Changing Room and construction crews The Contractor In his plays individuals seek to overcome isolation and integrate themselves into a significant assemblage that transcends the self Hutchings notes that Storey frequently deals with working class parents who cannot understand their grown children's anxieties their discontentedness with life their unstable marriages and their inability to enjoy the benefits of the education and advantages they labored so hard for so many years to provide Storey understands and sympathizes with parents who have paid to educate their children out of their own spheres He saw it happen in his own family knew the disapproval of his father What else could my father think when nearing sixty he came home each day from the pit exhausted shattered by fatigue to find me a young man ideally physically equipped to do the job which now left him totally prostrated painting a picture of flowers or writing a poem about a cloud There was and there is no hope of reconciliation Hutchings supplements his thematic analysis of Storey's plays by interweaving into his text 90 percent of a major interview with the playwright the only such comprehensive interview in existence Storey who believes that readers ought to be chary of all interviews discusses alleged literary influences on his work the current state of British theatre and his reactions to critics He also provides insight into various productions and performances in his work

Theatre and Postcolonial Desires Awam Amkpa, 2004-06-01 This book explores the themes of colonial encounters and postcolonial contests over identity power and culture through the prism of theatre The struggles it describes unfolded in two cultural settings separated by geography but bound by history in a common web of colonial relations spun by the imperatives of European modernity In post imperial England as in its former colony Nigeria the colonial experience not only hybridized the process of national self definition but also provided dramatists with the language imagery and frame of reference to narrate the dynamics of internal wars over culture and national destiny happening within their own societies The author examines the works of prominent twentieth century Nigerian and English dramatists such as Wole Soyinka Femi Osofisan David Edgar and Caryl Churchill to argue that dramaturgies of resistance in the contexts of both Nigerian as well as its imperial inventor England shared a common allegiance to what he describes as postcolonial desires That is the aspiration to overcome the legacies of colonialism by imagining alternative universes anchored in democratic cultural pluralism The plays and their histories serve as filters through which Amkpa illustrates the operation of what he calls overlapping modernities and reconfigures the notions of power and representation citizenship and subjectivity colonial and anticolonial nationalisms and postcoloniality The dramatic works studied in this book embodied a version of postcolonial aspirations that the author conceptualises as transcending temporal locations to encompass varied moments of consciousness for progressive change whether they happened during the hey day of English imperialism in early twentieth century Nigeria or in response to the exclusionary politics of the Conservative Party in Thatcherite England Theatre and Postcolonial Desires will be essential reading for students and researchers in the areas of drama postcolonial and cultural studies The Concise Oxford Chronology of English Literature Michael Cox, 2005 The Concise Oxford Chronology of English Literature represents a comprehensive year by year digest of 15 000 significant and representative works of literature published in English by British authors from 1474 to the present day The greats sit alongside long forgotten gems the trivial the inspirational and the unusual all equally worthy of remembrance An ideal resource for students and academics of English literature The main chronology is supplemented by three indexes An author index allows readers to view the literary output of any given author in chronological order an index of periodicals gives a short overview of periodicals published during the period covered and there is also an index of anonymous titles This edition has been updated to include works of literature from 2002 and 2003

War Representation in British Cinema and Television Kevin M. Flanagan, 2019-10-25 This book explores alternatives to realist triumphalist and heroic representations of war in British film and television Focusing on the period between the Suez Crisis of 1956 and the Falkland War but offering connections to the moment of Brexit it argues that the lost continent of existential satirical simulated and abstractly traumatic war stories is as central to understanding Britain's martial history as the mainstream inheritance The book features case studies that stress the contribution of exiled or expatriate directors and outsider sensibilities with particular emphasis on Peter Watkins Joseph Losey and Richard Lester At the same time it demonstrates concerns and stylistic emphases that continue to the present in television series and films by directors such as Lone Scherfig and Christopher Nolan Encompassing everything from features to government information films the book explores related trends in the British film industry popular culture and film criticism while offering a sense of how these contexts contribute to historical memory
