Layout Markers in Biblical Manuscripts and Ugaritic Tablets M.C.A. Korpel, Joseph Oesch, 2021-12-28 Series Pericope 5 Scripture as written and read in antiquity A lucid delimitation of textual units appears to have been a serious concern of ancient scribes In this fifth volume of the Pericope series this is demonstrated in the papers read at the Fourth

Pericope Meeting held in connection with the SBL International Meeting at Cambridge 2003 For the first time articles on text division in New Testament manuscripts are included one on the pericope markers in some relatively early manuscripts especially papyri as well as in the four major codices and another article on Codex Boernerianus and papyrus 46 of the letters of Paul Other topics discussed are the setumot and petuchot in Numbers and Amos and the special phrases preceding or following them Is it possible to get more insight in the way the ancient scribes put in the spaces and blank lines in their manuscripts Furthermore the divisions made by Jerome in his commentary on the Book of Isaiah are investigated and the question about the frame story of the Book of Job is it prose or poetry The structural unity of Micah 6 is discussed resulting in some challenging proposals to resolve old exegetical problems The structure of Zechariah 4 is illuminated by data from ancient manuscripts and compared to modern divisions of the chapter Finally a study on physical division markers in ritual texts from Ugarit Babylonia and Israel reveals a long standing tradition of fixed liturgical sequences in the cult The Pericope series aims at making available data on unit delimitation found in biblical and related manuscripts to the scholarly world and provides a platform for evaluating this hitherto largely neglected evidence for the benefit of biblical interpretation

Judgement and Salvation Jan A. Wagenaar, 2014-09-03 This volume deals with the redaction history of the Book of Micah vis vis the alternation of the oracles of judgement and the oracles of salvation in chapters 2 5 The first part of the book offers a brief discussion of the most important hypotheses to account for the alternation of doom and hope that have been put forward over the last three or four decades the composition model the dialogue model and the redaction historical model The second part of the book offers a detailed study of the text of Micah 2 5 followed by a thorough analysis of the form and literary development of the individual pericopes The study is concluded by a fresh presentation of the redaction history of the Book of Micah

A Transverse Dreamer Bob Becking, 2023-07-24 The final text of the Book of Micah provokes a series of questions Can the Book be read as a coherent composition or is it the result of a complex redaction history Was Micah a prophet of doom whose literary heritage was later softened by the inclusion of oracles of salvation The essays in this book center around these questions Some of them are of a more general character while others analyze specific passages

Some articles discuss the Book of Micah by looking at specific themes prophecy religious polemics metaphors The others are concerned with the proclamation of a peaceful future Micah 4 1 5 the famous moral incentive in Micah 6 8 and the question of prophetic and divine gender in Micah 7 8 13 They have two features in common A thorough reading of the Hebrew text informed by grammar and syntax A comparative approach the Book of Micah is seen as part of the ancient Near Eastern culture All in all the author defends the view that the Book of Micah contains three independent literary elements Micah 1 a prophecy of doom Micah 2 5 a two sided futurology and 6 8 a later appropriation of Micah's message

Open-Mindedness in the Bible and Beyond Marjo Korpel,Lester L. Grabbe,2015-06-18 The contributions to this volume reflect upon changing paradigms within biblical scholarship and in how biblical scholarship is taught Taken together they offer a multifaceted and informative indication of how open mindedness in one s approach can yield fascinating results across the study of the Old Testament Hebrew Bible The range in topic of the contributions is exemplified in the difference between the first chapter which works from the personal anecdote of the changing opinion of its author to make a wider point about models for Pentateuchal formation and the third chapter which comments on the current state of the study of ancient Israel in universities today Other contributions include an essay on the subject of space as a social construct in Isaiah 24 27 civil courage and whether the Bible allows room for protest the question of monotheism in Persian Judah the historical Ezra and the telling of the story of Joseph Genesis 50 15 21 in children s Bibles in the Netherlands The contributors include Hugh Williamson Ehud Ben Zvi Rainer Albertz Karel von der Toorn and Christoph Uehlinger Zephaniah Johannes Vlaardingerbroek,1999 This is a new volume of The Historical Commentary on the Old Testament an international series of commentaries which devotes explicit attention to the history of interpretation of biblical tradition in all its stages both within and without the Hebrew Canon As the term Old Testament indicates the commentary stands in the Christian exegetical tradition The team of those who committed themselves to contribute comprises scholars from all over the world and from many different churches and denominations The commentary is intended not only for Old Testament scholars but also for ministers and other interested parties The treatment of every pericope is preceded by a new translation and a section called Essentials and Perspectives in which the author summarizes the results of the exegesis in non technical language The primate here is assigned to the final stage of the text The summary should incite the user to consult the main body of the exegesis which is that of modern critical scholarship Verhandeling over eenige eigenschappen des zaligmakenden geloofs, zijnde eene verklaring en toepassing van verscheidene uitgezochte teksten des O. en N.
