'A New Type of History' Beverley Southgate, 2015-05-22 Linking fiction with history and historical theory A New Type of History Fictional Proposals for dealing with the Past focuses on a selection of nineteenth and twentieth century novelists Tolstoy Proust John Cowper Powys Virginia Woolf Wyndham Lewis Penelope Lively and James Hamilton Paterson who have criticized scientifically based history and proposed alternative ways of approaching the past more subjective and personal colourful and imaginative and above all ethically orientated In this it is argued they have been reverting to an earlier rhetorical model for history which is now being increasingly adopted by practising historians This new type of history may lack the claimed objectivity and truth of its immediate predecessor but it opens the way for an ethically focused subject that may be used in Nietzsche's words for the purpose of life Providing a new take on both novelists and historiography and ranging widely from the nineteenth century to the present day this cross disciplinary study will be valuable reading for all those interested in the intersection and interplay between fiction and history

Politics, Satire, and Historical Consciousness in Contemporary American Novel Olena Boylu, 2022-11-01 What is the role of the historical and political novel in our lives Is it just a story from the past or does it shape our historical consciousness Can we rely on the information within this type of fiction According to many historicists we cannot However we can also question numerous ideologically shaped history books that look more like fiction than scientific sources Hence historically and politically loaded fiction has an equal chance in the formational process of our historical consciousness Besides through satire and humor which a scientist omits in a history book a novelist manages to affect its reader on a different scale and leave a deeper trace As E L Doctorow once stated The historian tells you what happened The novelist will tell you what it felt like Hence this study analyzes several significant concepts such as historiography historical consciousness power its elements and the way it operates traces major characteristics of historical and political fiction and determines the role of satire within them Eventually through the analysis of several prominent contemporary novels it provides vivid examples of all the concepts that have been discussed
