Sensuous Scholarship Contemporary Ethnography:

Sensuous Scholarship Paul Stoller, 2010-11-24 Among the Songhay of Mali and Niger who consider the stomach the seat of personality learning is understood not in terms of mental activity but in bodily terms Songhay bards study history by eating the words of the ancestors and sorcerers learn their art by ingesting particular substances by testing their flesh with knives by mastering pain and illness In Sensuous Scholarship Paul Stoller challenges contemporary social theorists and cultural critics who using the notion of embodiment to critique Eurocentric and phallogocentric predispositions in scholarly thought consider the body primarily as a text that can be read and analyzed Stoller argues that this attitude is in itself Eurocentric and is particularly inappropriate for anthropologists who often work in societies in which the notion of text and textual interpretation is foreign Throughout Sensuous Scholarship Stoller argues for the importance of understanding the sensuous epistemologies of many non Western societies so that we can better understand the societies themselves and what their epistemologies have to teach us about human experience in general The Taste of Ethnographic Things Paul Stoller, 2010-11-24 Anthropologists who have lost their senses write ethnographies that are often disconnected from the worlds they seek to portray For most anthropologists Stoller contends tasteless theories are more important than the savory sauces of ethnographic life That they have lost the smells sounds and tastes of the places they study is unfortunate for them for their subjects and for the discipline itself The Taste of Ethnographic Things describes how through long term participation in the lives of the Songhay of Niger Stoller eventually came to his senses Taken together the separate chapters speak to two important and integrated issues The first is methodological all the chapters demonstrate the rewards of long term study of a culture The second issue is how he became truer to the Songhay through increased sensual awareness

Sensuous Curriculum Walter S. Gershon, 2019-07-01 The sensuous is the human experience unfolding our everyday experiences and articulating our affects Without sensory information we could neither know nor be This is because we gain information through our senses and interpret that information as perceptions the sociocultural frames used to analyze that input This is the case regardless of how a sensorium is constructed a more limited Western five senses model for example It is also the case no matter how senses are defined the ways they are expressed or the ways in which they are understood to function Further because there are often greater differences between members within a particular group than divergences between groups how one attends to and acts in light of sensory information is always a polyphonic tapestry constructed on the warp of the sociocultural and the weft of individualism Education the transfer of information between people animals things and ecologies is therefore a sensory endeavor Sensuous curriculum is one means of describing this deeply layered intersection of educational ways of being and knowing In many ways inverting how questions of curriculum are often framed Sensuous Curriculum Politics and the Senses in Education foregrounds how sensory understandings are forms of educational relational politics Bringing the depth and complexity of sensory studies firmly into curriculum and foundational studies of education contributors to this volume address this educational and political intersection from a wide variety of theoretical and practical perspectives that are always embodied and material. Approached in an academic yet accessible manner, Sensuous Curriculum addresses key questions about what it means to educate and the ideas and ideals render those understandings sensible. This variety, depth, and accessibility combine to make Sensuous Curriculum an important resource for those interested in critical studies of the senses in educational ecologies and holistic education. It is a text as at home in theory and methods, doctoral courses as it is in undergraduate courses for preservice teachers and will be of interest to those searching for rich ways to conceptualize education outside of a standards-centric perspective. Praise for Sensuous Curriculum: This collection engages and challenges readers to think more deeply about questions of curriculum in connection to the sensuous in ways not typically considered, existing multi-dimensionally in transdisciplinary, interdisciplinary, and cross-disciplinary work. This compelling, intellectually stimulating, exhilarating volume is a canonical contribution everyone must study. Theodore Regina Berry, Professor and Chair, African American Studies, College of Social Sciences, San Jose State University. Dr. Gershon's edited collection Sensuous Curriculum: Politics and the Senses in Education makes the case for corrective action. By exploring the sensory as human experience, curriculum, and political, the authors of this volume offer iterations and variations for interrupting the ignorances of the sensorium in education and the body in making sense. M. Francyne Huckaby, Associate Dean, TCU School of Interdisciplinary Studies, Professor, Curriculum Studies, TCU College of Education, Center for Public Education. I thoroughly enjoyed sensing this book. This collection defies the conventional popular trends that sit inside the classic curriculum vinyl on our bookshelves. And in Aokian fashion, Walter Gershon has successfully brought together an ensemble of curriculum scholars who dare us to improvise and replay the possibilities and limitations of educational research as a tantalization of our senses. The research put forth in this collection not only promises to break barriers of our thinking but also makes significant contributions to and beyond post-humanism, new materialism, curriculum, and affect theory. All serious scholars, artists, teacher educators, teachers, graduate students, community activists of curriculum studies will want to purchase a copy of this carefully crafted, curated sensuous collection. Without reservation, put the needle on their record, cause I am one of their biggest fans. Nicholas Ng A Fook, Professor, Director of Teacher Education, Indigenous Teacher Education Co-Director of the Réseau de Savoir sur l'Équité, Equity Knowledge Network, Faculty of Education, University of Ottawa. An Anthropology of Making in Santa Clara del Cobre Michele Avis Feder-Nadoff, 2024-05-27. This book, introduced with a Foreword by Tim Ingold, offers a nuanced reflection on the meaning of making and artisan agency, demonstrating how copper smithing produces not only objects but also lives, worlds, meanings, and social transformation. Through long-term ethnography grounded in apprenticeship to master coppersmith Jesús Pérez Ornelas, Feder-Nadoff's intimate description of communal and artisanal life in Santa Clara del Cobre, Michoacán, México, provides a critical reappraisal of aesthetics and compelling ways to think about how aura and agency are produced. By mapping flows and frictions between persons places and things this study closes the gap between economic and socio political analysis of craft on the one hand and aesthetic material and phenomenological studies of making on the other Although craft historically plays a prominent national even ideological role in Mexico as in many countries most artisans ironically remain absent often living in marginalized precarious circumstances By tracing the cycles of life death and afterlife of these maker protagonists their bodies of knowledge skilled performances and objects this poetic monograph testifies to their presence Feminist Science Studies Maralee Mayberry, Banu Subramaniam, Lisa Weasel, 2020-03-24 This essential text contains contributions from a wide range of fields and provides role models for feminist scientists Including chapters from scientists and feminist scholars the book presents a wide range of feminist science studies scholarship from autobiographical narratives and experimental and theoretical projects to teaching tools and courses and community based projects The Metamorphosis of Greek Cuisine Nafsika Papacharalampous, 2023-11-10 This book is an ethnography of the metamorphosis of rural foods and traditional dishes and of the making of cuisine and identity in contemporary Athens In the wake of the financial crisis in Athens in the mid 2010s forgotten rural foods of the past are transformed into luxurious artisanal foods while traditional dishes appear reinvented in fine dining restaurants after decades of darkness How and why is this all happening in a city of poverty hardship and economic crisis Through sensory descriptions and thick ethnographic material it follows the Athenian affluent middle class in upscale delis and goes inside fine dining restaurant kitchens discussing the complex combination of cuisine tradition memory and identity revealing the cultural logic and social aspects of cuisine It demonstrates how cuisine emerges from very different often contradictory social spaces not only as an intellectual and aesthetic endeavour of chefs or as a revival of foods and foodways that link the country and the city but also as interlinked with embodied memories and embedded in social relations and commensality This book will be of great interest to scholars and students in Anthropology and Food Studies Understanding Blackness through Performance Anne Cremieux, 2013-10-31 How does the performance of blackness reframe issues of race class gender and sexuality Here the contributors look into representational practices in film literature fashion and theatre and explore how they have fleshed out political struggles while recognizing that they have sometimes maintained the mechanisms of violence against blacks Methodology and Research Practice in Southeast Asian Studies M. Huotari, J. R  land, J. Schlehe, 2014-07-29 This book addresses the question of how to ground research practice in area specific yet globally entangled contexts such as Global Southeast Asia It offers a fruitful debate between various approaches to Southeast Asia Studies while taking into consideration the area specific contexts of research practice cross cutting methodological issues Traveling Spirit Masters Deborah Kapchan, 2023-09-05 A group of ritual musicians and former slaves brought from sub Saharan Africa to Morocco the Gnawa heal those they believe to be possessed using incense music and trance But their practice is hardly of only local interest the Gnawa have long participated in the world music market through collaborations with African American jazz musicians and French recording artists In this first book in English on Gnawa music and its global reach author Deborah Kapchan explores how these collaborations transfigure racial and musical identities on both sides of the Atlantic She also addresses how aesthetic styles associated with the sacred come to inhabit non sacred contexts and what new amalgams they produce Her narrative details the fascinating intrinsic properties of trance including details of enactment the role of gesture and the body and the use of the senses and how they both construct authentic Gnawa identity and reconstruct historically determined relations of power Traveling Spirit Masters is a captivating and elucidating demonstration of how and why trance and indeed all sacred music is fast becoming a transnational sensation Doing Anthropology in Consumer Research Patricia L Sunderland, Rita M Denny, 2016-06-16

Doing Anthropology in Consumer Research is the essential guide to the theory and practice of conducting ethnographic research in consumer environments Patricia Sunderland and Rita Denny argue that while the recent explosion in the use of ethnography in the corporate world has provided unprecedented opportunities for anthropologists and other qualitative researchers this popularization too often results in shallow understandings of culture divorcing ethnography it from its foundations In response they reframe the field by re attaching ethnography to theoretically robust and methodologically rigorous cultural analysis The engrossing text draws on decades of the authors own eclectic research from coffee in Bangkok and boredom in New Zealand to computing in the United States using methodologies from focus groups and rapid appraisal to semiotics and visual ethnography Five provocative forewords by leaders in consumer research further push the boundaries of the field and challenge the boundaries of academic and applied work In addition to reorienting the field for academics and practitioners this book is an ideal text for students who are increasingly likely to both study and work in corporate environments Food, Masculinities, and Home Michelle Szabo, Shelley Koch, 2017-05-18 Long held associations between women home food and cooking are beginning to unravel as in a growing number of households men are taking on food and cooking responsibilities At the same time men s public foodwork continues to gain attention in the media and popular culture The first of its kind Food Masculinities and Home focuses specifically on food in relation to how homemaking practices shape masculine identities and transform meanings of home The international multidisciplinary contributors explore questions including how food practices shape masculinity and notions of home and vice versa the extent to which this gender shift challenges existing gender hierarchies and how masculinities are being reshaped by the growing presence of men in kitchens and food focused spaces With ever growing interest in both food and gender studies this is a must read for students and researchers in food studies gender studies cultural studies sociology geography anthropology and related fields

Doing Public Ethnography Phillip Vannini, 2018-07-18 Ethnography and qualitative research methodology in general have witnessed a staggering proliferation of styles and genres over the last three decades Modes and channels of communication have similarly expanded and diversified Now ethnographers have the opportunity to disseminate their work not only through traditional writing but also through aural visual performative hypertext and many diverse and creative multimodal documentation strategies Yet many ethnographers still feel insufficiently proficient with these new literacies and opportunities for knowledge mobilization and they therefore still limit themselves to traditional modes of communication in spite of their desire for innovation As university based community driven and politically mandated agendas for broader knowledge transfer keep increasing worldwide the demand for public scholarship continues to grow Arguing for the need to disseminate innovative ethnographic knowledge more widely and more effectively this book outlines practical strategies and tools for sharing ethnographic and qualitative research through widely accessible media such as magazines trade books blogs newspapers video radio and social media Drawing from practical experiences and hands on lessons Doing Public Ethnography provides social scientists across all disciplines with concrete tactics for mobilizing knowledge beyond the academic realm

The Senses in Self, Society, and Culture Phillip Vannini, Dennis Waskul, Simon Gottschalk, 2013-10-18 The Senses in Self Society and Culture is the definitive guide to the sociological and anthropological study of the senses Vannini Waskul and Gottschalk provide a comprehensive map of the social and cultural significance of the senses that is woven in a thorough analytical review of classical recent and emerging scholarship and grounded in original empirical data that deepens the review and analysis By bridging cultural qualitative sociology and cultural humanistic anthropology The Senses in Self Society and Culture explicitly blurs boundaries that are particularly weak in this field due to the ethnographic scope of much research Serving both the sociological and anthropological constituencies at once means bridging ethnographic traditions cultural foci and socioecological approaches to embodiment and sensuousness The Senses in Self Society and Culture is intended to be a milestone in the social sciences somatic turn

Italian Food Activism in Urban Sardinia Carole Counihan, 2018-12-13 With her new book Italian Food Activism in Urban Sardinia cultural anthropologist Carole Counihan makes a significant contribution to understanding the growing global movement for food democracy Providing a detailed ethnographic case study from Cagliari the capital of the Italian island region of Sardinia she draws upon Sardinians own descriptions of their actions and motivations to change their food as they pursue grassroots alternatives to the agro industrial food system through GAS Gruppi di Acquisito Solidale or solidarity based purchase groups organic and urban agriculture alternative restaurants and farm to school programs They link their activism to the sensory and emotional resonance of food and its nostalgic connections to place tradition and culture They stress the importance of education through experience and they build relationships and networks through workshops farm visits and commensality The book focuses on three key themes to emerge in interviews with Cagliari food activists the significance of territorio or place the importance of taste and the role of education By exploring these areas of concern Counihan uncovers key tensions in consumption as a force for change in individual vs group actions and in political and economic power relations which are of crucial importance to wider global efforts to promote food democracy
