A Theory of Prudence Dale Dorsey, 2021-04-08 Much of knowing what to do is knowing what to do for ourselves but knowing how to act in our best interest is complex we must know what benefits us what burdens us and how these facts present and constitute considerations in favor of action Additionally we must know how we should weigh our interests at different times past present and future Dale Dorsey argues that a theory of prudence is needed a theory of how we ought to act when we are acting for ourselves A Theory of Prudence provides a comprehensive account of prudence including the metaethics of prudential value the nature of the personal good the reasons of prudence and the structure of prudential normativity over time

The Path of Desire Hugh B. Urban, 2024-03-27 A provocative study of contemporary Tantra as a dynamic living tradition Tantra one of the most important religious currents in South Asia is often misrepresented as little more than ritualized sex Through a mixture of ethnography and history Hugh B Urban reveals a dynamic living tradition behind the sensationalist stories Urban shows that Tantric desire goes beyond the erotic encompassing such quotidian experiences as childbearing and healing He traces these holistic desires through a series of unique practices institutional Tantra centered on gurus and esoteric rituals public Tantra marked by performance and festival folk Tantra focused on magic and personal well being and popular Tantra imagined in fiction film and digital media The result is a provocative new description of Hindu Tantra that challenges us to approach religion as something always entwined with politics and culture thoroughly entangled with ordinary needs and desires

The Headless Republic Jesse Goldhammer, 2005 In The Headless Republic Jesse Goldhammer explores how the French revolutionaries retrieved a set of ideas about founding violence from the classical Romans and early Christians and incorporated it into postrevolutionary debates that echoed into the twentieth century By linking sacrifice as expressed in revolutionary practices to modern French theory Goldhammer shows how ancient ideas of violent political renewal made their way into the contemporary age Goldhammer elucidates the theoretical and practical significance of sacrificial violence during the Revolution and then turns his attention to postrevolutionary intellectuals whose work is inspired by the founding sacrifices of the French Republic Showing how Georges Bataille Joseph de Maistre and Georges Sorel adapted concepts of sacrifice to their own particular political agendas whether reactionary or revolutionary Goldhammer challenges conventional readings of these three thinkers as bloodthirsty intellectuals Instead he argues their work reveals the limits of violence as an agent of political change and attacks the forms of violence later adopted by fascist regimes More broadly Goldhammer makes the case for including ancient concepts of collective bloodshed in the modern lexicon of political violence
