An Introduction to Modern Jewish Philosophy Claire Elise Katz, 2013-11-19 How Jewish is modern Jewish philosophy The question at first appears nonsensical until we consider that the chief issues with which Jewish philosophers have engaged from the Enlightenment through to the late 20th century are the standard preoccupations of general philosophical inquiry Questions about God reality language and knowledge metaphysics and epistemology have been of as much concern to Jewish thinkers as they have been to others Moses Mendelssohn for example was a friend of Kant Hermann Cohen's philosophy is often described as neo Kantian Franz Rosenzweig wrote his dissertation on Hegel And the thought of Emmanuel Levinas is indebted to Husserl In this much needed textbook which surveys the most prominent thinkers of the last three centuries Claire Katz situates modern Jewish philosophy in the wider cultural and intellectual context of its day indicating how broader currents of British French and German thought influenced its practitioners But she also addresses the unique ways in which being Jewish coloured their output suggesting that a keen sense of particularity enabled the Jewish philosophers to help define the whole modern era Intended to be used as a core undergraduate text the book will also appeal to anyone with an interest how some of the greatest minds of the age grappled with some of its most urgent and fascinating philosophical problems

Morgan: History and Moral Normativity* Hava Tirosh-Samuelson, Aaron W. Hughes, 2018-06-05 Michael L Morgan is an Emeritus Chancellor Professor at Indiana University and the Senator Jeremiah S and Carole S Grafstein Visiting Chair in Jewish Philosophy at the University of Toronto On the faculty of Indiana University for his entire career he has also held Visiting Professorships at the Australian Catholic University Northwestern University Princeton University Stanford University and Yale University A historian of philosophy informed by the continental and analytic philosophical traditions Morgan has reflected on the key challenge of our day how is objectivity possible in light of the historicity of human life An interpreter of both Athens and Jerusalem Morgan has written on ancient Greek philosophy modern Jewish philosophy post Holocaust theology and ethics Zionism and Messianism Contemporary Jewish Philosophy Irene Kajon, 2020-04-02 This text introduces the most important Jewish philosophers of contemporary times from the point of view of their original approach to both Judaism and philosophy and include Hermann Cohen Franz Rosenweig Martin Buber Leo Strauss Emmanuel Levinas It shows how for them the dialogue between Judaism and philosophy is necessary in order to avoid on one side an attachment to Jewish tradition which is only nationalistic or non rational and on the other an idea of philosophy which first of all focuses the problems of nature human existence in the world or God as the origin of being In reconstructing the intellectual evolution of each of these twentieth century philosophers with a view to their meaning today this book is unique and goes beyond the standard historical account provided by other books Contemporary Jewish Philosophy is essential reading for researchers and students of philosophy Judaism and the history of religions The Social Scientific Study of Jewry Uzi Rebhun, 2014-03-13 Continuing its distinguished tradition of focusing on central political sociological and cultural issues of Jewish life in the last century this latest volume in the annual Studies in Contemporary Jewry series focuses on how Jewry has been studied in the social science disciplines Its symposium consists of essays that discuss sources approaches and debates in the complementary fields of demography sociology economics and geography The social sciences are central for the understanding of contemporary Jewish life and have engendered much controversy over the past few decades To a large extent the multitude of approaches toward Jewish social science research reflects the nature of population studies in general and that of religions and ethnic groups in particular Yet the variation in methodology definitions and measures of demographic socioeconomic and cultural patterns is even more salient in the study of Jews Different data sets have different definitions for what is Jewish or who is a Jew In addition Jews as a group are characterized by high rates of migration including repeated migration which makes it difficult to track any given Jewish population Finally the question of identification is complicated by the fact that in most places especially outside of Israel it is not clear whether being Jewish is primarily a religious or an ethnic matter or both or neither This volume also features an essay on American Jewry and North African Jewry review essays on rebuilding after the Holocaust Nazi war crimes trials and Jewish historiography and reviews of new titles in Jewish studies

God of Abraham Lenn Evan Goodman, 1996-03-07 This cogently argued and richly illustrated book rejects the dichotomy between the God of Abraham and the God of the philosophers to argue that the two are one In God of Abraham one of our leading philosophers of religion shows how human values can illuminate our idea of God and how the monotheistic idea of God in turn illuminates our moral social cultural aesthetic and even ritual understanding Throughout Goodman draws on a wealth of traditional philosophical historical and anthropological materials and particularly on a wide range of Jewish sources He demonstrates how an adequate understanding of the interplay of values with monotheism dissolves many of the longstanding problems of natural theology and ethics and guides us toward a genuinely humanistic moral and social philosophy
