Sacred Distance Rosemary Muir Wright,2006-08-08 This book is concerned to open up some of the conditioning factors which reveal the concerns of the ecclesiastical authorities for the formal representation of Marian teaching The following chapters aim to show how the Marian altarpiece was responsive both to developments in dogma and to major stylistic changes in the course of the period 1320 1630 These changes were grounded in the visual strategies by which the spatial and lighting systems of the painting reflected those of the viewer so as to impart to the painted image the convition of reality derived from sensory experience The book makes a distinction between the theological and the cult image in order to isolate those aspects of Marian devotion which the Church embraced as doctrinally important Preface p xii Signs of Change ,2021-11-08 Signs of Change Transformations of Christian Traditions and their Representation in the Arts 1000 2000 focuses on the changing relationships between what gradually emerged as the Arts and Christianity the latter term covering both a stream of ideas and its institutions The book as a whole is addressed to a general academic audience concerned with issues of cultural history while the individual essays are also intended as scholarly contributions within their own fields A collaborative effort by twenty five European and American scholars representing disciplines ranging from aesthetics to the history of art and architecture from literature music and the theatre to classics church history and theology the volume is an interdisciplinary study of intermedial phenomena generally in larger cultural and intellectual contexts The focus of topics extends from single concrete objects to sets of abstract concepts and values and from a single moment in time to an entire millennium While Signs of Change acknowledges the importance of synthesizing efforts essential to hermeneutically informed scholarship in order to counterbalance generalized historical narratives with detailed investigations broad accounts are juxtaposed with specialized research projects. The deliberately unchronological grouping of contributions underlines the effort to further discussion about methodologies for writing cultural history The Grove Encyclopedia of Medieval Art and Architecture Colum Hourihane, 2012 This volume offers unparalleled coverage of all aspects of art and architecture from medieval Western Europe from the 6th century to the early 16th century Drawing upon the expansive scholarship in the celebrated Grove Dictionary of Art and adding hundreds of new entries it offers students researchers and the general public a reliable up to date and convenient resource covering this field of major importance in the development of Western history and international art and architecture Music, Myth and Story in Medieval and Early Modern Culture Katherine Butler, Samantha Bassler, 2019 The complex relationship between myths and music is here investigated Myths and stories offer a window onto medieval and early modern musical culture Far from merely offering material for musical settings authoritative tales from classical mythology ancient history and the Bible were treated as foundations for musical knowledge Such myths were cited in support of arguments about the uses effects morality and preferred styles of music in sources as diverse as theoretical treatises defences or critiques of music art sermons educational literature and books of moral conduct Newly written literary stories too were believed capable of moral instruction and influence and were a medium through which ideas about music could be both explored and transmitted How authors interpreted and weaved together these traditional stories or created their own reveals much about changing attitudes across the period Looking beyond the well known figure of Orpheus this collection explores the myriad stories that shaped not only musical thought but also its styles techniques and practices The essays show that music itself performed and created knowledge in ways parallel to myth and worked in tandem with old and new tales to construct social political and philosophical views This relationship was not static however as the Enlightenment dawned the once authoritative gods became comic characters and myth became a medium forridicule Overall the book provides a foundation for exploring myth and story throughout medieval and early modern culture and facilitating further study into the Enlightenment and beyond KATHERINE BUTLER is a seniorlecturer in music at Northumbria University SAMANTHA BASSLER is a musicologist of cultural studies a teaching 700-1600 Jutta Eming, Kathryn Starkey, 2021-12-06 The eleven chapters in this international volume draw on a variety of theoretical and methodological approaches to focus our attention on medieval and early modern things ca 700 1600 The range of things includes actual objects the Altenburg Crucifixion a copy of Hieronymus Brunschwig s Liber de arte distillandi a pilgrim s letter imagined objects a prayed cloak for the Virgin Mary and narrative objects in texts the Alliterative Morte Arthure the Ordene de Chevalerie Hartmann von Aue s Erec Heinrich of Neustadt s Apollonius of Tyre Lu s de Cam es s Os Lus adas and the vita of Saint Guthlac Each in its own way the papers consider how things do what they do in texts and art often foregrounding the intersection between the material and the immaterial by exploring such questions as how things act how they express power and how texts and images represent them Medieval and early modern things are repeatedly shown to be more than symbolic or passive they are agentive and determinative in both their intra and extradiegetic worlds The things that are addressed in this volume are varied and are embedded or entangled in different contexts and societies and yet they share a concerted engagement in human life Tendencies of Gothic in Florence Gaudenz Freuler, 1997 A companion volume to Andrea Bonaiuti this text offers detailed information on the work of Don Silvestro dei Gherarducci a celebrated Italian book illustrator of the late 14th century and the impact of his gothicizing tendencies on the Giottesque Public Painting and Visual Culture in Early Republican Florence George Bent, 2017-01-16 Street corners guild halls government offices and confraternity centers contained paintings that made the city of Florence a visual jewel at precisely the time of its emergence as an international cultural leader This book considers the paintings that were made specifically for consideration by lay viewers as well as the way they could have been interpreted by audiences who approached them with specific perspectives Their belief in the power of images their understanding of the persuasiveness of pictures and their acceptance of the utterly vital role that art could play as a propagator of civic corporate and individual identity made lay viewers keenly aware of the paintings in their midst Those pictures affirmed the piety of the people for whom they were made in an age of social and political upheaval as the city experimented with an imperfect form of republicanism that often failed to adhere to its declared aspirations Reliquary Tabernacles in Fourteenth-century Italy Beth Williamson, 2020 Ground breaking study of the enigmatic and unique tabernacles from fourteenth century Italy which for the first time combined relics and images Images and relics were central tools in the process of devotional practice in medieval Europe The reliquary tabernacles that emerged in the 1340s in the area of Central Italy surrounding the city of Siena combined images and relics presented visibly together within painted and decorated wooden frames In these tabernacles the various media and materials worked together to create a powerful and captivating ensemble usable in several contexts both in procession and static as the centre of focussed prayerful attention This book looks at Siena and Central Italy as environments of artistic invention and at Sienese painters in particular as experts in experimentation whose ingenuity encouraged the development of this new form of devotional technology It is the first full length study to focus in depth on the materiality of these tabernacles investigating the connotations and effects of the materials from which they were made It examines especially the effect of bringing relics and images together and considers how the impressions of variety and abundance created by the multiplication of materials give birth to meaning a encourage certain kinds of action or thought	nd
