Short Stories Lucy Montgomery,2024-04-15 The land dropped abruptly down from the gate and a thick shrubby growth of young apple orchard almost hid the little weather grey house from the road This was why the young man who opened the sagging gate could not see that it was boarded up and did not cease his cheerful whistling until he had pressed through the crowding trees and found himself almost on the sunken stone doorstep over which in olden days honeysuckle had been wont to arch Now only a few straggling uncared for vines clung forlornly to the shingles and the windows were as has been said all boarded up The whistle died on the young man s lips and an expression of blank astonishment and dismay settled down on his face a good kindly honest face it was although perhaps it did not betoken any pronounced mental gifts on the part of its owner What can have happened he said to himself Uncle Tom and Aunt Sally can t be dead I d have seen their deaths in the paper if they was And I d a thought if they d moved away it d been printed too They can t have been gone long that flower bed must have been made up last spring Well this is a kind of setback for a fellow Here I ve been tramping all the way from the station a thinking how good it would be to see Aunt Sally s sweet old face again and hear Uncle Tom s laugh and all I find is a boarded up house going to seed S pose I might as well toddle over to Stetsons and inquire if they haven t disappeared too Lucy Maud Montgomery Short Stories, 1909 to 1922 L.
