

MODERN EUROPE

The background is a complex, abstract painting. It features a central, somewhat rectangular structure that resembles a modern building or a stage set, with various geometric shapes and colors (red, blue, green, yellow) integrated into its design. The overall color palette is dominated by warm, earthy tones like reds, oranges, and browns, with cooler blues and greens providing contrast. The style is expressive and textured, with visible brushstrokes and a sense of depth.

Modern Europe Place Culture And Identity:

Modern Europe Brian J. Graham, 1998 The geography of modern Europe is the result of the interaction of many different and often violent historical processes which have combined to produce a diverse patterning of people and place Despite the radical project of political and economic integration the subject of cultural political and economic diversity is nevertheless of importance throughout the continent Rather EU policies make the patterns even more perplexing as peoples and places interact in different ways with the processes of integration

Modern Europe Brian Graham, 1998 This book examines the apparent paradox between Europe's ongoing plans for integration and the continent's enduring cultural political and economic diversity Looking at contemporary issues and setting them in a historical context the contributors show how this diversity has always been a principle characteristic of European society and discuss the ways in which nationalism and the nation state emerged as one means of controlling that heterogeneity They go on to argue that identity in modern Europe is again becoming multi faceted proposing that the continent's geographies can be defined only through inclusivist multiculturalism

Dissonant Heritages and Memories in Contemporary Europe Tuuli Lähdesmäki, Luisa Passerini, Sigrid Kaasik-Krogerus, Iris van Huis, 2019-08-13 This open access book discusses political economic social and humanitarian challenges that influence both how people deal with their past and how they build their identities in contemporary Europe Ongoing debates on migration on local national inter and transnational levels prove that it is a divisive issue with regards to understanding European integration and identity At the same time the European Union increasingly invests in projects related to European heritage museums and cultural memory networks while having to take dissonant heritages into account These processes in their combination offer an interesting dynamic and form the complex puzzle that poses challenging questions for anyone involved in academic research heritage practices and policy debates With this puzzle at its core this book explicitly focuses on slippery and transforming notions of Europe and critically discusses ongoing and transforming power structures of heritage and memory in today's Europe The book combines theoretical and methodological contributions to the debates on European heritage and memory studies and in depth analyses of empirical case studies Its main aim is to bring research fields concerning memory and heritage into a closer dialogue and thus explore the cultural and political dynamics of contemporary Europe

The Oxford Handbook of Postwar European History Dan Stone, 2012-05-17 The postwar period is no longer current affairs but is becoming the recent past As such it is increasingly attracting the attentions of historians Whilst the Cold War has long been a mainstay of political science and contemporary history recent research approaches postwar Europe in many different ways all of which are represented in the thirty five chapters of this book As well as diplomatic political institutional economic and social history The Oxford Handbook of Postwar European History contains chapters which approach the past through the lenses of gender espionage art and architecture technology agriculture heritage postcolonialism memory and generational change and shows how the history of postwar Europe can be enriched by looking to disciplines such as anthropology and philosophy The Handbook covers all of Europe with a notable focus on Eastern Europe Including subjects as diverse as the meaning of Europe and European identity southern Europe after dictatorship the cultural meanings of the bomb the 1968 student uprisings immigration Americanization welfare leisure decolonization the Wars of Yugoslav Succession and coming to terms with the Nazi past the essays in this Handbook offer an unparalleled coverage of postwar European history that offers far more than the standard Cold War framework Readers will find self contained state of the art analyses of major subjects each written by an acknowledged expert as well as stimulating and novel approaches to newer topics Combining empirical rigour and adventurous conceptual analysis this Handbook offers in one substantial volume a guide to the numerous ways in which historians are now rewriting the history of postwar Europe

Galicia C. M. Hann,Paul R. Magocsi,2005-01-01 The essays in this volume examine Galicia beyond the traditional paradigm of national history in an effort to better understand the region as a place where different ethnic communities Poles Ukrainians Jews Austro Germans lived in peaceful co existence

Ibss: Sociology: 1998 Compiled by the British Library of Political and Social Science,1999-12-16 Renowned for its international coverage and rigorous selection procedures this series provides the most comprehensive and scholarly bibliographic service available in the social sciences Arranged by topic and indexed by author subject and place name each bibliography lists and annotates the most important works published in its field during the year of 1997 including hard to locate journal articles Each volume also includes a complete list of the periodicals consulted

Art History and Visual Studies in Europe Matthew Rampley,Thierry Lenain,Hubert Locher,2012-06-22 This book undertakes a critical survey of art history across Europe examining the recent conceptual and methodological concerns informing the discipline as well as the political social and ideological factors that have shaped its development in specific national contexts

Landscape, Tourism, and Meaning Michelle M. Metro-Roland,Daniel C. Knudsen,Charles E. Greer,2016-04-22 How do we re theorize tourism By drawing less on the Foucauldian notion of tourism as gazing and instead focusing on the social construction of meaning in the landscape this insightful book provides an innovative and compelling new approach to tourist studies Arguing that in any view of the landscape and in tourism generally there is a multiplicity of insider and outsider meanings the book grounds tourism studies within the framework of social theory and particularly in the social theoretic approaches to landscape Bringing together specialists in tourism and landscape studies to discuss the relationships between the two it finds that issues of identity are a common thread and are raised with regard to the social construction of landscape and its portrayal through tourism The international studies range in scale from regional to national personal to political and from local residents to international tourists highlighting the multiplicity of interpretations and meanings between these scales

Theory and Practice in Heritage and Sustainability Elizabeth Auclair,Graham Fairclough,2015-04-22 This book explores cultural sustainability and its relationships to heritage from a wide interdisciplinary perspective By examining the interactions between people and communities in the places where they live it exemplifies the diverse ways in which a people centred heritage builds identities and supports individual and collective memories It encourages a view of heritage as a process that contributes through cultural sustainability to human well being and socially and culturally sensitive policy With theoretically informed case studies from leading researchers the book addresses both concepts and practice in a range of places and contexts including landscape townscape museums industrial sites every day heritage ordinary places and the local scene and even UNESCO designated sites The contributors most of whom like the editors were members of the COST Action Investigating Cultural Sustainability demonstrate in a cohesive way how the cultural values that people attach to place are enmeshed with issues of memory identity and aspiration and how they therefore stand at the centre of sustainability discourse and practice The cases are drawn from many parts of Europe but notably from the Baltic and central and south eastern Europe regions with distinctive recent histories and cultural approaches and heritage discourses that offer less well known but transferable insights They all illustrate the contribution that dealing with the inheritance of the past can make to a full cultural engagement with sustainable development The book provides an introductory framework to guide readers and a concluding section that draws on the case studies to emphasise their transferability and specificity and to outline the potential contribution of the examples to future research practice and policy in cultural sustainability This is a unique offering for postgraduate students researchers and professionals interested in heritage management governance and community participation and cultural sustainability

Europe and the Politics of Language Máiréad Nic Craith, 2005-12-14 Do political boundaries impact on concepts of language How significant is language for citizenship in contemporary Europe Can disputed languages acquire full status Should non European languages receive recognition from the EU These are among the many questions explored in this new study of official regional and disputed languages in an ever changing European context Broad policy issues and the performance of the range of instruments of policy at local national and European levels are illustrated with reference to case studies across Europe

The Tourist-Historic City G.J. Ashworth, J.E. Tunbridge, 2000-11-07 Reflects the importance of heritage to cities and cities to the creation and marketing of heritage products not least within tourism This book presents a review of the state of urban heritage tourism at the turn of the twentieth and twenty first centuries

The Empty Cradle of Democracy Alexandra Halkias, 2004-09-24 An ethnographic study that shows how similar national and cultural beliefs about gender sexuality and Greekness are the basis of both the public condemnation of abortion and its prevalence in Greece

A Geography of Heritage Brian Graham, Greg Ashworth, John Tunbridge, 2016-04-29 The concept of heritage relates to the ways in which contemporary society uses the past as a social political or economic resource However heritage is open to interpretation and its value may be perceived from differing perspectives often reflecting divisions in society Moreover the schism between the cultural and economic uses of heritage also gives rise to potential conflicts of interest Examining these issues in depth this book is the first sustained attempt to integrate the study of heritage into contemporary human geography It is structured around three themes the diversity of use and consumption of heritage as a multi sold cultural and economic resource the conflicts and tensions arising from this multiplicity of uses producers and consumers and the relationship between heritage and identity at a variety of scales

Political Transformation and Changing Identities in Central and Eastern Europe

Andrew M. Blasko, Diana Januaskiene, 2008      Tourism in the City Nicola Bellini, Cecilia Pasquinelli, 2016-08-29

This book critically explores the interconnections between tourism and the contemporary city from a policy oriented standpoint combining tourism perspectives with discussion of urban models issues and challenges Research based analyses addressing managerial issues and evaluating policy implications are described and a comprehensive set of case studies is presented to demonstrate practices and policies in various urban contexts A key message is that tourism policies should be conceived as integrated urban policies that promote tourism performance as a means of fostering urban quality and the well being of local communities e g in terms of quality spaces employment accessibility innovation and learning opportunities In addition to highlighting the significance of urban tourism in relation to key urban challenges the book reflects on the risks and tensions associated with its development including the rise of anti tourism movements as a reaction to touristification cultural commodification and gentrification Attention is drawn to asymmetries in the costs and benefits of the city tourism phenomenon and the supposedly unavoidable trade off between the interests of residents and tourists is critically questioned

Geography and History Alan R. H. Baker, 2003-11-06 Table of contents      Dialogues in Urban and Regional Planning

Bruce Stiftel, Vanessa Watson, Henri Acselrad, 2006-10-19 Dialogues in Urban and Regional Planning offers a new selection of the best urban planning scholarship from each of the world s planning school associations The award winning papers presented illustrate the concerns and the discourse of planning scholarship communities and provide a glimpse into planning theory and practice by planning academics around the world All those with an interest in urban and regional planning will find this collection valuable in opening new avenues for research and debate This book is published in association with the Global Planning Education Association Network GPEAN and the nine planning school associations it represents who have selected these papers based on regional competitions      Handbook of Religion and the Asian City Peter van der

Veer, 2015-05-19 Handbook of Religion and the Asian City highlights the creative and innovative role of urban aspirations in Asian world cities It does not assume that religion is of the past and that the urban is secular but instead points out that urban politics and governance often manifest religious boundaries and sensibilities in short that public religion is politics The essays in this book show how projects of secularism come up against projects and ambitions of a religious nature a particular form of contestation that takes the city as its public arena Questioning the limits of cities like Mumbai Singapore Seoul Beijing Bangkok and Shanghai the authors assert that Asian cities have to be understood not as global models of futuristic city planning but as larger landscapes of spatial imagination that have specific cultural and political trajectories Religion plays a central role in the politics of heritage that is emerging from the debris of modernist city planning Megacities are arenas for the assertion of national and transnational aspirations as Asia confronts modernity Cities are also sites of speculation not only for those who invest in real estate but also for those who look for housing employment and salvation In its potential and actual mobility the sacred creates social space in which they all can meet Handbook of Religion and the Asian City makes the comparative case that one cannot study the historical patterns of urbanization in Asia without paying attention to the role of religion in urban aspirations Waterfronts Revisited Heleni Porfyriou, Marichela Sepe, 2016-08-05 Waterfronts Revisited addresses the historical evolution of the relationship between port and city and re examines waterfront development by looking at the urban territory and historical city in their complexity and entirety By identifying guiding values urban patterns and typologies and local needs and experiences cities can break the isolation of the harbor by reconnecting it to the urban structure its functions spaces and forms Using the UNESCO recommendation for the Historic Urban Landscape as the guiding concept and a tool for managing urban preservation and change this collection of essays illustrates solutions to issues of globalisation commercialization of space and commoditisation of culture in waterfront development Through sixteen selected case studies Editors Heleni Porfyriou and Marichela Sepe offer planners and urban designers a broad spectrum of alternative solutions to waterfront regeneration interventions and redevelopments addressing sustainability regional cultural diversity and the debate between conservation and transformation Pluralising Pasts G. J. Ashworth, Brian Graham, J. E. Tunbridge, 2007-10-20 From museums and the preservation of old buildings to broader questions of community and identity heritage is now a political issue This book explores what heritage means now heritage is big business and how it is used to encourage people to identify with particular places and traditions now it is entangled with capitalism Examining a range of questions including the way contemporary societies use heritage in the creation and management of collective identities and how heritage is involved with the complexities of multicultural societies As resources are poured into heritage and questions of identity enter into public discourse this book shows how the heritage industry is used politically and commercially to shape the ways people represent themselves and are represented in diverse and hybrid societies
