The Bloomsbury Handbook of Modern Chinese Literature in Translation Cosima Bruno, Lucas Klein, Chris Song, 2023-10-19 Offering the first systematic overview of modern and contemporary Chinese literature from a translation studies perspective this handbook provides students researchers and teachers with a context in which to read and appreciate the effects of linguistic and cultural transfer in Chinese literary works Translation matters It always has of course but more so when we want to reap the benefits of intercultural communication In many universities Chinese literature in English translation is taught as if it had been written in English As a result students submit what they read to their own cultural expectations they do not read in translation and do not attend to the protocols of knowing engagements and contestations that bind literature and society to each other The Bloomsbury Handbook of Modern Chinese Literature in Translation squarely addresses this pedagogical lack Organised in a tripartite structure around considerations of textual social and large scale spatial and historical circumstances its thirty plus essays each deal with a theme of translation studies as emerged from the translation of one or more Chinese literary works In doing so it offers new tools for reading and appreciating modern and contemporary Chinese literature in the global context of its translation offering in depth studies about eminent Chinese authors and their literary masterpieces in translation The first of its kind this book is essential reading for anyone studying or researching Chinese literature in translation National Union Catalog ,1978

Dreams in Chinese Fiction Johannes D. Kaminski,2024-06-07 This book considers the contemporary political formula of the Chinese Dream in the light of the treatment of dreams in Chinese literary history since antiquity Sinic literary and philosophical texts document an extensive spectrum of dream possibilities starting with Zhuangzi s eminent butterfly dream an early example of the inversion of the dreamer s reality through to confusing visions of the spiritual realm In classical dramas novels and ghost stories dreams see the earthly realm enter into conflict with higher realms of existence They indulge the dreamer s quest for sensual pleasures but then spiritual beings relentlessly harvest the dreamers life energy

Dreams promise spiritual enlightenment only to abandon the dreamer in a state of utter confusion In the early twentieth century traditional dream knowledge is abandoned in favour of Freudian episodes of sexual repression In this context the collective national dream emerges as an unexpected vehicle of the pained individual's hope for national rejuvenation

Utopian Ruins Jie Li, 2020-10-26 In Utopian Ruins Jie Li traces the creation, preservation and elision of memories about China's Mao era by envisioning a virtual museum that reckons with both its utopian yearnings and its cataclysmic reverberations Li proposes a critical framework for understanding the documentation and transmission of the socialist past that mediates between nostalgia and trauma, anticipation and retrospection, propaganda and testimony Assembling each chapter like a memorial exhibit Li explores how corporeal traces, archival documents, camera images and material relics serve as commemorative media Prison writings and police files reveal the infrastructure of state surveillance and testify to revolutionary ideals and violence, victimhood and complicity Photojournalism from the Great Leap Forward and documentaries from the Cultural Revolution promoted faith in communist miracles while excluding darker realities whereas Mao memorabilia, collections, factory ruins and memorials at trauma sites remind audiences of the Chinese Revolution's unrealized dreams and staggering losses

Publishers' Circular and General Record of British and Foreign Literature, and Booksellers' Record, 1894 Identity, Home and Writing Elsewhere in Contemporary Chinese Diaspora Poetry Jennifer Wong, 2023-01-12 An exploration of the burgeoning field of Anglophone Asian diaspora poetry, this book draws on the thematic concerns of Hong Kong, Asian American and British Asian poets from the wider Chinese or East Asian diasporic culture to offer a transnational understanding of the complex notions of home, displacement and race in a globalised world Located within current discourse surrounding Asian poetry, postcolonial and migrant writing and bridging the fields of literary and cultural criticism with author interviews, this book provides close readings on established and emerging Chinese diasporic poets' work by incorporating the writers' own reflections on their craft through interviews with some of those featured In doing so, Jennifer Wong explores the usefulness and limitations of existing labels and categories in reading the works of selected poets from specific racial, socio-cultural, linguistic environments and gender backgrounds including Bei Dao, Li Young Lee, Marilyn Chin, Hannah Lowe and Sarah Howe, Nina Mingya Powles and Mary Jean Chan Incorporating scholarship from both the East and the West, Wong demonstrates how these poets' experimentation with poetic language and forms serve to challenge the changing notions of homeland, family history and identity, offering new evaluations of contemporary diasporic voices

Contemporary Opera in Flux Yayoi U Everett, 2024-10-15 In twelve essays Contemporary Opera in Flux discusses a series of shifts that taken together have radically redefined the production and reception of opera Focusing on productions involving late twentieth and twenty-first century scores and libretti, the contributors draw on conversations with members of creative teams and studies of archival material, dipping into a historical record that remains in flux as composers, librettists, directors and designers revisit existing work and create anew The contributors to this volume push the boundaries of contemporary opera scholarship by examining works that disrupt operatic conventions tackle sociopolitical issues such as drug trafficking racial injustice and cultural trauma and advance underrepresented works by female African American Asian and avant garde composers around the globe Contemporary Opera in Flux bridges the gaps between expanding literature on opera theater new music postmodern dramaturgy and posthuman aesthetics while also confronting larger questions of identity representation and narrative agency that are at the forefront of contemporary music scholarship This collection of essays engages critically with the past out of a conviction that amid general public perceptions of opera as anachronistic or elitist contemporary opera has emerged as an artistic incubator for experimentation

Dreadful Desires Charlie Yi Zhang, 2022-02-07 In Dreadful Desires Charlie Yi Zhang examines how the Chinese state deploys affective notions of love to regulate the population and secure China's place in the global economy Zhang shows how the state frames love as a set of desires that encompass heteronormative intimacy familial and communal attachment upward mobility and private property ownership These desires as circulated in performance in the nationalistic ceremony same sex romantic fan fiction the wildly popular reality television dating show If You Are the One and the cult of patriarchal personality around Xi Jinping are explicitly based in oppressive systems of gender class and sexuality Zhang contends that such desires connect love to economic survival and gender normativity in ways that underwrite Chinese neoliberalism at the expense of individual flourishing By outlining how state framed forms of love create desires that cannot be fulfilled Zhang places China at the forefront of using affective attachments to nation leader and family in the global shifts toward exploitation and authoritarianism
