of Sympathy is the first detailed examination of the place of sympathy in Victorian fiction and ideology It will redirect the current critical conversation about sympathy and refocus discussions of late Victorian fictions of identity Fashionable Fictions and the Currency of the Nineteenth-Century British Novel Lauren Gillingham,2023-05-25 Revealing how a modern notion of fashion helped to transform the novel and its representation of social change and individual and collective life in nineteenth century Britain Lauren Gillingham offers a revisionist history of the novel With particular attention to the fiction of the 1820s through 1840s this study focuses on novels that use fashion s idiom of currency and obsolescence to link narrative form to a heightened sense of the present and the visibility of public life It contends that novelists steeped their

fiction in date stamped matters of dress manners and media sensations to articulate a sense of history as unfolding not in epochal change but in transient issues and interests capturing the public's imagination Reading fiction by Mary Shelley Letitia Landon Edward Bulwer Lytton W H Ainsworth Charles Dickens Mary Elizabeth Braddon and others Fashionable Fictions tells the story of a nineteenth century genre commitment to contemporaneity that restyles the novel itself An Introduction to the English Novel (2 Vols) Arnold Kettle, 2021-02-25 First published in 1951 the two volumes of An Introduction to the English Novel discuss how and why the novel developed in England in the eighteenth century The books look at the function and background of prose fiction focusing its arguments around the study of carefully selected books that have had a significant impact on its development The author examines the progress in the long struggle of the novelist to see life steadily and whole and points out some of the problems and hazards that beset the writer still Reading Old Books Peter Mack, 2019-09-24 A wide ranging exploration of the creative power of literary tradition from Chaucer to the present In literary and cultural studies tradition is a word everyone uses but few address critically In Reading Old Books Peter Mack offers a wide ranging exploration of the creative power of literary tradition from the middle ages to the twenty first century revealing in new ways how it helps writers and readers make new works and meanings Reading Old Books argues that the best way to understand tradition is by examining the moments when a writer takes up an old text and writes something new out of a dialogue with that text and the promptings of the present situation The book examines Petrarch as a user instigator and victim of tradition It shows how Chaucer became the first great English writer by translating and adapting a minor poem by Boccaccio It investigates how Ariosto Tasso and Spenser made new epic meanings by playing with assumptions episodes and phrases translated from their predecessors It analyzes how the Victorian novelist Elizabeth Gaskell drew on tradition to address the new problem of urban deprivation in Mary Barton And finally it looks at how the Kenyan writer Ngũgĩ wa Thiong'o in his 2004 novel Wizard of the Crow reflects on biblical English literary and African traditions Drawing on key theorists critics historians and sociologists and stressing the international character of literary tradition Reading Old Books illuminates the not entirely free choices readers and writers make to create meaning in collaboration and competition with their models

Fact and Fiction Sarah Sanchez, 2003 This study examines a varied corpus of documentary and literary texts produced during the Miners revolution of October 1934 in Asturias Thinking Without Thinking in the Victorian Novel Vanessa L. Ryan, 2012-06-07 In Thinking without Thinking in the Victorian Novel Vanessa L Ryan demonstrates how both the form and the experience of reading novels played an important role in ongoing debates about the nature of consciousness during the Victorian era Revolutionary developments in science during the mid and late nineteenth century including the discoveries and writings of Herbert Spencer William Carpenter and George Henry Lewes had a vital impact on fiction writers of the time Wilkie Collins George Eliot George Meredith and Henry James read contributions in what we now call cognitive science that asked what is the mind These Victorian fiction writers took a crucial step asking how we experience our minds how that experience relates to our behavior and questions of responsibility how we can gain control over our mental reflexes and finally how fiction plays a special role in understanding and training our minds Victorian fiction writers focus not only on the question of how the mind works but also on how it seems to work and how we ought to make it work Ryan shows how the novelistic emphasis on dynamic processes and functions on the activity of the mind rather than its structure or essence can also be seen in some of the most exciting and comprehensive scientific revisions of the understanding of thinking in the Victorian period This book studies the way in which the mind in the nineteenth century view is embedded not just in the body but also in behavior in social structures and finally in fiction

Nation & Novel Patrick Parrinder, 2008 Patrick Parrinder traces English prose fiction from its late medieval origins through its stories of rogues and criminals family rebellions and suffering heroines to the contemporary novels of immigration He provides both a comprehensive survey and a new interpretation of the importance of the English novel

Twilight Histories Camilla Cassidy, 2022-10-24 Twilight Histories explores the relationship between nostalgia and the Victorian historical novel arguing that both responded to the turbulence brought by accelerating modernisation Nostalgia began as a pathological homesickness its first victims seventeenth century soldiers serving abroad Only gradually did it become the sentimental memory we understand it as today In a striking parallel to nostalgia's origin the historical novel emerged in the tumultuous early years of the nineteenth century at a time when the Napoleonic Wars once again set troops on the move creating a new wave of homesick soldiers In the historical novels of Gaskell Thackeray Dickens Eliot and Hardy nostalgia offered a language in which to describe the experience of living through changing times as a homesickness for history Twilight Histories has been included in Oxford Bibliographies Historical Novel category where it has been reviewed as a n illuminating study of mid Victorian novels of the recent past the period of the French Revolution and Napoleonic Wars

Modes of Production of Victorian Novels N. N. Feltes, 1989-05-15 In this sophisticated application of modern Marxist thought N N Feltes demonstrates the determining influence of nineteenth century publishing practices on the Victorian novel His dialectical analysis leads to a comprehensive explanation of the development of capitalist novel production into the twentieth century Feltes focuses on five English novels Dickens's Pickwick Papers Thackeray's Henry Esmond Eliot's

Middlemarch Hardy's Tess of the d'Urbervilles and Forster's Howards End Published at approximately twenty year intervals between 1836 and 1920 they each represent a different first publication format part issue three volume bimonthly magazine serial and single volume Drawing on publishing economic and literary history Feltes offers a broad synthetic explanation of the relationship between the production and format of each novel and the way in which these determine in the last instance the ideology of the text Modes of Production in Victorian Novels provides a Marxist structuralist analysis of historical events and practices described elsewhere only empirically and traces their relationship to literary texts which have been analyzed only idealistically thus setting these familiar works firmly and perhaps permanently into a framework of historic materialism
