The Experience of the Long-term Marriage Relationship Gayle R. Beck, 1983 Abstract A phenomenological inquiry of the question What is the experience of the long term marriage relationship was explored in this study The theoretical foundation for the investigation incorporated concepts of existentialism phenomenology and humanistic psychology Review of the literature yielded a few studies of longterm marriage and an abundance of quantitative research examining factors necessary to achieve marital satisfaction This study is a qualitative examination of sustained marriage relationships that offers a comprehensive phenomenological descriptive analysis of the themes involved therein The data was collected by means of an in depth interview with a population of fifteen couples married for over twenty years living in the northern suburbs of metropolitan Detroit Michigan The analysis of data through the process of phenomenological reduction yielded major components and basic themes of the experience of the long term marriage relationship Couples interviewed described their relationship as one which commitment to one another resulted in satisfaction personal needs which in turn deepened commitment to the sustained relationship Changes in the experience of the relationship over time led to the gradual development of oneness of being and intermittent distancing from one another during the natural ebb and flow of life s crises Additionally the long term marriage relationship involved both verbal and non verbal sharing through self disclosing communication of varying degrees and intensity A desire to remain in the marriage and work toward its enhancement and enrichment was increased by the sharing of self The building of mutual life memories was another significant aspect of a sustained marriage relationship revealed by this study These memories both joyous and painful deepened the connecting links between couples Finally the experience of long term marriage relationship involved the branching outward to create develop or touch the lives of others and to affirm and further sustain the marriage This study concluded that couples engaged in long term relationships can and do experience marital satisfaction over long periods of time contrary to results of previous empirical and qualitative research It further suggested that the experience of the long term marriage relationship warranted additional study and research way Dr Williams tells how he overcame challenges and found a meaningful and fulfilling life with perseverance and the grace of God With the aid of three great religions Catholic Baptist and the Nation of Islam he was placed on a trajectory of success As a child his mother was told he was mentally retarded After starting high school at the age of 12 and the only Black in all of his classes for four years he was told any college that accepts you is hard up His father told him he was too stupid to finish high school and that he should quit and get a job Then as a 21 year old recently discharged Air Force veteran he discovered his mother had been killed by a hit and run white male driver Enraged he embarked on a life of crime for two years until arrested and sentenced to Walpole Maximum Security Penitentiary in Massachusetts When released he enrolled in college and 15 years later received his doctorate degree in Clinical Psychology In the tradition of when you get to where you re going don t forget where you ve been he tells the story how he and perhaps others released from prison can turn their lives around Now as a Forensic Clinical Psychologist in private practice and assistant professor at Hampton University he tells you there s plenty of room at the top it s just those darn bottoms that are so crowded The Ties of Later Life Jon Hendricks,2019-05-23 Helps you recognise the continuity that runs across the generations from grandparents to grandchildren This work provides a clear perspective on the actual experiences of the lives of our family and friends No-fault Divorce Allen M.

Parkman,2019-03-04 Since 1970 all the states adopted no fault divorce statutes which have had the unexpected effect of producing dire financial conditions for many divorced women and their children In this important study economist and lawyer Allen Parkman shows how no fault divorce has systematically operated against the interests of these women and children With rare economic and legal insight Parkman argues that by changing the grounds for divorce without changing the laws that define and allocate property at divorce the legal system created substantial injustices The key mistake he suggests was in accepting a definition of property that did not include the income earning capacity human capital of the individuals involved Using human capital theory Parkman criticizes current divorce law and presents a framework for reform that would reduce the injustices introduced by no fault divorce He concludes that a thorough reform however may require the changing of the grounds for divorce to mutual consent This book is essential reading for scholars professionals and indeed for anyone interested in the health and future of the family and the well being of women in contemporary U S society
