Asian linguistics and philology throughout the past four decades In this volume presented in honour of Professor Vovin s 60th birthday twenty two authors present new research regarding Japanese Korean Turkish Khitan Yakut Mongolian Chinese Hachij Ikema Miyakoan Ainu Okinawan Nivkh Eskimo Aleut and other languages The chapters are both a tribute to his research and a summary of the latest developments in the field Benefactives and Malefactives Fernando Zúñiga, Seppo Kittilä, 2010-04-14 Benefactives are constructions used to express that a state of affairs holds to someone s advantage The same construction sometimes also serves as a malefactive whose meanings are generally not a simple mirror image of the benefactive Benefactive constructions cover a wide range of phenomena malefactive passives general and specialized benefactive cases and adpositions serial verb constructions and converbal constructions including e g verbs of giving and taking benefactive applicatives and other morphosyntactic strategies The present book is the first collection of its kind to be published on this topic It includes both typological surveys and in depth descriptive studies exploring both the morphosyntactic properties and the semantic nuances of phenomena ranging from the familiar English double object construction and the Japanese adversative passive to comparable phenomena found in lesser known languages of Africa Asia and the Americas The book will appeal to typologists and linguists interested in linguistic diversity and it will also be a useful reference work for linguists working on language description Intermediate Mongolian John G. Hangin, 1975

Further investigations into the nature of phrasal compounding Carola Trips, Jaklin Kornfilt, 2017 This collection of papers on phrasal compounding is part of a bigger project whose aims are twofold First it seeks to broaden the typological perspective by providing data for as many different languages as possible to gain a better understanding of the phenomenon itself Second based on these data which clearly show interaction between syntax and morphology it aims to discuss theoretical models which deal with this kind of interaction in different ways Models like Generative Grammar assume components of grammar and a clear cut distinction between the lexicon often including morphology and grammar Other models like construction grammar do not assume such components and are rather based on a lexicon including constructs A comparison of these models on the basis of this phenomenon on the morphology syntax interface makes it possible to assess their descriptive and explanatory power
