Professione Poetica Poetic Profession:

Alvaro Siza Kenneth Frampton, 1986 Poetic Profession, 1986 Measure of the West Álvaro Siza, Giovanni Chiaramonte, 2018-08-21 In 1984 Giovanni Chiaramonte photographed Alvaro Siza's building in Berlin on whose facade some young people had written Bonjour Tristesse. The image was published on the cover of the magazine Lotus International. The following year Siza and Chiaramonte met in person on the occasion of a new series by the Italian photographer featuring the buildings of the great Portuguese architect. It marked the beginning of a long friendship and a shared reflection on architecture, photography and urban life. The Measure of the West presents a selection of sixty drawings by Siza and forty photographs taken by Chiaramonte in cities around the world. They make up two parallel routes that lead to the discovery of the shape of the modern city, always hanging in the balance between proportion in which civilization can develop and disproportion in which civilization can go astray. Although animated by different intentions, these sketches and photographs appear as coherent traces of the same design, guided by the same desire to see, discover, understand and learn. The differences between the black and white strokes of the drawings and the colour of the photographs disappear. Short texts, including thoughts on architecture, photography, drawing, representation and nature, enrich a poem of change taking place in an era of globalization.

The Hybrid Practitioner Caroline Voet, Eireen Schreurs, Helen Thomas, 2022-09-01 Exploring different interrelated roles for the architect and researcher, the practice of architecture manifests in myriad forms and engagements. Overcoming false divides, this volume frames the fertile relationship between the cultural and scholarly production of academia and the process of designing and building in the material world. It proposes the concept of the hybrid practitioner who bridges the gap between academia and practice by considering how different aspects of architectural practice, theory and history intersect, opening up a fascinating array of possibilities for an active engagement with the present. The book explores different interrelated roles for practicing architects and researchers, from the reproductive activities of teaching, consulting and publishing through the reflective activities of drawing and writing to the practice of building. The notion of the hybrid practitioner will appeal strongly to students, teachers and architectural practitioners as part of a multifaceted professional environment. By connecting academic interests with those of the professional realm, The Hybrid Practitioner addresses a wider readership embracing landscape design, art theory and aesthetics, European history and the history and sociology of professions.

On Weathering Mohsen Mostafavi, David Leatherbarrow, 1993-03-22 On Weathering illustrates the complex nature of the architectural project by taking into account its temporality, linking technical problems of maintenance and decay with a focused consideration of their philosophical and ethical implications. In a clear and direct account, supplemented by many photographs commissioned for this book, Mostafavi and Leatherbarrow examine buildings and other projects from Alberti to Le Corbusier to show that the continual refinishing of the building by natural forces adds to rather than detracts from architectural meaning. Their central discovery is that weathering makes the final state of the construction necessarily indefinite challenges the conventional notion of a building's completeness. By recognizing the inherent uncertainty and inevitability of weathering and by viewing the concept of weathering as a continuation of the building process rather than as a force antagonistic to it, the authors offer alternative readings of historical constructions and potential beginnings for new architectural projects. Crit, 1987 Choice, 1987 The Cumulative Book Index, 1988

Museums for a New Millennium Stanislaus von Moos, Friedrich Achleitner, 1999 Contemporary museum buildings are often pure manifestations of the architectural concepts of their designers making them interesting not only as functional buildings but as a seismograph of architectural culture as well. Alvaro Siza; professione poetica.- poetic profession, 1986

Design Book Review, 1987 The Hidden Reflection Dr Francesco Laurenti, 2018-03-22 This book presents and analyses twelve different writings from 19th century Italian literature on the topic of translation. With the exception of their original publication and some earlier reissues, these texts have never been republished in the 20th or 21st centuries and have remained in the shadows for about two centuries. Nevertheless, they provide a very important testimony to the lively interest in translation and the debate that characterized this specific period of Italian literary culture. The few international studies that deal with 19th century theoretical reflection on translation in Italy often focus only on some scattered contributions of a few influential writers, e.g. Leopardi and Foscolo. In this regard, this book could spark new investigations on the subject. While it is commonly thought that reflections on translation during the century analysed in this book came almost exclusively from Germany, France and England, the debate on this topic was alive and well in Italy during that time and produced many interesting original ideas. Some of the topics discussed by the authors presented here, such as language, hospitality, foreign translation, authorial translation, importance of translation in the receiving culture, among others, are presented in an original way that anticipates twentieth century reflection. Above all, they demonstrate Italian intellectuals' awareness of the observations on translation originating from other time periods and nations. Although studies on the theory of translation in Italy are often hoped for, they are still rare and undeveloped and have yet to examine the texts published in this book. The academic awareness of the origins of translation studies in other countries, on the other hand, is more advanced. This book aims to be among these studies. Technology, Place, and Architecture Kenneth Frampton, Arthur Spector, Lynne Reed Rosman, 1998 In 1992, to celebrate the inauguration of the Supreme Court building, the Yad Hanadiv Foundation sponsored a symposium on the architecture of the public building. Prominent architects came to Jerusalem that year and, for subsequent biennial meetings, this book documents these discussions. p. 7 Alvaro Siza Peter Testa, Álvaro Siza, 1996 Studio Paperback monographs on the outstanding architects of the 20th century: concise and informative overviews of their complete works, written and edited by noted authors. Each volume contains biographical details and a work chronology. Serviços Bibliográficos da Livraria Portugal Livraria Portugal. Serviços Bibliográficos, 1988 Museen für ein neues Jahrtausend

Vittorio Magnago Lampugnani, 1999 Betru a Fondation Beyeler in Riehen □□□, 2003 Encyclopedia of Italian Literary Studies Gaetana Marrone, Paolo Puppa, 2006-12-26 The Encyclopedia of Italian Literary Studies is a two volume reference book containing some 600 entries on all aspects of Italian literary culture It includes analytical essays on authors and works from the most important figures of Italian literature to little known authors and works that are influential to the field The Encyclopedia is distinguished by substantial articles on critics themes genres schools historical surveys and other topics related to the overall subject of Italian literary studies The Encyclopedia also includes writers and subjects of contemporary interest such as those relating to journalism film media children s literature food and vernacular literatures Entries consist of an essay on the topic and a bibliographic portion listing works for further reading and in the case of entries on individuals a brief biographical paragraph and list of works by the person It will be useful to people without specialized knowledge of Italian literature as well as to scholars
