More Than Silence Patricia A. Burton, 2008-05-30 More Than Silence A Bibliography of Thomas Merton is not only one of the most comprehensive bibliographies on Merton but is also the first bibliography on Merton in more than 20 years

Transnational French Studies Alec G. Hargreaves, Charles Forsdick, David Murphy, 2012-01-01 The 2007 manifesto in favour of a Litterature monde en français has generated new debates in both francophone and postcolonial studies Praised by some for breaking down the hierarchical division between French and Francophone literatures the manifesto has been criticized by others for recreating that division through an exoticizing vision that continues to privilege the publishing industry of the former colonial metropole Does the manifesto signal the advent of a new critical paradigm destined to render obsolescent those of francophone and or postcolonial studies Or is it simply a passing fad a glitzy but ephemeral publicity stunt generated and promoted by writers and publishing executives vis a vis whom scholars and critics should maintain a skeptical distance Does it offer an all embracing transnational vista leading beyond the confines of postcolonialism or reintroduce an incipient form of neocolonialism even while proclaiming the end of the centre periphery divide In addressing these questions leading scholars of French Francophone and postcolonial studies from around the globe help to assess the wider question of the evolving status of French Studies as a transnational field of study amid the challenges of globalization

Sounds Senses Yasser Elhariry, 2021-11-10 Sounds Senses is about what happens to the francophone postcolonial condition when sound is taken as a point of departure for engaging cultural production Offering a synthetic overview of sound studies it dismantles the retinal paradigms and oculo-centrism of francophone postcolonial studies By shifting the sensory hermeneutics of perception from the visual the textual and the graphemic to the sonic the auditory and the phonemic the book places cultural production that privileges or otherwise exaggerates stheticized sensorial experiences at the forefront of francophone postcolonialism In the process it introduces two primary theoretical thrusts the unheard and the unintegrated to the project of analyzing extending and rejuvenating francophone postcolonial studies The book reevaluates francophone culture in relation to sound and the experience of sound situating it along the fluid axes of paralingual utterance audio vision voice and narrative speakers Through a range of case studies focusing on parafrancophonics poetry world music cinema the graphic novel popular speech phenomenon and the poetics and politics of transcolonial identification Sounds Senses demonstrates how francophone postcolonial culture is satiated with a glut of unexplored sonic significance

Gramophone, 2005 Playtexts Warren Motte, Jr., 2015-11 Not hubris but the ever self renewing impulse to play calls new worlds into being Nietzsche Parents and politicians have always taken play seriously Its formative powers its focus its energy and its ability to signify other things have drawn the attention of writers from Plato and Schiller to Wittgenstein Nabokov and Eco The ease with which an election becomes perceived as a race a political crisis as a football game or an argument as a tennis match readily proves how much play means to contemporary life Just how play confers meaning however is best revealed in literature where meaning is perpetually at stake At stake itself the risk of a gamble is only one intersection between play and life Playtexts reveals numerous junctures where literary playfulness seemingly so diverting and irrelevant instead opens the most profound questions about creativity community value and belief How do authors play with their words and readers Can literature proceed at all unless a reader is willing and able to play No moralizing monologue Playtexts is all for exuberance and creative surge Breton's construction of an antinovel Gombrowicz's struggle with adult formalities Nabokov's swats at the humorless Sarrazin's seductive notes Eco's recasting of spy and detective fiction Reyes's carnal metaphors

Test of Courage Christopher Robbins, 2000 The bestselling author of the true thriller classics Air America and The Ravens delivers a compelling portrait of Michel Thomas a man who fought his way from refugee to resistance leader from slave laborer to Nazi hunter The Gramophone, 2005
