Models Of Power Politics And Economics In Zolas Rougon Macquart:

Models of Power David F. Bell, 1988 Models of Power David F. Bell, 1988-01-01 Models of Power David Fowler Bell, 1981 Émile Zola Brian Nelson, 2020-07-23

Émile Zola was the leader of the literary movement known as naturalism and is one of the great figures of the novel. In his monumental Les Rougon Macquart (1871-93) he explored the social and cultural landscape of the late nineteenth century in ways that scandalized bourgeois society. Zola opened the novel up to a new realm of subjects including the realities of working class life, class relations, and questions of gender and sexuality, and his writing embodied a new freedom of expression with his bold, outspoken voice, often inviting controversy. In this Very Short Introduction, Brian Nelson examines Zola's major themes and narrative art. He illuminates the social and political contexts of Zola's work and provides readings of five individual novels: The Belly of Paris, L'Assommoir, The Ladies Paradise, Germinal, and Earth. Zola's naturalist theories, which attempted to align literature with science, helped to generate the stereotypical notion that his fiction was somehow nonfictional. Nelson, however, reveals how the most distinctive elements of Zola's writing go far beyond his theoretical naturalism, giving his novels their unique force. Throughout, he sets Zola's work in context, considering his relations with contemporary painters, his role in the Dreyfus Affair, and his eventual murder.

Literature and the Peripheral City Jason Finch, Markku Salmela, 2015-05-27

Cities have always been defined by their centrality. But literature demonstrates that their diverse peripheries define them too: from suburbs to slums, rubbish dumps to nightclubs, and entire failed cities. The contributors to this collection explore literary urban peripheries through readings of literature from four continents and numerous cities.

Literature and Rationality Paisley Livingston, 1991-12-12

This interdisciplinary study establishes connections between divergent approaches to rationality in philosophy, social science, and literary studies. Livingston provides a broad survey of the basic assumptions and questions associated with concepts of rationality in philosophical accounts of action in decision theory and in the theory of rational choice.

Families in Jeopardy Roddey Reid, 1993

This interdisciplinary study shows how a new commercial and learned print culture attempted to write and regulate individual and collective practices in terms of a master idiom of family, sexuality, and gender, upon which a post-revolutionary national community would turn. Offering a radical new approach to family and textuality in the field of cultural and literary studies, the author argues that from its very inception, this print culture, from domestic manuals to public health reports, and most notably, prose fiction, promoted new norms of behavior and selfhood not through narratives of idealized family life but instead by means of a rhetoric of danger, lack, and pathology. The book follows familial discourse as it assigns deficient or illicit behaviors to ever wider social groups, from the Old Regime nobility and the traditional bourgeoisie to the new middle classes urban workers and the peasants in the countryside to finally the new social elites of the late nineteenth century The author describes how the lack of normative family and sexuality became the primary tactic for designating social others within the social body and for reworking social and gender identities so as to authorize new knowing practices and expertise and new objects of knowledge and discipline Furthermore through analyses of novels by Bernardin de Saint Pierre Sue Balzac Sand Zola and Gide the author demonstrates that the peculiar force of the French novel resided in its power to reach wide newly literate audiences and to inscribe new identities and desires through the reading process Finally the book proposes the provocative thesis that because of these tales of threatened or failed family life the domestic conjugal household has never worked even down to our time it has always been in crisis endangered by forces from without and within and thus in constant need of protection and renewal

Literature, Analytically Speaking Peter Swirski, 2010-03-01 In a new approach to interdisciplinary literary theory Literature Analytically Speaking integrates literary studies with analytic aesthetics girded by neo Darwinian evolution Scrutinizing narrative fiction through a lens provided by analytic philosophy revered literary theorist Peter Swirski puts new life into literary theory while fashioning a set of practical guidelines for critics in the interpretive trenches Dismissing critical inquirers who deny intention its key role in the study of literary reception Swirski extends the defense of intentionality to art and to human behavior in general In the process Swirski takes stock of the recent work in evolutionary theory arguing that the analysis of narrative truth may be grounded in the neo Darwinian paradigm which forms the empirical backbone behind his analytic approach Literature Analytically Speaking provides a series of precepts designed to capture the ways in which we do interpret and ought to interpret works of literature Reflecting a resounding shift from the poststructuralist paradigm Swirski s lively and colorful presentation backed up by a dazzling variety of examples and case studies reconceptualizes the aesthetics of literature and literary studies

The Facts on File Companion to the French Novel Karen L. Taylor, 2006 French novels such as Madame Bovary and The Stranger are staples of high school and college literature courses This work provides coverage of the French novel since its origins in the 16th century with an emphasis on novels most commonly studied in high school and college courses in world literature and in French culture and civilization

Between Literature and Science Peter Swirski, 2000 In Between Literature and Science Peter Swirski examines the true intellectual scope of Edgar Allan Poe and Stanislaw Lem Using a genuinely interdisciplinary approach he shows that they propose far reaching hypotheses in aesthetics epistemology cognitive science philosophy of science literary studies and pragmatics as well as in cosmology artificial intelligence and futurology Swirski argues that previous studies of their science fiction works in neglecting these broader philosophical and scientific ambitions have misrepresented Poe and Lem s artistic achievements

Nineteenth-Century Narratives of Contagion Allan Conrad Christensen, 2007-04-11 This intriguing book examines the ways contagion or disease inform and shape a wide variety of nineteenth century texts and contexts Christiensen dissects the cultural assumptions concerning disease health impurity and so on before exploring different perspectives on key themes such as plague nursing and the hospital environment and focusing on certain key texts including Dickens's Bleak House, Gaskell's Ruth and Zola's Le Docteur Pascal

Counter-Modernities in Nineteenth-Century French Literature Robert St. Clair, 2025-07-31 Counter Modernities in Nineteenth Century French Literature explores a counterview of modernity in late nineteenth century French literature 1848-1891. The principal claim of this book is that what we find in the works of Baudelaire, Rimbaud and Flaubert is a form of writing against the grain of history not the elegant lyricism of history's victors but a use of literature against the erasures of past injustices and for those lost futurities upon which the order of the present is founded. What we find in other words is a critical literary archive of the powerless that persists in contesting the legitimacy of the powerful which persists in haunting the nineteenth century every bit as much as it does our own achingly out of joint present. The story Counter Modernities seeks to tell is in other words about the meaning of loss and the significance of losers as possible figures of opposition to the dominant order in nineteenth century French literature that is also a story about modernity as an aesthetic politics. What brings together the authors in this study however cannot be reduced to the biographical that is to the uneven successes, financial hardships and in one case outright failure i.e. Rimbaud shared by the authors in the literary market of their lifetime. At stake in this study is not an account of the ironies of literary history wherein to gloss Walter Benjamin's take on Baudelaire: a prior and benighted era sees little of interest in an artist in which a later epoch recognizes the genius of modernity. Rather Constellations of Loss in Baudelaire, Rimbaud and Flaubert demonstrates how each author in this critical corpus insists on tarrying with history as an experience of irrevocable loss; each lingers with history as a force of negations and thereby insists on the significance of historical setbacks and political defeats that seem to affect if not more dramatically wipe out the collective hopes of entire generations. Each one gives us losers as subjects who matter in the nineteenth century. Baudelaire, Flaubert, Rimbaud: narratives of historical defeat that are as negative as they are meaningful. Baudelaire, Flaubert or the contours of events whose meanings and narratives are themselves lost. Baudelaire, Rimbaud whose meanings remain in other words perhaps less absent than open ended: a possible grammar for what may come next when hope seems lost and dreams dashed. Indeed as this book shows it is precisely in its representation of history as a dilemma or undoing of meaningfulness, a problem of legibility and not knowingness that we can most fully recognize the formal calling cards of literary modernity: ironic undecidabilities and difficulties, infinite interpretability and the death of the author, the dissolution of previously stable cultural and historical narratives or forms of subjectivity, formal breaks with semantically oriented modes of representation and so on.

Of Literature and Knowledge Peter Swirski, 2007-02-12 Of Literature and Knowledge looks like an important advance in this new and very important subject. Literature is about to become even more interesting. Edward O. Wilson, Pellegrino University Professor, Harvard University. Framed by the theory of evolution, this colourful and engaging volume presents a new understanding of the mechanisms by which we transfer information from narrative, make believe to real life Ranging across game theory and philosophy of science as well as poetics and aesthetics Peter Swirski explains how literary fictions perform as a systematic tool of enquiry driven by thought experiments Crucially he argues for a continuum between the cognitive tools employed by scientists philosophers and scholars or writers of fiction The result is a provocative study of our talent and propensity for creating imaginary worlds different from the world we know yet invaluable to our understanding of it Of Literature and Knowledge is a noteworthy challenge to contemporary critical theory arguing that by bridging the gap between literature and science we might not only reinvigorate literary studies but above all further our understanding of literature

Evolution, Sacrifice, and Narrative Carol Colatrella, 2016-07-22 First published in 1990 Balzac Zola and Faulkner all drew upon the principles of evolutionary theory to represent man's place in nature and his struggle for survival in their major series La Comédie humaine Rougon Macquart and the Yoknapatawpha fiction This book focuses on the first novels in each author's series Le Père Goriot La Fortune des Rougon and Flags in the Dust and considers how each novel relates to its series and derives a definition of the naturalistic roman fleuve To describe this development the issues of how a scientific idea becomes refracted in a literary genre and how the naturalistic novel developed out of the realistic novel are considered

French Food Lawrence R. Schehr, Allen S. Weiss, 2013-05-13 More than a book about food alone French Food uses diet as a window into issues of nationality literature and culture in France and abroad Outstanding contributors from cultural studies literary criticism performance studies and the emerging field of food studies explore a wide range of food matters

Peripheries of Nineteenth-century French Studies Timothy Bell Raser, 2002 The French nineteenth century came to its full fruition only recently herald and instigator as it was of some of the most important developments of the twentieth century This volume offers a wide ranging selection of scholarly approaches to the works of the French nineteenth century articles that show how pertinent the texts of that moment are to an understanding of our own modernity

The Cambridge History of French Literature William Burgwinkle, Nicholas Hammond, Emma Wilson, 2011-02-24 From Occitan poetry to Francophone writing produced in the Caribbean and North Africa from intellectual history to current films and from medieval manuscripts to bandes dessinées this History covers French literature from its beginnings to the present day With equal attention to all genres historical periods and registers this is the most comprehensive guide to literature written in French ever produced in English and the first in decades to offer such an array of topics and perspectives Contributors attend to issues of orality history peripheries visual culture alterity sexuality religion politics autobiography and testimony The result is a collection that despite the wide variety of topics and perspectives presents a unified view of the richness of French speaking cultures This History gives support to the idea that French writing will continue to prosper in the twenty first century as it adapts adds to and refocuses the rich legacy of its past

Napoleon III and His Regime David Baguley, 2000-11-01 Referred to in his time as the Pretender and the sphinx of the Tuileries Louis Napoléon Bonaparte the nephew of Emperor Napoleon I of France and himself ruler of the Second Empire 1852-1870 so managed the manufacture of his public image and the masking of his private self that he is ultimately unknowable to this day From the mysterious circumstances of his conception in 1807 to the strange events of his downfall in 1870 and death in 1873 he lived loved and reigned in an extraordinary aura of myth and fantasy under the shadow of his more famous uncle Taking a highly innovative approach to this intriguing historical figure David Baguley entertains sources in a m lange of media and forms pictures performances spectacles rituals music fiction poems plays architecture fashion as well as Louis Napol on s own writings to explore how the ruler was represented invented and interpreted by detractors and defenders alike The dynamic process by which the legend of Napoleon III was elaborately fabricated and then vigorously dismantled unfolds under Baguley s hand not chronologically but by generic categories reflecting the author s underlying conviction that history and literary depictments are not as incompatible as is often assumed Baguley examines works by among many others Victor Hugo Karl Marx mile Zola Honor Daumier Jacques Offenbach Gustave Flaubert and Elizabeth Barrett Browning that range from history and biography to romanticized versions of the Emperor s feats to parody caricature and satire With its conspiratorial origins its rising and dramatically falling action its schemes scandals and tragic denouement the Second Empire appears designed to inspire writers and artists Napoleon III Baguley observes could well have been the central character or temperament in a naturalist novel While most historians consider Louis Napol on s coup d tat of December 1851 to be his boldest endeavor Baguley shows in this expansive and eloquent work that his most extravagant venture was to found a second Napoleonic empire and he illustrates not only the power of the name and the image but also the precariousness of the Emperor s reliance upon them For Napoleon III dissimulation was his natural state opportunist or utopian reformer or something in between he must remain one of history s most elusive and controversial figures ever resisting final assessment
