Teaching Writing in Chinese Speaking Areas Mark Shiu-Kee Shum, De-lu Zhang, 2005-11-23 One of the most civilized nations in history China has a long standing writing tradition and many Chinese texts have become world treasures However the way the Chinese teach writing in various countries in contemporary times is little known to the outside world especially in Western countries Undoubtedly the Chinese have had an established traditional method of writing instruction However recent social and political developments have created the perception amongst both practitioners and researchers of a need for change Whilst certain socio political changes both in Mainland China and in the territories acted as agents for reform of the teaching of composition the shape these reforms are taking has been due to many different influences coming both from inside the countries themselves and from foreign sources Mainland China Hong Kong Taiwan and Singapore have each developed their own approach to the teaching of composition      A Method of English Composition Timothy Whiting Bancroft, 1894      Cognitive Processes in Writing Lee W. Gregg, Erwin R. Steinberg, 2016-07-15 Originally published in 1980 this title began as a set of questions posed by faculty on the campus of Carnegie Mellon University What do we know about how people write What do we need to know to help people write better This resulted in an interdisciplinary symposium on Cognitive Processes in Writing and subsequently this book which includes the papers from the symposium as well as further contributions from several of the attendees It presents a good picture of what research had shown about how people write of what people were trying to find out at the time and what needed to be done      Thinking for Primary Writing Adrian Copping, 2025-02-28 Drawing on the author's personal experience this book provides a deeper understanding of how children experience the writing process in primary school The framework termed think for writing demonstrates that training children in creative writing and providing creative thinking opportunities can develop their writing and improve their confidence in writing Aimed at all teachers and trainees it examines each element of the framework the thinking environment task design training creative thinking the building blocks of the writing process and developing children's creative self efficacy This range of ideas and approaches across all elements of the writing process that teachers can adapt adopt and apply to their own practice This book also demonstrates that a lot of the key work in developing writing is done in between the building blocks of the writing process This work in the gaps includes process feedback and feedback on the application of ideas Ultimately this book provides a resource for teachers to develop their writing pedagogy and children s outcomes whilst meeting National curriculum for England and Wales requirements and demands of standardised testing Teachers can feel a lot more assured when designing units of work in primary English with this helpful framework that provides them with this knowledge and details on how to apply it      Writing in the Disciplines Christine Hardy,Lisa Clughen,2012-05-18 This book develops academic writing in higher education Viewing writing as a complex sociocultural act it analyses key issues in writing environments and their impact on student writing Drawing on research practice and the existing body of knowledge it also offers practical writing activities that can be used with students in the disciplines      Writing and Psychology Douglas Vipond,1993-09-21 Although psychology is steeped in writing as a discipline it has developed little explicit understanding of writing This is the first book to examine writing and the teaching of writing in psychology from the standpoint of composition studies the scholarly field that specializes in the study and teaching of writing The book s purpose is to develop a different richer more explicit understanding of writing than psychology presently has Three major aspects of writing are discussed audience genre and style After examining these the author draws implications for the teaching of writing in psychology The work does not aim to tell psychologists how to write better rather it suggests how they might think differently about writing

Changing the Way We Teach Sally Barr Ebest,2005 Changing the Way We Teach Writing and Resistance in the Training of Teaching Assistants draws on eighteen case studies to illustrate the critical role writing plays in overcoming graduate student resistance to instruction facilitating change and developing professional identity Sally Barr Ebest argues that teaching assistants in English must be actively engaged in the theory and practice underlying composition pedagogy in order to better understand how to alter the way they teach and why such change is necessary In illustrating the potential for change when the paradigm shift in composition is applied to graduate education Ebest considers recent discussions of composition pedagogy post secondary teaching theories cognitive social cognitive and educational psychology and issues of gender voice and writing Stemming from research conducted over a five year period this volume explores how a cross section of teaching assistants responded to pedagogy as students and how their acceptance of pedagogy affected their performance as instructors Investigating reasons behind manifestations of resistance and necessary elements for overcoming it Ebest finds that engagement in composition strategies reflective writing journaling drafting and active learning and restoration of feelings of self efficacy are the primary factors that facilitate change Concerned with gender as it relates to personal construct Changing the Way We Teach traces the influence of familial expectations and the effects of literacy experiences on students and draws correlations between feminist and composition pedagogy Ebest asserts that the phenomena contributing to the development of a strong unified voice in women self knowledge empathy positive role models and mentors should be essential elements of a constructivist graduate curriculum To understand composition pedagogy and to convince students of its values Ebest holds that educators must embrace it themselves and trace the effects through active research By providing graduate students with pedagogical sites for research and reflection faculty enable them to express their anger or fear study its sources and quite often write their way to a new understanding
