Modern French Short Fiction:

Modern French Short Fiction Johnnie Gratton, Brigitte Le Juez, 1994-06-15 The fifteen writers included in this anthology represent the best of the genre Not only is there a substantial introduction covering the history of the short story thematic trends developments in narrative technique and the notion of the genre but each story also comes with its own preface and notes

Modern French short fiction Johnnie Gratton, 1994 The 15 writers featured in this new anthology of French short stories represent the best of the genre from Merimee to the present day The selection includes writers as diverse as Balzac Colette Duras and Boulanger and is designed to introduce students to both the modern French short story and modern French literature in general

The Nineteenth-Century French Short Story Allan Pasco, 2019-07-03 The 19th Century French Short Story by eminent scholar Allan H Pasco seeks to offer a more comprehensive view of the definition capabilities and aims of short stories The book examines general instances of the genre specifically in 19th century France by recognizing their cultural context demonstrating how close analysis of texts effectively communicates their artistry and arguing for a distinction between middling and great short stories Where previous studies have examined the writers of short stories individually The 19th Century French Short Story takes a broader lens to the subject and looks at short story writers as they grapple with the artistic ethical and social concerns of their day Making use of French short story masterpieces with reinforcing comparisons to works from other traditions this book offers the possibility of a more adequate appreciation of the under valued short story genre

Fiction Anne Grydehøj,2021-07-05 This book offers a study of Danish Norwegian Swedish and French crime fictions covering a fifty year period From 1965 to the present both Scandinavian and French societies have undergone significant transformations Twelve literary case studies examine how crime fictions in the respective contexts have responded to shifting social realities which have in turn played a part in transforming the generic codes and conventions of the crime novel At the centre of the book s analysis is crime fiction s negotiation of the French model of Republican universalism and the Scandinavian welfare state both of which were routinely characterised as being in a state of crisis at the end of the twentieth century Adopting a comparative and interdisciplinary approach the book investigates the interplay between contemporary Scandinavian and French crime narratives considering their engagement with the relationship of the state and the citizen and notably with identity issues class gender sexuality and ethnicity in particular
