genre's key recurrent themes: evolving attitudes to love, relationships, sex, class and money; feminism and post feminism; changes in the nuclear family; dramatised through contrasting romantic relationships and shifting discourses of masculinity; situating them within the specific socio-historic and cultural context in which the series are set. Throughout Irwin underscores the centrality of women, their friendships and their personal and professional lives and experiences to the television romantic comedy genre, demonstrating that it is the prominence of female characters and their interests and concerns which have most significantly affected the genre's thematic focus. Crucially, this thematic approach allows for explorations both of similarities in representations to be found in series decades apart and the way in which such representations ebb and flow across time. Additionally, the international nature of the comedies selected also makes possible comparison beyond national boundaries.
